O. O. SNYDER,
Chairman.

S. S. Wymore, of Sand Creek precinct, is in the city today and filed for supervisor from the First district.

M. P. Kinkaid paid a filing fee into the county treasurer's office the first of the week to file as the progressive candidate for congress in this district.

Senator J. A. Robertson paid his filing fee into the county treasurer's office last Monday and will file as the Peoples' Independent and democratic candidate for state senator from this district.

M. P. Sullivan, at present a member of the county board from this district, has filed for re-nomination on the democratic ticket. S. B. Howard of this city filed for the nomination, on the democratic ticket a couple of weeks ago.

C. W. Moss, of Atkinson, paid his filing fee today as a republican candidate for senator from the Twenty-fourth senatorial district. Mr. Moss is one of the pioneer residents of the county, and in the early nineties served several terms on the county board. He is a splendid citizen and will make a good strong candidate.

The following filings have been made for county offices during the past week: P. C. Kelley for democratic and peoples' independent nomination for county clerk; R. H. Murray, of Iowa township, for the progressive nomination for representative from the Fifty-third district; W. E. Conklin of O'Neill for the progressive nomination for sheriff; George Kirkland of Atkinson for the progressive nomination for supervisor from the Seventh district; W. F. Porter of Chambers for the progressive nomination for county clerk; Henry Loshier of Rock Falls for the progressive nomination for supervisor from the First district.

R. B. Howell, of Omaha, president of the Metropolitan Water Board of that city, has filed for the republican nomination for governor. Mr. Howell is one of the brilliant men of the state but The Frontier is of the opinion that he made a mistake in filing for governor at this late day, when the field was already pretty well filled. With Kemp, Howell and Hammond seeking the republican nomination republicans of Nebraska are assured of having an able candidate for the fall election.

Battle Creek Wins a Batting Bee.

Howard Miller and his team of Battle Creek sluggers arrived in the city last Wednesday and won a slugging match from the local team upon the local diamond Wednesday afternoon.

The game started very favorably for the local boys as O'Neill scored three times in the first inning, giving them a commanding lead and courage. The runs came in as a result of three errors, a three sacker by Tomsick and a single by Leahy. In their half of the first the visitors secured one run on a home run drive by Ley. Things were running very nicely for the locals until the third inning when Rouse of Battle Creek secured a home run with three on bases. In this inning the first man up got a hit; next man got first on an error, the next walked and the home run drive brought them all in. They got another in the sixth on a three base hit and a single. The seventh spelled defeat for O'Neill in large letters. Three singles, a double and two walks gave them five scores in this inning. After four runs had crossed the plate in this inning Lintt retired and Roy Karr finished the game he being touched for five hits and two home runs during the last three innings.

Battle Creek has a splendid ball team and we believe the local boys are entitled to credit for securing as many scores as they did. They are all sluggers and good ball players. Several times during the game the locals had men on the bases but the necessary hit to score them was not forthcoming. Score by innings:

O'Neill . . . 3 0 1 0 1 0 0 1 0—6
Battle Creek 1 0 4 0 0 1 5 4 4—19
Hits: O'Neill 7; Battle Creek 16; errors O'Neill 4; Battle Creek 5. Struck out: Lintt 5; Ulrich 5. Left on bases: O'Neill 8; Battle Creek 3. Batteries: O'Neill: Lintt, Karr and Alberts; Battle Creek: Ulrich and Scott.

Stabbing Results in Death.

The preliminary hearing of J. J. Hall, charged with having stabbed Willis Hopkins in a fight in Ewing on June 27th from the result of which cutting Hopkins died, is having a preliminary hearing in county court before Judge Carlon today. About a dozen witnesses are present from Ewing.

The Ewing correspondent of the Norfolk News sent his paper the following account of the affair.

Willis Hopkins, who with J. J. Hall engaged in a fight in Ewing two weeks ago Saturday, died Friday night about 11 o'clock. An autopsy was held Saturday morning over his remains by Dr. Legg of Ewing and Miller of O'Neill and in the afternoon a coroner's jury held an inquest. After considerable evidence was offered the jury rendered a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to his death from a cut in the side made by a knife in the hands of J. J. Hall.

An inquest was held by Coroner Dr. E. T. Wilson of O'Neill, who impanelled the following jury: H. W. McClure, J. B. Mellor, A. E. Peirce, B. P. Smith, Walter Trussell, Dr. Will Flora. Inquest and autopsy held at home of Hopkins' father, seven miles northeast of Ewing.

Their verdict was that "the death of the deceased who died on July 10, 1914, was caused by a wound produced by a knife, on June 27, 1914, in the hand of one John Hall.

When the news of Hopkins' death reached Ewing Saturday, Hall went to O'Neill and gave himself up and he will be given a hearing some day this week.

It appears that a bad feeling between Hopkins and Hall has existed for some time and only came to a climax in the fatal encounter two weeks ago. Attorneys Harrington and Donohoe of O'Neill will conduct the defense.

Hopkins was about 25 years of age and leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss and what is still more saddening is the fact that an accouchement is almost daily expected.

His funeral took place yesterday from his residence eight miles northwest of Ewing and was attended by many Ewing people. Interment was at Inman.

THE JUNIOR CHAUTAUQUA

THE boys and girls as well as the "grown-ups" have been considered in our plans for this Chautauqua. We hear much about the education of children through games and plays. The Chautauqua management believe in it. Accordingly they are going to provide an expert playground supervisor and story teller for the entire session and are going to give the children a Chautauqua of their own—a Junior Chautauqua.

Here's the plan: The children will meet in the auditorium tent in the morning for the "story teller's hour;" then they will have their games and plays until noon. In the afternoon the "little folks" too young to appreciate the "big folks" Chautauqua program will be taken charge of by the Junior superintendent. They will go to a quiet, shady place and have their own games, some stories; in fact, have their own Chautauqua.

No use of children going to the big tent, to be crowded in among grown people down below the air line, where they are uncomfortable, getting nothing from the program themselves and interfering with older people getting the most out of it; lots better for them to have the freedom of the playground, where they can romp and play under the direction of an expert that knows how to get results among boys and girls at play.

An effort will be made to have the children as thoroughly organized for their Chautauqua as their parents are for the big Chautauqua, and the little people will get as much out of theirs, because stories are going to be told them that will establish ideals in their young lives, and games and plays will be taught them that will give them something to think about and engage in long after the Chautauqua is gone. This is the whole Chautauqua idea—right living and right thinking. Of course the older boys and girls will find pleasure and profit in the big tent attending the regular program and should be provided with a season ticket so they can attend every session. Thousands of boys and girls have been inspired to do big things by listening to some world famed orator.
