FIGURES THAT ARE NOT WEARISOME

Crop and Live Stock Statistics Show Wealth of Holt County.

Some interesting figures are found in the annual statistical report of the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture for 1914. The report covers every phase of ranch and farm products. Some extracts from the report may prove it interesting and instructive to our readers. The live stock industry of the county is set forth in the following figures:

Milch cows.....11,071
 Other cattle.....55,671
 Hogs.....23,615
 Horses.....15,561
 Mules.....1,964

During the year the following number of animals are reported as having died of disease: Horses, 527; mules, 33; milch cows, 422; other cattle, 1,475; sheep, 35; swine, 6,215.

The crop statistics shows the acreage, yield and value, which follows: Corn—118,590 acres, 2,905,455 bushels, valued at $1,452,728.

Winter wheat—3,870 acres, 47,988 bushels, valued at $42,790.

Spring wheat—2,067 acres, 16,536 bushels, valued at $14,056.

Oats—28,474 acres, 683,376 bushels, valued at $273,350.

Rye—14,269 acres, 114,152 bushels, valued at $79,906.

Alfalfa—5,978 acres, 7,472 tons, valued at $52,304.

Prairie hay—198,566 acres, 158,844 tons, valued at $1,111,908 (at $7 per ton).

Potatoes—1,456 acres, 90,272 bushels, valued at $54,163.

Apples—9,049 bushels.

Dairy products—Cheese, 231 pounds; butter made in family, 92,326 pounds; value of milk and cream sold, $88,437. There were 395 automobiles listed for taxation in the county, and 1,597 dogs.

The majority of Holt county farmers own their lands, there being 1,826 such as against 437 farms occupied by tenants.

Many Silos in Box Butte.

University News Letter: The number of silos in Boxbutte county was more than doubled during the past season following an excursion made by farmers and business men. As the result of this event, five stave silos and nine pit silos were built. It is reported, also, that several other farmers are expecting to erect silos for next season's use.

Mold Killing Horses.

University News Letter: Reports from several localities show a considerable loss among horses running in cornstalks. It is possible that owing to the excessive rainfall during the late summer, followed by warm dry weather, certain molds were developed on the corn plant which caused the same trouble among horses that occurred during the late summer of 1912. Horses are peculiarly susceptible to molds whether on grain or forage.

Experts at the Nebraska Agricultural College as well as in other states have shown that when fed moldy ear corn horses develop a fatal disease affecting the brain, commonly called blind staggers. Ear corn showing any signs of mold should not be fed to horses. Where shelled corn is fed it can be placed in a bucket and water poured over it. Stirring will bring the light moldy kernels to the top, when they can be poured off.

Notice of Stock Holders Meeting.

The regular meeting of the stock holders of The O'Neill National Bank, of O'Neill, Nebraska, for the purpose of electing Directors and the transaction of such other business as may be legally brought before such meeting, will be held at the banking rooms of said bank between the hours of 10 a. m., and 4 p. m., on Tuesday, January 12, 1915.

S. J. WEEKES, Cashier.

According to the 1914 farm statistic report there are 2,211 men and 1,730 women on farms in Holt county. Too many bachelors. These disproportionate figures should be evened up if the bachelors have to advertise for wives.
