YOUNG WIFE ASSERTS LONGING FOR FINERY MADE HER EMBEZZLER

She Admits Taking About $550, But Employers Say Amount Was Over $3,000.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 4 .- A desire for finery and the fact that another girl in the office got more money than she did are the downfall reasons assigned by Mrs. Helen Korus, now awaiting trial on the charge of embezzling money from the Lincoln Cleaning & Dye works. The company claims that between $3,000 and $4,000 have been taken, but the girl, who was recently married, insists that she did not take to exceed $550.

"I spent it all on myself. The company paid me, as cashier, only $10 a week, and there was another girl there who got $14 and did not do as much work as I did. I sent none of the money away, but I needed it and I took it."

The company's investigations dis-closed that at the time she got mar-ried she had a $550 bank account, some of which she spent on her wedding trip and $300 of which she expended on furniture. She is an expert bookkeeper and changed the figures on price tickets for work done. She took $1 the first time, but admits she grabbed off as much as $50 at a time.

'WETS" SEE PROSPECT OF HARD FIGHT IN NEBRASKA

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 4.—Practical politicians are inclined to take their hats off to the "dry" organization formed to fight for prohibition in Nebraska next year. An executive committee, made up of some of the most astute politicians in the state, and with a body of advisers composed of men who have successfully conducted democratic and republican campaigns in Nebraska in advisers composed of men who have successfully conducted democratic and republican campaigns in Nebraska in past years makes up a formidable organization. The leaders do not attempt to minimize the strength of the opposition, but they propose making the campaign something more than a fight for a moral principle. One of the lines upon which it will be fought will be the necessity of putting the liquor interests out of business because they refuse to quit politics. The last three state senates were controlled by the liquor element because it had concentrated its efforts on electing a majority of that body through agents whom it paid to go into every senatorial district and put up known "wet" democrats. One of the things the "dry" organization will do is to follow the same plan in every legislative district, and in this way buttress against any legislative blocking if the amendment should be adopted as well as to give "dry" votes a rallying point.

HEATED ARGUMENT AT FARM CONGRESS OVER INDORSING PRESIDENT

Resolution Carries by Vote of 215 to 48-Norris Outlines Federal Aid Plan.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 2.—The question of indorsing President Wilson's foreign policy caused heated discussion at the cinvention of the Farmers' National congress.

The following resolution was introduced by Frank G. O'Dell, of Omaha:
Resolved, by the farmers' national congress, representing the citizens of this country, who in time of peace must feed our people and in time of war must fight their battles. That we recommend the foreign policy of President Wilson, who has stood at the head of the American nation during one of the most critical and trying periods of its history.

Resolved, That we express absolute confidence in his patriotism, courage and diplomatic ability.

Resolved, That we pledge him our unswerving support in his endeavor to defend the rights of American citizens and to maintain inviolable the neutrality of this nation.

Mr. O'Dell led the fight for the reso-lution, and John Schmidt, of Wahoo, led the opposition. Schmidt was seconded by Charlie Wooster, who de-clared President Wilson's foreign policy clared President Wilson's foreign policy to be weak. "He's a big bully—a bully of nations," declared Wooster.

A test vote taken on the question of tabling, offered by Schmidt, resulted in a vote of 215 to 48, in favor of the resolution supporting Wilson.

After considerable spirited debate, in which charges of "treasonable utterances" were made, an amendment eliminating the reference to feeding and fighting for the people was accepted and the resolutions were adopted with practical unanimity.

A plan for government aid to farmers of limited means was outlined by Hon. G. W. Norris, United States senator from Nebraska.

"DRY" DELEGATES ARE | MINISTERS ASSIGNED DIVIDED ABOUT FORM OF NEW RESTRICTION

Some Want to Outlaw Liquor Entirely-Others Would Hit Only at Sales.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 2.—The pre-liminary meeting of the delegates to the "dry" convention brought forward a warm fight over the question of the form in which the proposed constitu-tional amendment shall be drawn. As the committee to which the job was delegated months ago drew the amend-ment it prohibits the giving away of liquors under any pretext. Opposition to this was based on the claim that this would arouse the opposition of foreign born folks, and induce them to believe that the adoption of the amendment would prevent them regale-ing their neighbors or friends who ing their neighbors or friends who might drop in to any liquid refreshments. The debate brought out such opposition that when the matter comes to a vote in the convention the objec-tionable clause likely will be stricken

The fight for the special restriction was made by A. G. Wolfenbarger, former national chairman of the probibimer national chairman of the pronibition party, and he was supported by many of the party prohibitionists. It was expected that a struggle would come up in the convention between these party prohibitionists and those who are for prohibition but not by party action, but it hasn't yet developed.

Mayor C. W. Bryan was the tempor-y chairman of the convention. W ary chairman of the convention. W. J. Bryan had sent word by his brother that he opposed the Wolfenbarger amendment on the ground that better politics dictated that the fight be made against the brewer and the distiller and the salconvener rather than and the saloonkeeper rather than against liquor alone. This course, which is likely to be adopted, aims to lessen opposition to the amendment

BRIEF FILED TO OPPOSE SIOUX CITY RATE CLAIM

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 2.—The state railway commission has completed its brief in defense of its class rate schedule, attacked by Sioux City, Council Bluffs, Kansas City and St. Joseph jobbers. It lays down the promise that a state commission making state rates must be governed by the conditions inside its border and must form its work with reference exmust form its work with reference exclusively to what is just in respect to domestic business alone and must not consider what effect the rates will have on interstate business. It cites decisions of the supreme court in the Ames and Minnesota rate cases to prove the soundness of this doctrine.
It is also contended that the complainants are trying to accomplish in this way what they could not do in court, because the new rates can be maintained as compensatory.

tained as compensatory.
It also denies that the Interstate Commerce commission has anything to say about the adjustment of rates between jobbing centers because it has no jurisdiction. It is insisted that the only remedy le?t for the jobbing cen-ters is to bring their complaints be-fore the state commission and let it be settled there.

Lincoln. Neb., Oct. 2.—According to the ruling of Judge Cornish, of the district court, the state banking board is without jurisdiction or authority to enact a rules relating to the estab-lishment of savings banks in connec-tion with another bank. The rule was to the effect that the savings bank charter could not be approved when it was to be operated in the same room with a commercial bank and with the same set of officers. The State Savings bank of Clarks went into court and asked for a man-damus to compel the granting of a charter to it. The board based its case on the fact that the failure of one institution in such a case meant the failure of the other. This was true in the case of the First State Savings

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 1.—The ears of pretty cigar girls and the frenzied interest of employes and guests alike at the Paxton hotel yesterday tells how all the world loves a baby—especially a deserted baby.

After one of the chambermads had beared a baby cripe sittle like.
