Romaine Saunders returned to his Wheeler county ranch last Monday after assisting in this office for the past two weeks.

William F. Backhaus and Miss Minnie Bliss, both of Inez, were granted a marriage license in county court last Tuesday.

The Misses Julia and Beatrice Cronin, who have been visiting relatives in Northern Michigan the past month, returned home yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Sheridan Simmons came up from Norfolk last Friday and is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Cook, northeast of this city.

C.W. Moss, of Atkinson, republican candidate for state senator from this district, was in the city Monday on business matters and looking after his political fences.

Miss Julia Manderville is home from Deadwood spending a fortnight with her parents. Miss Manderville is taking a course in nursing at a hospital in Deadwood.

Dr. R. M. Campbell returned home last Saturday from Davenport, Iowa, where he has been the past three weeks attending a convention of chiropractors and taking a post graduate course in chiropractic.

Jas. F. O'Donnell went down to Lincoln last Tuesday morning to attend a meeting of the democratic state central committee, Mr. O'Donnell being the member from this district.

Mrs. R. J. McGinnis and children of Cody, Wyoming, arrived in the city last Saturday morning and will spend a few weeks visiting relatives and old time friends in this city and vicinity.

Charles Daly, one of the progressive farmers and enthusiastic republicans of Swan township, was transacting business in the city Tuesday. Mr. Daly says that everything is prosperous in his section.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb Kellogg returned Tuesday night from Chicago. Mrs. Kellogg has been visiting friends in Ohio the past month and Webb went to Chicago last week to meet her and accompany her home.

At the regular meeting of the republican state central committee at Lincoln last week O. O. Snyder of this city was selected as a member of the executive committee that will have charge of the state campaign this fall.

Last Monday was labor day but it was not generally observed in this city, except by the banks and the county officers. The banks and county offices were closed that day. School opened Monday morning but the pupils were given a holiday in the afternoon.

P. J. O'Malley and J. Kane, of Creighton, were in the city Tuesday and went over in the south country that afternoon. Pat says that cops are fairly good in the vicinity of Creighton but that in parts of Knox county they will have hardly any corn account of the extreme dry weather in July.

Miss Maud Gillespie, daughter of Judge and Mrs. B. S. Gillespie formerly of this city, received the republican and democratic nominations for county clerk of Sheridan county at the primary election last Monday. Miss Maud has many friends in this city who tender congratulations upon her political success.

The O'Neill Photo Company will have a Mr. Graver, a competent photographer, here Saturday afternoon at three o'clock to take a panoramic view of the streets of O'Neill. Let everyone be their with their car and make a good showing for O'Neill. These views can be made eight feet long. Get in the picture.

Thomas S. Mains, of Stuart, and Miss Evelyn Tierney, of this city, were united in marriage by Rev. C. V. Powell, Methodist minister at Stuart, last Thursday. The bride is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tierney of this city and grew to womanhood in O'Neill. Her many O'Neill friends tender hearty congratulations and good wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Farrier, of Chambers, were in the city last Monday on their way home from a two weeks visit with relatives and friends at Ringgold and Des Moines, Iowa. It was Mr. Farrier's first visit to that section for over twenty-five years. He says that crops are looking just as good in this county as they are in any part of Iowa that he visited.

Hundred of thousands of men are fighting in the gigantic war now going on in the old world, and everyone is interested in the happenings of each day. The Sioux City Tribune is supplied by the Associated Press wires (the best in the world) and you can hardly afford to miss a single copy. The price is $2.00 a year, which may be handed to the publisher of this paper or sent direct to The Tribune at Sioux City.

James R. Hayden, of Red Bird, and Miss Bertha Rouse, of Meek, were united in marriage by County Judge Carlon at the county court room last Friday. The young people are prominent residents of the north country, the bride being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rouse, pioneer residents of Paddock township. They have many friends in the north half of the county who join us in extending hearty congratulations and good wishes.

"Babe" Wyant had the first finger of his right hand all but severed in the hay field last Friday evening. They were preparing to leave the meadow for home and he and the hired man, John Holt, were removing the sickle from a mower, which caught "Babe's" finger and cut it clear through the bone. He was taken to a physician, who dressed the injury without having to finish the work of amputation that had been nearly completed on the mower.

Wilmer Young, aged 29 years, died about 11 o'clock Friday night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Young, five miles northeast of Ewing, as a result of an accident. Last Monday Mr. Young was making hay near Page, and while he was driving a stacker team the singletree broke and flying back struck him in the side, breaking three ribs and puncturing the liver. He was unmarried. He was a member of the United Presbyterian church at Ewing.

The Frontier completed the publication of the first annual premium list of the Holt County Fair last Saturday. The book makes ninety-six pages and was printed in less than two weeks, all except the advertising being set upon the linotype machine. Without this machine it would have been impossible to have published the book in such a short time. If you have not received a copy of the book write to the secretary, P. C. Donohoe, of this city, and he will forward one to you.

A Burlington freight train hit a motor car driven by Roadmaster Hoenshell of Osmond and Welch of Brunswick on a curve a mile west of Breslau Saturday derailing the engine and one car. The engine turned over on one side. No one was hurt except Engineer Winnerstein of this city who had one toe smashed. The wreck was in such a shape that the wrecker was called from Lincoln and the main line cleared at 8 p. m., Sunday. A train was run down from here to handle the passengers from the Sioux City train.

Ernest Leipten has filed suit in the district court to collect $617.50 from the Chicago and Northwestern railroad company for damages on account of the death of three horses and the injury of another by a train on the defendant company's road on April 4, 1913. In his petition he alleges that the cattle guards at a crossing, near the plaintiff's place, in Dodge county, were defective and that six head of horses belonging to him crossed over the cattle guards and got on the right of way of the defendant company; that two of the horses were instantly killed and one died three days afterwards from injuries received; another had its shoulder badly bruised. The accident happened, he says in his petition, on account of the negligence of the company in not having its guards in proper condition. He alleges that the three horses that died were worth $550.00; that he paid $17.50 for veterinary services for the horses that was injured and that died afterwards; that the horse that was injured in the shoulder was damaged to the extent of $50, so he asks for judgment in the sum of $617.50, with interest from April 4, 1913, and costs of suit.
