Remarkable Success of These Talented Physicians in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases

Offer Their Services Free of Charge

The United Doctors Specialists, licensed by the state, for the treatment of deformities and all nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the cost of medicine. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will tell their suffering friends and neighbors of the good results obtained by their treatments—that they may consult them with confidence on their return trip which will be in two months.

This is said to be one of the most able specialists' organization of its kind in this section of the country, and must be a successful one from the many good results they are getting. They do not treat any acute diseases, their time and attention being devoted to such diseases as follows:

Disease of the stomach, bowels, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, kidneys or bladder, rheumatism, sciatica, bed wetting, leg ulcers, weak lungs, catarrh, bronchitis, asthma, slow growth in children and those afflicted with long standing, deep seated chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physician.

According to their system no more operations for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors or goitre.

If you have kidney or bladder troubles bring a two-ounce bottle of your urine for chemical analysis.

Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

Death of Mrs. W. J. O'Connor.
Died, at St. Joseph's Hospital Omaha, Monday morning at 8:30 a. m., Emma O'Connor, beloved wife of William J. O'Connor of this city, aged 37 years.

The remains were shipped here Tuesday evening and taken to their residence on Everett street. The funeral took place Thursday morning at the Catholic church, a solemn requiem mass being celebrated by the Rev. Father Gleason, assisted by the Reverend Fathers Cassidy and Flanagan, the latter coming from Omaha to assist at the funeral service. The splendid display of flowers bore mute testimony to the affectionate esteem in which the deceased was held by the people of South Omaha and O'Neill.

The deceased went to Omaha with her husband one year ago, he being a patient sufferer for the past three years, and expected to stay only a few months while her husband was taking treatment. Shortly after going there she became ill with an attack of pneumonia, which quickly developed into tuberculosis which caused her death.

Mrs. O'Connor's early life was spent here she having lived northwest of this city, until she moved with her mother to South Omaha where she met and married William J. O'Connor.

Mrs. O'Connor was first of all a true Christian woman, devoted to her husband whose every care she was solicitous for. Her friends burdens were often hers, she was always ready and willing to carry the load; throughout her entire life she carried the cross uncomplainingly if by doing so she helped others. They will miss her wise council, her willing hands, her cheerful disposition, when dark days come to them, she was like a silver lining behind the clouds always ready to burst forth to dispel, if possible, the threatening clouds of despair. Her trials she bore with Christian fortitude; no murmering complaints were ever expressed, simple resignation to Thy will be done, Oh, Lord! Thy will be done.

She leaves to mourn her great loss her invalid husband, three sisters and three brothers who were present at her funeral and a host of relatives and friends.

The pall bearers were: M. R. Sullivan, Jas. F. O'Donnell, Patrick Coyne, Thomas Coyne, T. D. Hanley and Chas. McKenna.

Those present from abroad who attended the funeral were: John Buckley, William Buckley, Mike O'Laughlin, Mrs. M. P. Brennan, Mame O'Laughlin, Ida McCarthy, all brothers and sisters of the deceased. The following friends were in attendance at the funeral: M. P. Brennan, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McAvoy of Omaha, Mrs. Nora McNally of Chicago, Miss Mollie O'Malley, Omaha.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

A Brilliant Scheme For Increasing The Prosperity Of The Town.
W. C. T. U.

My proposal briefly is this: That the city enact an ordinance licensing me, under legal sanction, and protecting me from interference from anyone, to burn five buildings of my own choosing within the year. I will warn any occupants so they will have time to escape. I will reduce the evils of my system to a minimum. I will also permit an ordinance making me liable at the end of a lawsuit to pay all the direct loss to the owners by reason of the fire. I will agree not to burn more than the number of buildings agreed upon but will not be responsible for the spread of the fire beyond the limits of the building fired. For this license I will pay $1500.00 into the city school fund to decrease your taxes. What do you think of the proposition? If put to a popular vote at the city election, how would you vote? Will you vote to give me the license? Why not? Your answer: "What an absurd proposition! Allow the destruction of $15,000.00 worth of property to save $1,500.00 in taxes." "Yes," I reply, "But some buildings will be burned anyway. Some one else will burn them if I don't. We had better have them burned legally and openly than have some one sneaking around in the alley at midnight taking an oil-soaked rag from his boot, or leaving a can of oil to be tipped over in a haymow by someone determined to start a fire. I would permit an ordinance to be passed allowing me only the hours between 7 a. m. and 8 p. m. and only week days. This would make it much more convenient for the fire companies and much safer for the people. It would also be to my interest to prevent any irregular fires which might lead to accusations against me."

Again, burning buildings is my business, or at least will be if you give me the license. I would train to do it with neatness and dispatch and would learn not to know how to do anything else. You have no right to rob me of an occupation in my chosen field of endeavor. "Ah!" you say, "You have no right to engage in an occupation of destruction." ("Indeed, that is so," I reply, "There's the rub—I have no right that's why I want the license and am willing to pay for it.")

Now, there are many advantages to the town if you accept this proposal. It will make business lively. These five buildings will have to be rebuilt. This will boom the lumber business. Every lumber yard and hardware store in town ought to be in favor of it. Then it will make work. It will mean thousands of dollars in wages, and these thousands in wages will be spent at the stores. Another thing: How the fire insurance business would boom! Every building in town would be insured for all it would carry. Oh, it would make business lively.

Now, Mr. Voter, this argument may seem plausible on the surface, but you know that if this proposal was put to a vote not a voter would vote for it. Yet how very like it sounds to the arguments in favor of the saloon. Vote in a business to save $1500.00 in taxes which will yield absolutely no good thing in return, yet will cost, paid over the bar, much more than $15,000.00 It might as well be burned. It might better be burned. The burning would destroy a few homes. No: Only houses, the homes would be left. But drink destroys the family ties, the real essence of home life. The burning would make work plenty, at some expense, to be sure, but the drink makes the worker indifferent at his own expense. Where would I get the money to pay the license for burning? Leave me alone for that. There are very few who would not pay me a liberal sum for immunity, and woe to those few. Yet where does the saloon keeper get money to pay his license? Leave that to him. He gets it. But he grants no immunity to those who pay it. He not only takes their money, but destroys the best of their efficiency, their safety, their peace, their usefulness, their integrity. He takes their money only to accomplish their destruction. How will YOU vote?
