Billy Sunday closes his campaign in Omaha next Sunday. So far he has been unable to persuade Mayor Dahlman to hit the trial.

The election fraud case against Thomas Taggart, democratic national committeeman from Indiana and one of the leading democrats of the country, who was indicted for election frauds some weeks ago has been dismissed on motion of the prosecuting attorney.

The voters of New Jersey defeated woman suffrage at the election last Tuesday by upward of 50,000. Supporters of suffrage were hopeful that it would carry as they had enlisted the active support of the president in their cause. The leaders of the movement take their defeat philosophically however, saying they did not lose, as they had nothing to lose, and intend to keep on fighting.

Judge Cornish and former senator E. J. Burkett, both of Lincoln, are said to be seriously considering entering the race for the republican nomination for United States senator. Judge Cornish is strong in Lancaster county but is not known in the state at large. Should he enter the race the progressive republican vote of that section of the state would be divided with C. H. Aldrich with the chances that neither of them would land the nomination. Burkett was defeated by about 20,000 by Senator Hitchcock six years ago and we do not think he has grown stronger with the voters since that time. In fact we do not think he could even start to "come back."

Attorney General Willis Reed is one of the greatest grand-stand players in this state. Willis has a longing to be United States senator that can not be crushed and in view of booming his candidacy two years hence, has decided to begin an enforcement of the state anti-treat law that has remained a dead letter since its enactment years ago. The enforcement of this law would probably now be welcomed by the liquor dealers of the state as an antidote for prohibition and the prohibitionists would also probably welcome the move. Thus Willis would secure the support of both the wet and dry factions and he believes such a coalition would land him in the coveted position two years hence.

The editors of Northeast Nebraska held a meeting at Norfolk last Friday and Saturday and organized the Northeast Nebraska Editorial Association. Officers were elected and it was decided to hold the next regular meeting at Wayne next January. We attended the meeting Saturday and met many of the pull pushers from this section of the state, many of whom we had not met for years, and some that we had never met. The meeting was very interesting and the editors were royally entertained by the citizens of Norfolk and the newspaper people of that city. Northeast Nebraska has some of the best weekly

Gene Kane Passes Away.

Gene Kane, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever the past three weeks, passed away at the home of his mother in this city at 5:45 this afternoon. The funeral will be held Saturday morning and the remains will be taken to Wisner to be interred in the cemetery there at the side of his father, who was buried two weeks ago.

Degree Team Goes to Omaha.

Dr. E. T. Wilson, Dr. M. E. Pettibone, R. N. Britnell, S. J. Weekes, C. E. Downey, S. A. Arnold, Fred Alberts, D. H. Clausen, W. C. Templeton, J. A. Miles, J. H. Meredith, Mike Johnson, C. E. Hall, W. E. Conklin, Chas. Pettijohn, E. D. Henry and C. B. Scott went down to Omaha last Wednesday morning where they put on the initiatory degree for the Odd Fellows before the members of the Grand Lodge Wednesday night. The degree team of the local lodge has the reputation of being one of the best in the state and it is quite an honor to the local lodge to be selected by the officers of the Grand Lodge to put on the work during the Grand Lodge session.

Hugh O'Neill Reminiscent.

Hugh O'Neill the sage of Anncar, was in town last Friday. In a chat with the editor Hugh became reminiscent and spoke of the great snow storm that struck this country on October 14, 1880. We remember the storm could not place the date, but Hugh is always long on dates. On the morning of October 15, 1880, the few people living in this county awoke to find the ground covered to a depth of about fourteen inches with snow. As nearly all the great potato crop of that year was still in the ground the people were greatly alarmed, for food was not as plentiful in them days as it is at the present time. Most of the snow, however, went off in a few days and the farmers were able to get their potatoes out, but the snow remained off the ground but a few days when it again fell in large quantities and remained on the ground until near the middle of the following April. That was the hardest winter ever known in this section and thousands of head of cattle died of starvation during the long dreary winter of 1880-1881, and many ranchmen, who were in fairly comfortable circumstances were reduced to poverty. The few farmers living in this vicinity that had corn sold it at $1.25 and $1.50 per bushel to stockmen living in the south country, but there was not sufficient of it that could be obtained to save the live stock industry of the county. Hugh says that if he lives two centuries he will never forget the winter of '80-81 and the hardships endured by the people of this county during that memorable winter.

Hog Prices Tumbling.

The hog market has been "shot to pieces" the past two days. Sensational breaking of 35 to 50 cents on the 100 weight took place Thursday in the value of hogs on the Chicago market. As quotations Wednesday showed a drop of 40 to 50 cents under the previous day's average, the smash in prices Thursday ranged from 75c @ $1 per 100 pounds, as compared with 48 hours before.

According to Edward A. LaBart, an official of Morris & Co., of Chicago, the extraordinary drop in values is largely the result of interference of Great Britain with the commerce of the United States with neutral European countries such as Denmark, Holland and Sweden. Although the over supply of hogs and the unusual crop conditions have cut considerable figure.

