Women Are Responsible.

Daily Drivers Journal-Stockman: Word comes from New York that a lot of women under the name of the Housewives' League are going to give the high cost of living a solar plexus blow by a return to the good old days of the market basket. The move appears to meet with the approval of everybody from the mayor down but the reform is destined to be a dismal failure right from the start.

Modern women will not go to market with a market basket much less lug a basket of stuff home with them. Their education and environments have all been against such a plebeian procedure and their style of dress forbids it. The city woman of today will not carry home a spool of cotton from a department store. It must be delivered at her home. She could not possibly carry a bundle as she apparently needs both hands to take care of her apparel and then too it is a sign of poverty to be seen carrying things home. It looks so much more genteel to have them charged at the store and delivered.

As a matter of fact fully 90 per cent of the advance in the cost of living in the past quarter of a century is due to the vanity of the women. This may seem rather hard but a little investigation will demonstrate its truth. The men are not entirely blameless since they are wont to reserve their attentions for the girls who shun housework, put up a well dressed front and assume manners that are as far as possible removed from the kitchen.

The modern demand for prepared foods, for fancy groceries for hot house vegetables and fruit and the fancy cuts of meat calls for higher prices. It could not be otherwise since the expensive item of labor enters into the securing of these articles. Then too a great deal more than half of the city trade in these articles is done on credit and dealers must necessarily allow themselves a margin of profit sufficient to cover the cost of collections as well as of bad debts. Delivery of the goods over a wide area in the city adds greatly to the expense of the dealer and all this in order to lighten the domestic burdens of the women in our cities.

Girls are being taught the science of "domestic economy" in our schools and colleges but they are not being taught how to go out and secure the ingredients of a meal. These must be brought to them to prepare. They learn how to cook potatoes without burning them but ask a graduate of a domestic science school the proper and economical way to buy potatoes and store them for winter use and she will throw a fit.

Anyone who has made even a superficial investigation of the cost of living realizes that a return to the good old market basket days would cut the expense almost in two but it would entail so much labor on the part of the woman that in these modern days it is absolutely out of the question. The women will not stand for it and the New York Housewives League might as well disband now before it breaks up on account of the failure of its members to live up to the rules of the club.

After using the second bottle she was entirely cured." For sale by all dealers. 8-4

SPORT FIELDS TO GROW WAR CROPS
Proposals That Golf Courses In England Be Plowed Up.

London, Aug. 26.—Proposals that golf courses, cricket and football fields be plowed for raising crops during war time have been reaching the war office.

A. J. Sherwood, secretary of the Walton Heath Golf club at Epsom, points out that there are at least 2,000 golf courses in the country which could spare some if not considerable land for cultivation. The Walton Heath club has already started an experiment of twelve acres under cultivation and its secretary believes that if other clubs, including cricket and football organizations, would do the same, the scheme would provide employment for thousands of unskilled workmen and add considerably to the nation's food supply.

In these days of self-sacrifice no one appears to be wanting to enjoy himself on the golf links. They are generally deserted and probably will be to the end of the war. L. B. Gullch, secretary of the Golfers' club, has suggested that the hundreds of club houses should be offered to the military authorities for use as hospitals.

KITCHENER TALKS TO LORDS
British War Minister Says Country Must Make Many Sacrifices.

London, Aug. 26.—Lord Kitchener made his first speech as minister of war in the house of lords. He told his hearers that this war undoubtedly would strain the forces of the empire and entail big sacrifices. He laid emphasis on the fact that his position in the cabinet involved adherence to neither party.

"The terms on which I am serving are the same as those under which some of the finest portions of our manhood, now so willingly stepping forward to join the colors, are engaging. That is to say, my term of office is for the duration of the war, or for three years if the war should last as long as that. It has been asked why this period has been limited. It is because if this disastrous war be prolonged, and no one can foretell for a certainty its duration, that after three years of war others will take our places and see this matter through."

Powers Quit Albania.

Paris, Aug. 26.—A dispatch from Scutari reports that all the powers have withdrawn their forces belonging to the international committee to Albania. The English troops have sailed for Malta, the Austrians have gone home, the Germans have sailed for Austria, the French have gone to Montenegro to act as a bodyguard for King Nicholas and the Italians have started for home.

British Cruiser Halts Austrian Ship.

New York, Aug. 6.—Almost at the mouth of New York harbor and within sight of observers on shore, the British cruiser Essex halted the Austrian freight steamer Ida, en route to this port from Quebec. Officers and sailors from the Essex boarded the steamer, examined its papers, and, after holding it an hour, permitted it to proceed on its journey.

IS WELL POISED FOR ACTION.

Asserts Germany Will Find Next Move Against Foe More Difficult Than One Before—Says Positions of French and English Forces Are Impregnable.

London, Aug. 27.—The military correspondent of the Graphis says the allies in their present entrenched position as the anvil to the "Muscovite hammer."

"It is good news," he continues, "that the concentration of the allies on entrenched lines within the French border is complete, and that the positions thus held are little less than impregnable. The Germans will find that their next move against the allies will be much more difficult than that which confronted them a week ago."

"General Joffre's troops will now be devoting all their energy to a stubborn defensive. They are the anvil. The Muscovite hammer is gathering all its immense force for a crushing blow in the east. Hence it is most important that the allies' forces should stand firm."

"The hammer is doing excellently, although the preliminary work is necessarily slow on account of the Russians' lack of facilities for mobilization."

"Nevertheless the progress made by Russia has exceeded the most optimistic expectations, and the Germans are likely to pay dearly for their undervaluation of the Russian efforts."

"The outstanding fact is that the hammer is well poised for action. If the anvil only stands firm the enemy must be speedily crushed between them."

Clemenceau Explains Retreat of Portion of Fifteenth Corps.

Paris, Aug. 27.—With regard to the unauthorized retreat of a portion of the Fifteenth corps of the French army during the fighting in Lorraine, which resulted in the French invaders of Germany being driven back with losses, M. Clemenceau explains that the troops were impressionable southerners, and their officers did not interfere with the flight with sufficient energy.

"In the thick of battle," he says, "these men, by their action in retreating, left a gap of five or six miles for the enemy to penetrate."

"The situation was saved only by the splendid firmness of the Thirteenth and Twentieth corps, which joined hands under a storm of shot and shells."

"All of this we only know by what was learned from chance witnesses."

GERMANS WITHOUT NEWS
Berlin Paper Contains "Rumor" of Mrs. Wilson's Death.

London, Aug. 27.—That the Germans are in almost utter ignorance of any news from the outside world or even of important domestic happenings is emphasized by a copy of the Berlin Tageblatt, dated Aug. 23, which arrived here by way of Holland.

The Tageblatt contains a "rumor" of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson's death, but the paper declares that it is unable to confirm it.

"The escape of the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau from Messina is announced, but the people of the German capital still believe that the ships are ready for action in the Mediterranean. Not a whisper has been heard of the real fate of the warships."

The Germans also are ignorant of the destruction of any Zeppelin dirigible balloons.

Austrian Cruiser Will Assist Germans.
 Manchester, N. H., Aug. 27.—Dr. K. T. Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the United States, announced that he had received a wireless message via Sayville, L. I., from the Hungarian secretary of foreign affairs, saying that "the emperor has commanded the Austrian cruiser Kaiserin Elizabeth at Tsingtau to take up the fight together with the German navy. Diplomatic relations with Japan are broken off."
