You Homestead Chances Are Disappearing

Are you taking advantage of your homestead dights for yourself or your son? The last two years have been the heaviest homesteading years in the history of this country. What does this tell you? At this rate at the end of 10 years there will be only "odds and ends" left. You can yet secure an excellent Mondell 320 acre tract of even, rolling prairie in Northwestern Wyoming—for the dairy business and stock raising.

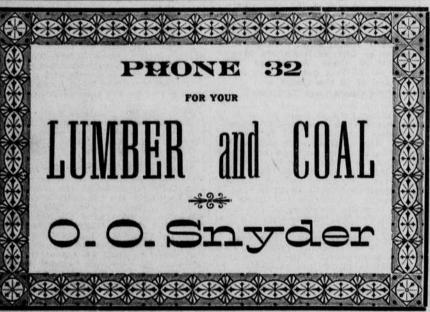

Or, you can take up in the Government Irrigation Project in the Big Horn and to do further and receive that Basin an 80 acre homestead, close to the town of Powell, Wyo., in a district of which our said District Court shall schools, choice farms, and in a higher developed community. Government permanent water rights $52 per acre. Land free. Twenty year payments, no interest. About 80 of the good farms left; if you mean business this is the finest gift the Government can today make you.

Gleanings.
W. S. Roberts is elying his corn ground that he listed, preparatory to planting corn thereon in a few days. Mrs. Tom Simonson, F. Simonson and daughter Carroll, William Mc Manus and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Widtfeldt, also J. B. Long were pleasant callers at the Hatch home on Sunday,

May 2nd.

A surprise party was given Mrs. Emily Hatch on the 5th inst. in honor of her seventy-sixth birthday, by the following ladies who were all present on the occasion: Mrs. Thomas Simonson, Mrs. Irwin Simonson, Mrs. C. T. Simonson, Mrs. C. J. Simonson, Mrs. L. A. Simonson, Mrs. W. S. Roberts and Mrs. H. B. Hubbard. To say that the surprise on Mrs. Hatch was comgoes without saying. A good social time was had by everyone present, and at noon everyone sat down to the finest banqut that ever graced the festive board of a king. It was indeed a feast for the Gods, and the table iterally and figuratively groaned with the weight of the many good things thereon. The guests left with their hostess many expressions of their good will, and some very fine and use ful presents as a token of their regard, all of which was very much appreciated and will be remembered with pleasure for a long time to come by Mrs.

Quite a frost was seen on the ground on the morning of the 6th by ye scribe and he has no doubt that the small fruit crop has been killed in this locality, as the trees have been in bloom

COOPERATIVE EGG CIRCLES

Community Groups Recommended to Increase Quality of the Product.

A cooperative plan to reduce the enormous waste now caused by the careless marketing of eggs is outlined in Farmers' Bulletin 656 "The Community Egg Circle," which has just been published by the department. It is estimated that under the present haphazard methods of gathering and marketing eggs nearly 8 per cent of the country's output is a total loss. Since the annual production of poultry and eggs in the United States is valued at more than $600,000,000-a sum equal to the value of the hay or wheat crop—the importance of reducing this loss is obvious.

The individual farmer too often regards his eggs as a mere by-product to which it is hardly worth his while to devote himself seriously; in conse-District Court of the United States of devote himself seriously; in conse-America within and for the District of quence he is inclined both to neglect Nebraska, as a court of bankruptcy, his poultry and to gather his eggs whenever he happens to have a spare moment or two. In consequence the output of his poultry yard is not only small to begin with, but a large proportion of it has begun to spoil before it reaches the hands of the country merchants. They usually buy eggs on "case count," paying the same price for good, bad, and indifferent. The large markets, however, do not pay the same price and reject many altogether; in consequence the price per egg to the farmer is made sufficiently low to provide a safe margin and to cover the loss on eggs of poor quality.
