LOCAL MATTERS.

Please remember that Sunday is "go to Church day for Nebraska."

Judge Malone was up from Inman Wednesday greeting his many O'Neill friends.

The annual meeting of the precinct assessors of the county will be held at the court room in this city on March 31st.

Ammon Logeman of Independence, Mo., is in the city visiting at the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Downey.

Charles F. Abart of Emmet and Florence McCreath of Atkinson were granted a marriage license in county court last Tuesday.

Floyd E. Hunter of Page and Miss Minnie P. Finley of the same village were granted a marriage license in county court last Tuesday.

A beginning class will be organized in the public school on next Monday and parents are urged to send their children to start with the class.

P. J. O'Malley, who was a resident of Chambers township for several years but who moved to Creighton some two years ago, was in the city Wednesday visiting his daughter who is a student at St. Mary's Academy and his many friends living in this vicinity.

Frank and Ed Welton, two of the hustling and progressive farmers of southern Holt, were in the city today and called at these headquarters and advanced their subscriptions to this household necessity. The boys say that everything is prospering in their section of the county.

J. M. Alderson and daughter, Ruth, arrived in the city last Monday morning from Scotts Bluffs, where Miss Ruth had been seriously ill from appendicitis for the past month. For a time her condition was very critical but she is now rapidly recovering, a fact that will be pleasing to her many throughout the county.

In a letter received by The Frontier from Mr. Britt of the Britt Lyceum Bureau of Lincoln Mr. Britt announces that the quality of entertainment to be furnished by them this summer will far eclipse that offered by them last season, which assures O'Neill one of the best Chautauqua entertainments in this section of the state during the season of 1914.

The Methodist Kensington Club will meet Friday evening at the home of Miss Mary Howe to work on articles for the bazaar to be held April 11th. The club is doing good work now and it is desired that all their members be present at every meeting between now and Easter. There was a good attendance at Mrs. Nesbitt's Monday night, supper was served and lots of work accomplished.

James Davidson has moved his tin and plumber shop from its old location, between Fourth and Fifth streets, to the south side of Douglas street, between Fifth and Sixth. Jim says that he has got into cheaper rent quarters and will be able to work for less money, to which we will all say amen.

J. S. Hoffman, one of the old time Frontier readers from the south country, was a caller Wednesday afternoon and inspected the operation of our linotype machine. The machine is still the center of attraction and we invite any, or all of our readers, to call when ever they are in town and we will endeavor to show them how it is operated and explain, as well as we can, its operation.

Col. Barney Stewart, the hustling auctioneer from the enterprising and lively little town of Page, was in the city Tuesday night, on his return from eastern Antelope county where he had a big stock sale. Barney says that he has secured some record breaking prices at public sales for horses during the past month and he looks to see the horse market much stronger during the next few months.

W. W. Bethea of Ewing was an O'Neill visitor last Wednesday, looking after business matters and greeting his many friends. Mr. Bethea served the people of this county four years as county clerk and says he has never, nor never will, lose the love for the town and its people that he acquired during his residence among us and The Frontier can assure William that he has many warm friends in the Emerald Tinted city who love to greet him with a hearty hand clasp.

The next issue of The Frontier, Thursday, April 2nd, will be edited by Rev. Bruce and the ladies of the Methodist church who will have charge of its news and advertising columns. They are preparing to get out a great edition, much of the matter for which is already in type, and if you are not a reader of the paper get your order in early for a copy of the paper, for it will be worth many times the priced asked for it, 10 cents. The proceeds of the edition will go to the building fund for the erection of a new Methodist church in this city.

Miss Georgia Hall of this city is rapidly gaining prominence in the city of Lincoln, where she has been studying music the past three years. The pupils of the Nebraska Conservatory of Music are putting on one of Shakespere's masterpieces, "As You Like It," and Miss Hall has been selected to act the leading roll. This is an honor that comes to but few and proves that Miss Georgia possesses historic as well as musical ability. The play will be presented on April 24th and many O'Neill people have expressed their intention of going to Lincoln on that date to witness the performance.

