LOCAL MATTERS.

city last week for a few days' visit with friends here.

Newton and John Carson of Dorsey, transacted business in this city last Monday.

H. A. Allen and William Bokhoff of Atkinson transacted business in this city last Friday.

Mrs. W. B. Graves and Bill Jr. are visiting relatives and friends in Omaha this week.

A light frost visited this section last Tuesday night and probably done some damage to the fruit crop.

Miss Ema Martin of Bancroft, Neb., formerly a teacher in the O'Neill High School, arrived in the Milo Taylor of the Page Reporter was an O'Neill visitor last Tuesday and favored this office with a fraternal call.

William Laviolette of North Bend is in the city this week visiting old time friends and looking after business matters.

Miss Margaret Condon, who has been stenographer for E. H. Whelan the past three years, left for South Dakota last Sunday evening to begin residence on her homestead.

Work on remodeling the First National Bank building is progressing slowly on account of the extreme wet weather of the past few weeks, but the work has progressed far enough to convince the most skeptical that the building will be a beautiful one when completed.

Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Snyder returned from their Colorado trip last Friday afternoon.

Leo Calkins and Ida Lorenz were granted a marriage license in county court last Thursday. Both the young people are residents of Wheeler county.

Frank and Nellie Hughes of Battle Creek were in the city the first of the week, visiting at the Biglin home.

Dr. W. P. Higgins was down from Atkinson last Sunday.

Will the citizens, who know of stock running at large, kindly report to the Mayor at the time such stock is loose. It is no use to make the complaint after the stock is in the custody of the owner.

J. S. Jackson of the Inman Leader was in town yesterday and was a business caller at this office. While here he purchased a good supply of The Frontier's body type so that he will be equipped to give his readers a few more columns of news matter each week.

Mrs. D. C. O'Connor and son of Eden Valley, Minn., who had been visiting at the home of Dr. O'Connor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James O'Connor in this city, returned to their home last Friday.

Frank Epenbaugh, Fred C. Stanton and Henry Fry, all of Ewing, stopped in O'Neill Tuesday on their return from Larabe, Wyoming, where they had filed on claims. Mr. Epenbaugh says that country is better than it looks at first sight, when you come to investigate it thoroughly.

A number of Edmund Whelan's Loy friends surprised him at his home Saturday evening, the occasion being his fifteenth birthday. Games were played and a sumptuous lunch, with ice cream trimmings, which Mrs. Whelan chanced to have on hand, was enjoyed by all.

Everyone is invited to the Mothers Day services at the M. E. Church on Sunday, May 10. A white carnation will be given to every mother who attends this service. If your mother is still living, bring her with you, if not come to this service in honor of her. Sermon by the pastor.

W. L. Fisher of Wayne was in the city the first of the week visiting friends and looking after business matters. Mr. Fisher is now engaged in the real estate business and says that he is looking for a banner season in the real estate line the coming summer.

Chester McClennahan and Miss Clara Higgins, both of Chambers, were granted a marriage license in county court last Monday. Both these young people are members of pioneer families of southern Holt and have many friends and acquaintances throughout the county who will extend hearty congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. William Myers left yesterday morning for Hinkley, Ill., in response to a telegram announcing the death of Mrs. Myers' only brother. The news of his death was a sad blow to them as they did not know that he had been sick and they were unaware of the cause of death. Deceased was thirty-three years of age.

Carl Holz, one of the prosperous and progressive farmers and stockmen of the eastern part of the county, was up from Ewing last Saturday and favored this office with a short call, extending his subscription to this household necessity. Mr. Holz says conditions are better for seeding this spring than for several years and he looks to see old Holt harvest a bumper crop this fall.

L. E. Skidmore was up from Ewing last Tuesday. "Skid" says some of the boys are rather lonesome in Ewing since they cut out the wet goods dispensary on May 1st.

The chicken season is not on yet but from all reports several of the city's young bloods (?) were hunting last Sunday evening and Monday. Better be careful boys until the proper season as the results might be disastrous.

Parnell Golden is working upon an atlas of Holt county, which he expects to have printed and ready for distribution by September 1. The atlas will contain, besides the maps and plates of the county, showing the ownership of each farm, an alphabetical list of all the residents of the county, outside of the incorporated villages and towns, by precincts. He is at present taking orders for the atlas and says that he is meeting with splendid success.

