Wonder if the democratic administration is responsible for the splendid weather we have been having this winter, or should the credit go to the member of the cabinet from this state?

V. Garret, Scribner; Miss Cecilia Foster, West Point; Miss Emma Snyder, O'Neill; Miss Percie Cass, Neligh.

After dining the guests were taken to the splendid Dickson home where an enjoyable evening was spent with cards, the honors of the evening being won by Mrs. Ralph Evans and Senator J. A. Donohoe.

The threatened storm did not materialize last Wednesday night. It started out in the early evening like an old timer and many were of the opinion that there would be a genuine blizzard before morning, but in this they were disappointed, as the next morning was bright and clear and what little snow fell the night before soon disappeared. Some farmers are now thinking seriously of getting ready for their spring work.

Last Monday the school board awarded the contract for furnishing the seats and other furniture for the new school building, including window curtains and shades, to O. F. Biglin, he being the lowest bidder, taking quality of goods offered into consideration. The securing of this contract was quite a feat for the local man as he secured the contract in competition with some of the largest dealers in school furniture in the west and it proves conclusively that you can buy at home as cheap, if not cheaper, than you can by sending away. The furniture has been ordered and will probably arrive in about three weeks.

The new Library will be finished next week and turned over to the Library Board. This will be one of the most complete buildings in the state, having every convenience. The citizens of O'Neill should assist the Board in the furnishing of books; those that can afford to should contribute liberally. Several gentlemen have agreed to purchase books and present the same to the Library. The secretary, J. A. Donohoe, will receive such contributions and acknowledge receipt for same. Don't stand back because you can only afford a small volume, small contributions are as acceptable as larger ones. Make a special effort to boost this enterprise; it is all yours.

Frank Dishner was in Washington last week hobnobbing with the statesmen there. The Washington correspondent of the Omaha Bee had the following in the Bee of last Tuesday regarding his visit to the capital. Frank J. Dishner of O'Neill left for home last night in blissful ignorance of the good things tonight and tomorrow night had in store for him in Washington had he remained. Representative Kinkaid had secured for Mr. Dishner one of the coveted invitations to the president's reception to the judiciary at the White House on morrow evening and also one of the

Fine Winter

But our coal sales for the months of September, October, November, December and up to this date in January are away ahead of the corresponding months of last season.

This does not mean that more coal is being burned, it means that we are selling more of the coal that is burned.

THERE MUST BE A REASON.

THE Galena Lumber Co., Clyde King, Proprietor

almost equally prized invitations for the reception which was held tonight by the vice president and Mrs. Marshall. The invitations have been forwarded to Mr. Dishner by Judge Kinkaid.

Last Tuesday the county board selected The Frontier as the official paper of Holt county for the ensuing year. The vote that made the selection of The Frontier possible was cast by Chairman Sievers and in voting for The Frontier he said that he had been elected to office upon both tickets and as the Independent had been the official paper the past year he believed that The Frontier should have it this year so that our readers would have an opportunity to scan the legal notices published by the county, and accordingly voted for The Frontier. We tender our thanks to the members of the board for the designation and can assure them that their action will benefit a larger portion of their constituency, on account of our large circulation, than the naming of any other paper in the county.

Several people have been in the city from the southern part of the county the past week and they have been talking a little politics. From them we learn that they are boosting Supervisor Hubbell as the republican candidate for county clerk. Mr. Hubbell has been a member of the county board for the past three years and has filled the position with credit and ability. Should he decide to enter the primary as a candidate for this office he would be a very strong candidate, especially in the western part of the county, where he is well known. We understand that Clerk McNichols will retire at the end of his term and P. C. Kelly, who served three years as deputy, is understood to be looking with longing eyes toward the democratic nomination and may decide to enter the race. T. D. Hanley, present deputy, may also be in the running, according to some of his friends. Several others are considering entering the field, but no announcements have as yet been made.

Ice men are greatly alarmed over the continued warm weather. They say that unless we get a cold snap within a few weeks there will be no ice this summer, unless it is shipped in, and they claim that the price they would have to sell at to come out even would make it prohibitive for the ordinary consumer.

Dennis Hanley, one of the pioneer residents of this county, who has lived upon a farm in Grattan township for the past thirty-six years, has decided to quit farming and has rented his farm and will offer his personal property for sale at public auction on February 9th and will move to this city. Mr. Hanley has been one of our most prosperous farmers and has earned a competency upon the farm and will hereafter take life easy in this city.

Advertising Farm Sales.
 An exchange tells of a farmer who spent $25 advertising his public sale, which is about four times the amount usually spent. The result was that the sale brought him over $700 more than his highest estimate, so he thinks that it was money well spent. Farmers are just beginning to learn the value of liberal newspaper advertising of public sales. A few dollars spent in advertising in the local paper will be read by ten times as many people as read the bills which cost nearly as much as the advertisement and therefore is a much better investment. We would not advise dropping the sale bills, but it should be supplemented by some vigorous newspaper advertising.

The farmers' best Friend is this bank. We depend on the farmer for our business, we therefore do our best to help him in every possible way. He is invited to bring his financial troubles to us. We also especially request him to use this bank as his headquarters and meeting place when in town.
