State Journal: Little Herman was a very backward pupil and his teacher frequently lost all patience with him. One day when he seemed to be more dense than usual, the teacher exclaimed: "It seems you are never able to answer any of my questions, Herman. 'Why?' 'If I knew all the things you ask me, ma'am," replied Herman, "my father wouldn't go to the trouble of sending me here!"

Pierce Leader: Mrs. Paul Neubauer and children of O'Neill are visiting this week with Mrs. Frank Gishpert, a sister of Mrs. P., and other relatives and old friends. Mrs. Neubauer states that her husband, who was thrown from a wagon a couple of weeks ago and sustained serious injuries, is recovering very well, and it is not thought that his arm will not have to be amputated as first given out.

Everybody's Magazine: The cub reporter saw a hearse start away from a house at the head of a funeral procession. "Who's dead?" he inquired of the corner storekeeper, who was watching from the door. "Chon Schmidt!" "John Smith!" exclaimed the cub. "You don't mean to say John Smith is dead?" "Vell, by golly," said the grocer, "vot you dink dey doing mit him—bractising?"

E. E. E. Ridgway of Omaha was an O'Neill visitor last Monday. For the past three sessions Mr. Ridgway has been clerk of the committee of the whole and reading clerk of the house of representatives of the Nebraska legislature and is one of the most competent men that has ever filled that position. While in the city he made a call at this office and swapped yarns with the old man about the many warm sessions of the past winter.

Several O'Neill lovers of the wrestling game are figuring upon going to Omaha on July 5th to witness the wrestling match, for the heavy-weight championship, which will be staged at Rourke Park in that city on that date between Joe Stecker, undefeated champion of this state and George Cutler of Chicago, one of the best heavyweights in the business. This promises to be the greatest wrestling event since the Gotch-Zybisco match of five years ago.

It commenced raining again last night and is still raining at 11 a. m. today. This continuous downpour is getting to be too much of a good thing. Many farmers will have to replant their corn on account of the heavy rain of last week and as the precipitation still continues they are unable to get into their fields to do so. The season is getting late for corn planting and unless we have a late fall there will be a lot of soft corn in this section of the state this fall.

Hugo Alfs of Atkinson and Miss Ida Dams of Emmet were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage in this city Wednesday by Rev. G. W. Bruce. The attendants were, Miss Etta Alfs, niece of the groom and George Dams, brother of the bride. Both of these young people are from prominent families in the western portion of the county and have a host of friends who will wish them long life and happiness, in which the Frontier heartily joins.

Butte Gazette: Hugh O'Neill lost heavily in the storm Tuesday evening. A telephone message stated that his barn, a span of mules, three horses, and all of his hogs had been washed away in a cloud burst. Mr. O'Neill, who had been in Butte for a couple of days, at once left for home but on account of the damage to the Whiting bridge was unable to make it and returned to Butte. He states that his loss will be about $1,500. The barn was totally destroyed and washed away, very little of the lumber being found.

Everybody's Magazine: One Saturday a crowd of children were playing war in a back yard. Some were English soldiers, some French, some German. One little girl who was told she was too small to play began crying audibly and kept it up in spite of all they could do, and even after the warning: "If you don't shut up, mother will hear you and make you come in the house." Finally the difficulty was settled by a bright boy of ten. "Oh, let her bawl," he counseled, "she can be the widows and orphans."

The past week has been the busiest of the year in the license department of the county judge's office. License to wed was issued to the following persons: James Mullen Boyle, Emmet, and Miss Cecilia Ullrich, Atkinson; Frank Costello, Ewing, and Miss Josephine Saunders, Ewing; Tony Kring, Page, and Miss Francis Blair, Page; H. L. Gribble, Bliss, and Miss Nellie M. Winchell, Chambers; Philip E. Savidge, Ewing, and Miss Anna Gakie, Clearwater; John Ruterbories, Clearwater, and Miss Mary Savidge, Ewing.

Albert Kaczor of Blackbird was a caller at this office Wednesday extending his subscription to The Frontier. Mr. Kaczor says that on account of the heavy rains of last week all the farmers in his neighborhood will have to replant all their corn that was listed prior to the rains. The corn that was planted with a planter is all right and doing nicely. He has twenty acres that he put in with a checkrower and it is doing fine, but he will have to replant the balance of his field. Farmers in his section are waiting for the ground to get into condition so they can get into the fields and get at the work of replanting.

The commencement exercises of the O'Neill High school were held in the auditorium of the school building last Thursday night. Although it was very wet and disagreeable night a large audience assembled to witness the class of 1915 receive their diplomas. A good program was rendered and the diplomas were presented to the graduates by Rev. G. W. Bruce. The class of 1915 was the largest in the history of the school, comprising sixteen members, eight young ladies and eight boys. Following were the graduates: Miss Rena M. Gannon, Miss Blanche E. Gannon, Miss Harriett J. Robertson, Miss Mayme W. Stine, Miss Alma C. Lundberg, Miss Ethel B. Satrang, Miss Margaret C. Dorsey, Miss Jennie C. Adams, Donald F. Gallagher, Raymond J. McBride, Glen O. Parker, John B. Longstaff, Frank M. Harrington, Glen J. Iams, Homer F. Mullen, Lawrence H. Malone.