Henry Fry and Mrs. Etta Stanton, both of Ewing, were married by Rev. Bruce at the Methodist parsonage in this city last Tuesday evening. They left for home Wednesday morning, going by way of Orchard on the Burlington. Mrs. Fry will be remembered as Miss Etta McAllister and lived for several years in the country north of this city where she taught school for several years and was recognized as one of Holt county's ablest teachers.

Spencer Advocate: Hugh O'Neill was in town Tuesday boosting his proposed railroad from Atkinson to Spencer on the west. He asks that this township vote $50,000.00 bonds to help build the road. Butte township will vote on the proposition soon. Just what success he met with we did not learn, but understand that several prominent business men favored the proposition.

Our old friend William Grothe of Emmet was a pleasant caller at these headquarters last Tuesday. Billy had been in town several times since we installed our machine but he had not seen the new Linotype in operation until his last visit. After watching it for half an hour Billy says: "I can run a cultivator, harvester, binder, mower, rake plow or lister but "danged" if I would attempt to handle that contraption."

Edward Larson of Paddock township was a pleasant caller at these headquarters last Wednesday and extended his subscription to this household necessity another year. Edward belongs to the list of readers that is always a joy to the editor. A week before his subscription expires he is always on hand to renew it and always has a good word to say for the paper and those connected with it. May his tribe increase.

The Valentine Democrat says that the College Girls (?), who appeared there the forepart of last week, was the best show that has visited Valentine this season. After witnessing the performance put on here by these people last Monday night we are convinced that Valentine has had some "bum" shows during the past winter or that Brother Rice believes that a vulgar display of cheap lingere and unshapely limbs is the acme of success or the standard of ability in the art made famous and popularized by Henry Irving, Melba and other followers of less fame.

Niobrara Tribune: C. W. Baker and his crew of engineers and workmen arrived here last week to begin active operations on the canal to furnish power for the Niobrara-Sioux City electric line. The first steam shovel arrived here the first of the week and was taken across the river. It will be started as soon as it can be set up and put in active operation. Mr. Baker says he will soon have seven more steam shovels here ready to start in the work.

This office is in receipt of a letter from Charles Reka, who is now living on a homestead near Rozet, Wyoming, in which he says: "Enclosed find check for subscription to your indispensable household necessity." He says they are having an early spring for that section of the country, had some good arins and a fall of heavy, wet snow on April 29th. Many thanks for your commendation of The Frontier, Charles, and we will try and make it indispensable to you and all other Holt county people, or former Holt county people.

While digging a sewer ditch on Grant street last Monday afternoon Jack Warner met with a painful accident that resulted in the fracture of his jaw in two places. The ditch was twelve feet deep at the point where he was working and he had neglected to brace it and it caved in on him covering him up to the neck and resulting in the fracture of the jaw. It is foolhardiness for any one, knowing the treacherous condition of the soil here, to attempt to dig these deep ditches without proper bracing as two similar accidents have occurred here during the past three years.

Judge E. M. Slattery of Chadron was in the city Monday on legal business and favored this office with a short call. Judge Slattery says that everything is prosperous in his section of the state and that they have had so much rain in Chadron during the past month that the streets of the city are almost impassible. The Judge was greatly surprised at the growth of this city since his last visit, a little over a year ago, and expressed the opinion that O'Neill was growing faster than any town in the Elkhorn Valley and from appearances, he thought, had a very bright future. The Judge returned home Monday night.

Ella B. Colford has filed suit in the district court of this county against the Pennsylvania Railroad company to collect $20,000.00 for damages alleged to have been received by falling on a defective walk around the depot of the defendants company's station at Dunkirk, Ohio, on June 6, 1913. She alleges that the cement walk was defective and in a dangerous condition; that on the above date, while walking on said platform, after having purchased a ticket over the company's line from Dunkirk, Ohio, to Chicago, and from there over the Burlington to Omaha, she stepped in a hole in said defective walk and was so badly injured that she is and will ever be sleepless, nervous, lame and diseased and that as a result of said injuries she has endured great physical pain and anguish, and as a result thereof she asks judgment for above amount with costs of suit. Accompanying her petition she files an affidavit alleging that she has great reason to believe and does believe that the Chicago and Northwestern and the Burlington railroads, corporations, and both within the county of Holt, are indebted to the said Pennsylvania Company and have property of said company, consisting of money due defendant, and cars in their possession. The case will probably come on for hearing at the next term of court.
