Mrs. R. H. Madison and son, Bryan, returned from Omaha Monday evening. Mrs. Madison has been having serious trouble with her eyes as a result of the gripe.

Waterloo Gazette: Mrs. Madison and son, Bryan, of O'Neill, are here visiting the former's sister, Mrs. John Graff, and family. John Graff Jr., and Bryan went to Omaha Thursday morning for the day.

Butte Gazette: Miss Armstrong of O'Neill is visiting at the Reiser ranch in Holt county in company with Miss Dollie Reiser. Miss Armstrong visited friends in Butte last Friday. We acknowledge a very pleasant call.

John Horriskey has decided to quit the flour and feed business, having rented his building to a couple of ladies who will open up a restaurant therein. Mr. Horriskey is putting in a new front and will otherwise improve the property.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lorge and family left Tuesday for Wynot, Neb., where Mr. Lorge has engaged in business and where the family will make their future home. Their Holt county friends wish them prosperity in their new home.

day to answer to a bastardy charge brought by a young lady living in the northern part of the county. His preliminary hearing was set for March 14, pending which time he was released upon $1,000 bonds.

Leo Mullen says that The Frontier overlooked an important news item last week because it failed to mention the dance given by "us lucky young men"—with apologies to Brother Miles—at the school house a week ago. Leo says it was one of the swellest events of the season.

Wallace Mullen, who has been in the employ of the Northwestern railroad company at Deadwood for the past year, arrived in the city last Friday for a few days' visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mullen. He has been transferred to Norfolk and left for his new post of duty yesterday morning.

Last week Senator Hitchcock sent to the president the name of Chris Gruenther of Columbus to be collector of internal revenue for Nebraska. If the president names Gruenther for the position Nebraska democrats will begin to believe that the great deadlock, that has kept so many of the faithful from the pie counter, has been broken. While many are wishing for it they keep their fingers crossed while hoping.

Gene Sullivan left last Sunday morning for Chicago where he expects to get into the fist game with some of the top-notchers in that city. He has a couple of bouts in sight with two of the clever light weights of Chicago and if successful there will probably go on to New York or visit the coast. His brother, Dan, is now in Australia where he is billed to meet several of the aspirants for the middle weight championship.

At the regular meeting of the city council, held last Tuesday evening, a petition was presented, containing seventy-six names, asking that the people of the city be given an opportunity to vote upon the question of saloons or no saloons at the coming municipal election. The prayer of the petition was granted and for the first time in the history of O'Neill the voters of the city will vote upon the question at the coming city election, next April.

Mrs. Ann Fitzsimmons, aged 74 years, was buried from the Catholic church on Tuesday, Father Gleason officiating. Aunt Ann, as she was familiarly known, was the aunt of T. V. Golden and Mrs. A. J. Hammond and made her home with the latter for many years. Mrs. Fitzsimmons left one son and one daughter, John Fitzsimmons of Portland, Oregon, and Mrs. Lucy Schultz of Albany, Oregon, neither of whom were able to be present. She suffered but little in her last illness and she passed peacefully away surrounded by loving friends and in the enjoyment of the last rites of her church.

Lynch Journal: Mike Hull's residence burned last Sunday afternoon during the snow storm. They were all gathered around the stove enjoying the day when one of the children noticed the fire breaking through the ceiling. Mr. Hull at once attempted to fight the flames but learned that only a matter of minutes remained for them to get out. Some of the furniture was gotten out, but the building and most of the contents was destroyed. Mr. Hull was badly burned about the head and his hands in getting the things out and will be laid up some time with the burns. He carried $200 insurance on the house and none on the furniture. It is supposed that the fire started from the chimney.

John Keeley died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. M. Welsh in Omaha last Monday, at the ripe age of 91 years. The remains were brought to this city Tuesday and interred in the Catholic cemetery Wednesday morning, at the side of his wife who passed away about twenty years ago. Mr. and Mrs. John M. Welsh and two sons, son-in-law and daughter of the deceased and John Keeley of Valentine, a son, accompanied the remains. Mr. Keeley was one of the pioneer residents of this county, coming here from Pennsylvania about 1880, and for many years resided upon his farm about seven miles northwest of this city. About fifteen years ago he went to Omaha and since that time had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Welsh.

At the annual meeting of the electors of Padock township last Tuesday, the tax payers of the township voted to build five miles of road in the township the coming year. Two and three-quarter miles of this road will be on the O'Neill-Spencer automobile road, which will take in one of the worst pieces of road between here and Spencer, that between the Niobrara river and the Lamb hill. It is the intention of those having charge of the work to build a first-class road, which will be added to each year until all the roads in the township are in first-class condition. Good roads are a great benefit to every tax payer in the county and The Frontier hopes that many other townships in the county were liberal with their road appropriations at their annual meetings.

The debating team of the O'Neill high school went to Atkinson last Friday night and met the team representing the Atkinson high school in debate. By a two to one decision the judges awarded Atkinson first place. The following were the members of the O'Neill team: Hilda Longstaff, Ruth Millard and Clarence Pine. Those representing Atkinson were: Earl Moss, Robert Blackburn and Edwin Stratton. All the high school teachers and about forty of the pupils of the high school accompanied the team to lend encouragement to their pupils and classmates. Atkinson will now meet Ainsworth, who defeated Valentine at Valentine the same night, and from one of these teams will be selected the representative from this district to the state contest at Lincoln next May.

The wrestling match last Friday night between Thompson of Omaha and Cobb of Stuart was very disappointing to the large number of fans who had gathered to witness the match. Cobb won the match in straight falls, getting both falls in less than half an hour. A couple of weeks ago Thompson gave Pavelek of Verdigris a great match and it was the opinion of the lovers of the mat game here that he could take Cobb's measure, but the Stuart man had him outclassed. In justice to Thompson, however, it must be said that he was not himself that evening. A few nights before he had a hard wrestle in Omaha and the day before he came here he was in bed all day, so that when he went on the mat that evening he was in no condition to wrestle. It is hoped that these two grapplers will get together again when Thompson is in prime condition.

William Luben of Damet was in the city last Saturday. Mr. Luben has just returned from an extended trip through the western states, having visited in South Dakota, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah and California. While in California and South Dakota he examined some of the oil wells in these states and, judging from the article, from the Crawford Tribune reproduced in another column, Mr. Luben possesses the gift of locating oil. He says they have one of the greatest oil fields in the country near Ardmore, S. D. If they are successful in finding oil there, according to the instructions of Mr. Luben, residents of the south country should get him to try that section for oil, as many are of the opinion that there is oil underlying the entire southern part of this country, as on many of the ponds and lakes it shows upon the surface. It might be just possible that besides being the greatest hay country on earth it would also turn out to be one of the greatest oil fields in the Union.

Last Monday S. L. Thompson purchased the interest of his partner, Harry Reed, in the busy Bee Restaurant and will conduct the business alone in the future. Mr. Reed has not decided what business he will engage in but will probably remain in O'Neill.

Mrs. Frank Kubicek won the set of dishes given away by J. P. Gallagher.
