Why Not Publish It?

When you want a fact to become generally known, the right way is to publish it. Mrs. Joseph Kallans, Peru, Ind., was troubled with belching, sour stomach and frequent headaches. She writes, "I feel it my duty to tell others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me. They have helped my digestion and regulated my bowels. Since using them I have been entirely well." For sale by all dealers. 16-5

John Howard's Platform.

Having had the question asked of me by several of the taxpayers during my campaign, as to what reforms I stood for in case of my election, will mention a few of what I think the most important.

First. I believe we need more competition in our bridge work. It don't seem good business to have one firm doing all the work year after year at their own figure.

Second: I believe the furnishing of material for repairing bridges should be advertised for and the contract let to the lowest bidder.

Third. I believe in publishing the supervisor's proceedings they should go a step further and tell what the money was spent for in each item. It would perhaps cost a trifle more but the people could see what was being done with their money.

Fourth. I believe it would be a good idea if the supervisors did work a trifle longer each day. Say from eight in the morning until five in the evening.

These are a few of the reforms I shall work for if the voters think they can trust me as their hired man.

JOHN Q. HOWARD,
The People's Candidate.

Obituary.

Mrs. John Barnes, aged 46 years, died at her home north of Emmet last Tuesday, October 20, 1914, and the remains were interred in the Protestant cemetery here last Thursday afternoon, the funeral being held from the Methodist church.

Deceased was born February 7, 1868, near Bushnell, Ill. When she was four years of age her parents moved to Nebraska, settling on a farm in Polk county, where she remained until her marriage to John Barnes, of Wayland, Neb., September 27, 1886. They made their home at Wayland until three years ago when they moved to this county on a farm they purchased northeast of this city, where deceased lived up to the time of her death.

At the age of eighteen she united with the Methodist church and was a devoted church member all her life.

Seven children are left to mourn the departure of a kind and loving mother, her husband having passed to the great beyond a little over a year ago. The children are: Mrs. Ralph Ball, Shelby, Neb., Mrs. Edna Summerstedt, Shelby, Nebraska, Mrs. Julia Luben, Nora, Ruth, Arthur and Silas, who are at home. She also leaves to mourn her death, her father, John Hoeffler, of North Dakota, five sisters, three brothers and two grandmothers. The family have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends in this vicinity on their bereavement.

Card of Thanks.

To the many neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the sickness, death and burial of our beloved mother we desire to extend our heartfelt thanks and to assure you that your kindness will never be forgotten.

—Mrs. Julia Luben, Arthur Barnes, Mrs. Ralph Ball, Mrs. Edna Summerstedt, Silas Barnes, Lenora Barnes, Ruth Barnes.

Biglin Will Handle Dodge Bros. Car.

Official announcement is made by Dodge Brothers, Detroit, of the selection of Mr. O. F. Biglin to handle the forthcoming Dodge Brothers motor car in O'Neill and Holt county.

The rivalry on the part of dealers to represent this new car has been intense, not only in O'Neill, but throughout the country—as high as 31 applications having been received from dealers in some of the large cities. It is therefore a distinct compliment to Mr. Biglin that he has been successful in securing this most coveted dealership.

Dodge Brothers are widely known in the automobile industry as the largest manufacturers of parts in the world. It is stated on good authority that they have supplied the vital parts to over 500,000 of the 1,250,000 cars now in use in this country.

Because of their tremendous manufacturing facilities, their high financial standing, and their wide experience in the manufacture of parts, it is generally conceded that the car they will market this fall will set a new standard in automobile values. Their car has been called the "Car of Mystery" because of the fact that no word has been given out as to price, dimensions or equipment. In spite of this fact, the reputation of Dodge Brothers is such that the best dealers throughout the country are taking on the line, "because," as Mr. Biglin says, "it is inconceivable that a concern of the character of Dodge Brothers should manufacture a car that would not play a very large part in establishing automobile values for the future."

Dodge Brothers are fortunate in securing such a representative dealer in O'Neill.

The success of the new car in the hands of O. F. Biglin is assured.

CONGRESSMAN KINKAID FOR RE-ELECTION

Make special effort for development of Western Nebraska. Seeks legislation yet this Congress for guarantee of payment of deposits in national banks; for the making of farm loans at low rates of interest; and for monthly payment of soldiers' pensions.

Favor economizing in expenditures to avoid the necessity for a war tax. Believe purchase of ships under flags of belligerent nations would constitute violation of neutrality policy.

Assume voters have recognized it to be my duty to remain in attendance of the session until adjournment, notwithstanding the campaign is on.

Highly appreciative of former generous support, I thank voters for their consideration in the present campaign.

M. P. KINKAID.

Utley Replies to the Independent.

Editor Frontier: I see in last week's Independent as article entitled "Utley Replies." This would lead some people to think that perhaps I had written that article, such however is not the case. It is however just such an article as I would expect to come from that source. All there is in that article, that says anything at all, is an absolute falsehood, as can be shown by examining the records. They first say, "Mr. Utley had a case against the board in Justice McCafferty's court a short time ago and the case was found to have no merit." It is true I filed a case in McCafferty's court, and by an oversight of the justice he failed to sign the summons sufficient to give the court jurisdiction so nothing could be done. The case has been refiled and new summons issued, returnable October 31st, at ten o'clock, at which time we will probably see whether there is any merit in the case. This explains this one case.