The Frontier reproduces this week an extended article from the Omaha World-Herald which gives an account of the address delivered in that city on March 17th by E. H. Whelan of this city. Mr. Whelan, upon that occasion covered himself and his home town with glory and men who heard him upon that evening say that it was the greatest address ever delivered in the city upon any occasion. The Frontier is proud of the achievements of the citizens of this city and in order that our readers might get a few of the gems delivered by Mr. Whelan upon that evening we reproduce the World-Herald article in full.

Art Cowperthwaite returned Tuesday afternoon from a four months' sojourn at Long Beach, California. Mrs. Cowperthwaite and J. L. will return about May 1st. Arthur says they spent a very pleasant winter upon the coast but that he was glad to get back where he could receive the hearty greeting of old time friends every morning when he came up town. His father has enjoyed better health this winter than for many years past and Art says that he was feeling like a young colt anxious to get out and into the harness when he left, but thought he had better wait another month before returning home.

Twenty-eight resident tax payers of Saratoga township has presented a petition to the county board asking them to reject the petition presented to them by Hugh O'Neill some three weeks ago, asking them to call an election for the purpose of voting $60,000.00 in bonds to aid the building of a railroad through the township. The remonstrance is signed by some of the most prosperous farmers in the township, several of whom signed the original petition asking for the election. As Mr. O'Neill had withdrawn his petition the board had nothing upon which to act and nothing was done with the petition or remonstrance. It will probably be taken up at the next meeting of the board.

Secretary Golden of the Commercial Club is around the city this afternoon circulating a petition to the officers of the Northwestern railroad company asking that the train which they will put back on the road on April 5th, and which formerly reached this city from the east at 10 o'clock, leave Omaha about midnight and reach this city about 7 o'clock in the morning. This would be of great benefit to the people of this section of the state and it is hoped that the petition, which is being signed by all of our business men, will have the desired effect upon the officers of the Northwestern.

City politics has been very quiet this spring and until the past few days no names have been mentioned for the office of Mayor, which has been filled by O. F. Biglin for the past four years. Mr. Biglin positively refused to be a candidate for re-election and many friends of T. V. Golden have been insisting upon him running for the office. Mr. Golden says that he would appreciate the honor of being mayor of O'Neill, where he has lived for thirty years, but that he would not nor was not a candidate for the office, but that if the people of the city would nominate and elect him that he would serve and give the city his best efforts. So far we have heard of no opposition to Mr. Golden and we believe that he will be elected without opposition and the city of O'Neill could pay no less a tribute to the man that gave O'Neill her magnificent hotel, which has done more to advertise O'Neill as a progressive and live little city than any other business establishment in existence here.

Last fall many of the people of our city were of the opinion that the city water was impure and in order to settle at once and for all time the question Mayor Biglin sent samples of the city water to the chemists of the Burlington railroad company for analysis. These men are residents of our sister state of Iowa and are numbered among the ablest in their profession in the west. A couple of weeks ago a copy of their analysis was received and from it we learn that the residents of this city are drinking water that is as pure as any water in Nebraska or any other state. In fact in their letter, that accompanied their report, they spoke very highly of the water and said that the people of this city were very fortunate in living in a section of the country where such pure water was obtainable. This analysis should set at rest the cry that is raised occasionally that the city water is impure and the residents of the city should see to it that provision is made the coming season for increasing the water supply that we now have, as the great growth of the city and the increased demand for water is such that our present system is not sufficient to supply our demands. Increased water supply is a live question in our city and the sooner the people realize the fact the easier it will be to make the provision.

A current newspaper item is as follows: "The wife of a Methodist minister in Virginia had been married three times. Her maiden name was Patridge, her first husband was named Robins, her second Sparrow are now two robins, one sparrow and three little quails in the family. One grandfather was Swan and another a Jay, but he is dead now and a bird of Paradise. They live on Hawk avenue Eagleville Canary Island, and the fellow who wrote this is a Lyre bird and a relative of the family.—Ex.
