LOCAL MATTERS.

Nebraska, according to the 1910 census, had 63,350 more men than women.

Dave Walker of Hurdfield, N. D. is here visiting his sister, Mrs. E. M. Meriman.

Mr. Ground Hog more than made good, according to the opinion of a large majority of the people of this section of the universe.

Attorney E. H. Whelan of this city will be the orator of the day at a great blow-out to be held by the Irishmen of Omaha and South Omaha at the Creighton College auditorium on March 17. As a St. Patrick's day orator and has few superiors in Nebraska and the descendants of old Erin will be treated to a rare treat, by the gifted gentleman from O'Neill.

Last Tuesday night the members of the local camp of the Modern Woodmen went on record as being opposed to tyranny in the head officers. They instructed the delegates to the county camp to support no man for delegate to the state camp who was not opposed to the retention of the present head officers. The present officials have been in office so long that they imagine they own the order and are doing the membership a service in holding office. When a person gets such a bump of vanity it is time to make a change.

Where to Tell Seed Woes.

Specific information regarding the purity of seeds on the farm may be obtained from Miss Louise M. Allen of Lincoln, recently appointed to be head seed inspector for the state. Miss Allen is beginning her work by an houses of the state. As she is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and has had charge, both of the seed work of the government, at the state experiment station and of seed analysis of the state of Washington, she is considered to be eminently qualified to answer definite questions regarding seed difficulties.

"An Irishman of Irishmen."

Speaking of his appearance in Jefferson, Iowa, the Jefferson Bee said: "Nothing more delightfully entertaining from a lecture platform has been heard in Jefferson in years. The audience was large and thoroughly appreciative, and Rev. Corky charmed all present by his brilliant sallies of wit, and his adroitly told stores significant of Irish life and customs. The matter of the lecture was instructive, but the manner of it was its chief fascination. Mr. Corkey is an Irishman of Irishmen, and in speech and spirit he need take a rear seat for none of his countrymen." At the Presbyterian church February 19th.

To Hire Farm Demonstrator.

The Madison county farm Management association has just been formed to enable the county to employ an agricultural demonstrator. When hired, he will be the sixth in the state. The Madison county association has a membership of 300 farmers, although the work of securing members has just started. The organization has also raised ample funds with which to carry on the work. Other counties in the state, having agricultural demonstrators, are Gage, Seward, Thurston and Merrick. Dawes county perfected its association a few weeks ago and expects to close a contract by February 15. Farmers interested in the duties of an agricultural demonstrator and how to form a county farm management association may obtain this information free by applying for Extension bulletin No. 11, from the bulletin department, University Farm, Lincoln.

Our Mother.

The all pain at times she'd smile
A smile of heavenly birth
And when the Angels called her home
She smiled farewell to earth.
Earth, the lonely casket keeps,
Heaven retaineth now our treasure,
And the sunbeams love to linger,
Where our sainted mother sleeps.
Weep not that her toils are over,
Weep not that her race is run;
God grant we may restascomly
When our work on earth is done
Till then we yield with gladness
Our mother to Him to keep
And rejoice in the sweet assurance
He giveth his loved ones sleep.
—G. E. Burge.

Conferring on University Location.

No report has been made by the committee of college presidents regarding the advisability of changing the location in Lincoln of a portion of the University of Nebraska. A week ago Presidents Thompson, of the University of Ohio; VanHise, of the University of Wisconsin; Vincent, of the University of Minnesota, and A. L. Snyder, of the Michigan Agricultural College, inspected the location of the city campus and that of the University Farm with a view of passing on the desirability of changing the location of the city campus to that of the farm, or of extending the area of the city campus to permit its future growth in the down-town district. The visitors, including Ex-Governor Hoch of Kansas, and President E. J. James of the University of Illinois, (who were not present at the inspection) were appointed at the request of the Nebraska Farmers' congress at the annual meeting in November. The committee held a public hearing in connection with the inspection. No time has been set for returning a report. The fact that all of the committeemen live outside of the state and are disinterested lends interest to their findings.

Watch the sand of time keep running on

--and remember that every day you fail to save something you lose a chance, that will never return, to provide for old age or for that misfortune that may come tomorrow or for seizing that opportunity of your life when it turns up.

Start saving today. Remember the sands of time keep running on and tomorrow may be to late.

LILLIAN RUSSELL recently told her sex that it is a crime for a woman to permit herself to grow old and haggard looking.

That "with a little care and attention to the skin, the youthful tint can be retained and wrinkles banished, even at fifty."