They next say, "And again he had the county board in the district court, and had the case thrown out." This case I presume refers to the case I began to restrain the county board from paying out money for county bridges built by them wrongfully, as I claimed, during the year 1913. This case, at the earnest solicitation of the county board, and their agreement to pay no bills for that work except the same were checked over and approved by the State Engineer, and they paying all costs. I had it dismissed, without prejudice. I brought another case against the county board, and the Western Bridge and Construction Company, to prevent their building any bridge during the year 1914, under what I claimed was an illegal and unlawful contract. This case was tried to the district court, some three or four weeks ago, and by the court taken under advisement at the time; and so far as I have any knowledge, no decision has yet been rendered.

I stated in my former article "that another suit was about to be brought against the county board for a plain and clever violation of Section 6427 of the 1913 Statutes of the State of Nebraska, yet they say in this last article, that I have made no specific charges against the board.

So far as the political part of this article is concerned, I have only this to say: When I commenced my proceedings against the board, the question of politics did not enter my mind, nor did I make any inquiry to ascertain whether or not any of the members of the board were likely to be candidates for re-election or not. I have been for more than a year taking exceptions to some of the proceedings of the board, and called their attention specifically to what I claimed was improper and wrongful, and in some instances have notified the board both openly and when in session that if they proceeded to take certain actions in certain matters, that suit would be brought on their official bond to try and recover the same under the provisions of the statute, and I meant it then, as much as I do now. The board in their wisdom, have seen fit to entirely ignore my suggestions, now we will let the courts decide, whether the Statute means anything or whether the board is, as one member said during his campaign it was, "The whole cheese in Holt county," and for that reason they must elect him as he would practically control the board, and I guess from all accounts, of where the bridge money has been expended during his term of office, he has done it. I am not making any threats, or anything in the nature of threats, but will simply say this for the benefit of the public, that it is possible I may have something to say to this individual through the courts in which he and his bonds-men will be the only persons interested and not the majority of the board, as in the proceedings I have already begun and will begin in the very near future.

So far as Mr. Fauquier and Sullivan, personally are concerned I personally have no desire, or anxiety to see them defeated at the polls, and had they made a record of the doings as supervisors, as they should have done, and as I advised at least one of them to do, they would not now be involved in any of this litigation. Personally I believe them both to be honorable, and well-meaning gentlemen, but like Poor Dog Tray, they got into bad company, and allowed that company to dominate their actions with the brave and bold suggestion, "That nothing would be done, that all my talk was bluff," and even if it wasn't I had no money to commence lawsuits." The latter part of this of course, is largely true. I have no more money than I need, but I propose to make good what I say, even though it makes it necessary for me to go without a winter overcoat. The same kind of work that has been going on, went on a few years ago until it became necessary apparently to murder one or two men, and the county to spend several thousand dollars in fruitless litigation, because the amounts involved had become so large that the bonds-men, although sued and judgment recovered, were unable to pay the same, and many of them are to this day suffering the consequence thereof.

As a last word let me say, "I care not who is elected, it will not in the least change my proceedings, nor my feelings, for I have no personal ill-will toward any man now on the board, or to be elected hereafter but if my ideas are right, and are vindicated by the courts, as I firmly believe they will be, it will undoubtedly prove a lesson to future boards as to how they shall proceed. In everything that I have suggested to the board in my letters through the paper their record is absolutely silent, and there is the place where the law provides that the public, and any tax-payer may go to find out what the board has done in certain matters, and being unable to find it there, I have asked them to explain, and no one except Mr. Fauquier has attempted to make any explanation whatever.

Very respectfully yours,
H. M. UTLEY.

What Would You Do?

There are many times when one man questions another's actions and motives. Men act differently under different circumstances. The question is, what would you do right now if you had a severe cold? Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and know its value. Mrs. O. E. Sargent, Peru, Ind., says, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is worth its weight in gold and I take pleasure in recommending it." For sale by all dealers. 16-5

Gleanings.

The weather of late has been very changeable, but the farmers work goes merrily on just the same.

Irvin Simonson is about to begin the erection of a new barn, which will add materially to the natural beauty of his farm.

We learned too late for our last items that Loren Simonson bought himself a new car, and he brought it up from Lincoln the same time that C. T. Simonson brought his. They arrived with them last Monday. It is rumored that C. J. Simonson will buy a new car. What make it will be yet writer did not learn. C. T. and L. A. Simonson have New Buicks, while Adam Martin owns a new Mitchell.

The writer took a trip out to town on the afternoon of the 22nd, which is the first time he has been in O'Neill for over four years and to say that he was very much surprised at the growth of the city, does not half express his thoughts as he noted the many substantial improvements which has been added to the city since his last visit. Consequently he thinks that O'Neill is getting to be a metropolitan city, which is due, no doubt, to the enterprising business men and commercial club.

Mrs. Hubbard and Mrs. C. T. Simonson were pleasant callers at the Hatch home on the 23rd inst.

The effect of the work being done by the Nebraska Experiment Station, and the agricultural press of the country is apparent to the casual observer traveling through the country, in the difference in the farming now and what it used to be. Likewise it is shown in the plan of farm buildings and improved stock. Let the good work go on.