Last Friday morning Mr. Metcalf, who resides on the Trussell ranch southeast of here in McClure township, found an old gentleman sitting on his porch when he arose in the morning. He took the old gentleman in, gave him something to eat and some dry clothing and finding the old gentleman to be demented brought him to this city Saturday morning and turned him over to Sheriff Grady and he is now confined in the county jail. The old gentleman is about sixty years old. He says his name is Robert Donnell and the name on his underclothing is "R. L. Donnell" and "R. L. Donnell." He says that he formerly lived in Pittsburg, Pa., and that he has several million dollars invested in railroad property in that city and vicinity. He says that he was at Bloomfield, Neb., the day it snowed two weeks ago and that he has been walking since. Sheriff Grady is attempting to locate some one who knows something about the old gentleman as he is of the opinion that he has escaped from some asylum or poor farm not far away. He had about $4.00 on his person when picked up. He does not have a very good opinion of old-time newspaper men as he says he had 400 of them working for him at one time and that they stole 1200 head of cattle from him.

The Cattle Situation. The scare which cattle breeders have just passed through on account of the foot and mouth disease resulting in a general unloading in affected districts, causing lower prices than was warranted from present supply. The after effects will be felt in a higher price for all kinds of cattle and it is not at all unlikely that 10 cent steers will be seen on the market within a very short period of time.

Rhodes-Evans.

Married, at the Golden Hotel Tuesday morning, June 1, 1915, Charles Porter Rhodes to Miss Ruth Evans, Rev. Longstaff of the Presbyterian church officiating, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony the bridal party and guests partook of a splendid wedding breakfast, which was served in the dining room of the hotel. During the breakfast music was furnished by Powell's Orchestra. The bridal party left on the 10 o'clock train for a wedding trip to Beatrice, Lincoln and other Nebraska points and will return to O'Neill in about ten days and will go to housekeeping in the Phelps' home in the southwestern part of the city.

The groom is a stockholder in and resident manager of the McGinnis Creamery Co., and during his residence in this city has made a host of friends. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Evans and has lived in this city from infancy, honored by young and old alike. She is one of O'Neill's fairest daughters, of pleasing and winning personality and charming manners and has a host of friends in this city and county where she is well known.

Out of town relatives of the groom who were present for the wedding were: Mrs. J. L. Rhodes, mother of the groom; Miss Clara Rhodes, sister; Miss Elinor Diehl, niece, of Beatrice. Miss Mary Hartell of Omaha, an old friend of the Evans' family was also present. In addition to the above the following O'Neill friends were present at the wedding and the breakfast: Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Gallagher, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde King, Mr. and Mrs. Rebeck, Dr. Hale, Rev. Longstaff, Mrs. Longstaff and daughter, Hilda.

This happy young couple enter the journey of life together under the most favorable auspices and with the best wishes of a host of friends for a long and happy journey, in which wish The Frontier most heartily joins.

Decoration Day.

Decoration Day was properly observed in this city last Monday. At 2 o'clock the members of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Spanish War Veterans assembled at the G. A. R. hall and marched to the opera house where the exercises were held and the following program was rendered:

.....Helen Harrington
Recitation.....John Welsh

The address by Frank Harrington was especially good. Although a boy in years, less than seventeen years old, he convinced all by his address that he was a great reader and a student of American history and well posted upon current events. He is perfectly at home on the platform and gives promise of becoming one of the gifted orators of the state.

At the conclusion of the program the O'Neill Cornet Band led the parade to the cemetery followed by the Veterans, flower girls and citizens in automobiles, where the graves of the patriotic dead were appropriately decorated.

A Home Wedding.

Promptly at 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening, June 2, to the strains of "The March of the Dwarfs," rendered by Mrs. Benson, and Ruth Roberts, Mr. Joseph C. Evans and Miss Pearl Roberts marched from the bridal chambers into the parlor and took their places between Walter Roberts, as best man and Miss Edna Barnard, bridesmaid, and were united in marriage by the Rev. G. W. Bruce of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The bride was gowned in White hand veiled Josi. The groom wore the conventional black. Immediately after the ceremony the guests were seated and served to a three course wedding supper.

The young couple will go to their home in Buhah, North Dakota, and the best wishes of their hosts of friends go with them. ***

WEEKLY WEATHER FORECAST

For the week beginning Wednesday, June 2.—The weather will be generally fair throughout the period, except that local rains in the northern portion are probable about Friday. The temperature will rise slowly and pass above the normal early in the period.

The Episcopal Church.

There will be services and sermon in the Episcopal church on Sunday evening next, at 8 p. m. The subject of the sermon will be "Christian Responsibility." A hearty welcome to all.

CLAUDE R. PARKERSON,
Pastor.

Forage Crops.

The dried out pastures of July and August used to cause considerable anxiety to farmers. In the days before alfalfa was so generally raised it was advisable for cattle raisers to grow a summer forage, usually sorghums or millets. Some farmers still follow this practice in Nebraska, which is highly commended to tide over and keep growing the live stock on the farm through this period when the growth of grasses are retarded. Forage crops are hard on the land but barnyard manure will cause quick recuperation of Nebraska soil.