Mr. LaBart said:

"The fact was pointed out several weeks ago by the American packers that unless some action was taken by the United States the livestock business of this country would in a large measure go to ruin. Trade which found an outlet to neutral countries has been backing up in the United States and, apparently, if conditions are not radically changed, must continue to do so. The breaks in prices are only a forerunner of what can naturally be expected."

Obituary.

Mrs. R. A. Haskins (nee Dorothy Davidson) died at a hospital in Eagle Grove, Iowa, last Sunday of septemia, resulting from an operation for appendicitis. The remains were shipped to this city Monday, arriving Monday evening and the funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, interment in the Protestant cemetery.

Deceased was the daughter of Mrs. O. E. Davidson of this city and was born in O'Neill thirty-two years ago. She learned the printing trade here and left O'Neill some seven years ago and established a newspaper in Tripp county, which she successfully conducted for a few years. It was while engaged in the newspaper business that she met her future husband and they were married at Winner, S. D., in November, 1910. Shortly after their marriage they moved to Goldfield, Iowa, where they operated a moving picture show.

Mrs. Haskin visited at the home of her mother in this city this summer, returning home about five weeks ago. A couple of weeks after her return she was taken with appendicitis and was taken to the hospital at Eagle Grove, where an operation was performed.

Deceased leaves a husband and two small children, the eldest three years of age and the youngest nine months old, to mourn the death of a kind and loving wife and mother, besides her aged mother and several brothers and sisters.

John Davidson of Bonesteel, S. D., a brother of the deceased; Mrs. George Monk of Dodge county, Neb., sister, and Sam Hilligas and John Hilligas of Central City, Neb., uncle and cousin of the deceased were present at the funeral.

Uttley Cases Reversed.

Two of the cases of H. M. Uttley and M. T. Hiatt against the members of the County Board of Supervisors, that were dismissed by Judge Dickson in district court here last February and appealed to the supreme court have been reversed by that court and remanded with instructions.

These were the cases in which they sought to collect penalties from the county board for not making out salary claims according to law, and also for the recovery of some $3,000 alleged to have been paid by the county board to the precinct assessors for the year 1914, illegally and for the removal from office of three members of the board. Uttley and Hiatt made the county a plaintiff in this action and when the case came before the district court the county attorney filed a motion to dismiss the action, alleging that the county had no interest in the matter and that the county attorney was the proper person to bring an action, if one was brought. It was argued out on this point and the court sustained the contention of the county attorney and dismissed the action. The case was then appealed to the supreme court by Uttley and Hiatt.

The supreme court reverses this dismissal with instructions to permit

Uttley and Hiatt to amend the title of the case and make the county a party defendant, if they so desire. If this amendment is not made within a reasonable time the district court is instructed to dismiss the case at the cost of plaintiffs.

The case stands now practically as if it had never been before the court. Mr. Hiatt and Mr. Uttley can amend their petition and make the county a defendant, if they so desire, and have the case tried on its merits. The supreme court sustained the contention of the county attorney and the county was eliminated as a plaintiff in the action, but they can make it one of the defendants to the action, if they so wish.

MARRIED AT M. E. PARSONAGE.

County Attorney of Holt County Married Here Tuesday Afternoon.

Pierce Leader: At the M. E. church Tuesday, October 12, at 3 p. m., Miss E. Ruth Ayers of University Place, Neb., and Walter K. Hodgkin of O'Neill, county attorney of Holt county, were united in the bonds of holy wedlock, Rev. Henry Zinnecker, pastor of the M. E. church of Pierce, officiating. Miss Ayers was a member of a former charge Rev. Zinnecker served.

Accompanying the bride and bridegroom were Mrs. Mabel V. Ayres, mother of the bride, Ray Ayres, a brother, and Miss Edith A. Viele of Norfolk, a cousin of the bride. These young people expect to make their future home at O'Neill, after an extended wedding tour. We wish them much joy in their future journey through life.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodgkin are expected home this week and they will make their home in the beautiful residence in the western part of the city which the groom has just exected. The many friends of Walter in O'Neill and Holt

Weekly Weather Forecast.

With the exception of local rains Wednesday or Wednesday night in the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys, the weather will be generally fair during the week, although unsettled weather is again probable over the extreme northwest toward the end of the week. It will be somewhat cooler Wednesday in the northwest, and on Thursday in the upper Mississippi valley.

Chronic Constipation.

"About two years ago when I began using Chamberlain's Tablets I had been suffering for some time with stomach trouble and chronic constipation. Shoots at Ducks; Hits Companion.

Brandt Anson, who is just recovering from the recent explosion of the Ewing acetiline plant is able to be out. Last Thursday Banker Trommershauser thinking to give the convalescent a little recreation took him to one of Ewing's nearby lakes. Mr. Trommershauser planted himself on one side of the lake, while Mr. Anson located himself on the other side. Presently the ducks arrived and a shot from him announced not only their arrival but the fact that his shot had taken effect. Mr. Trommershauser in his barricade, it appeared, received the benefit of the charge and a red mark under the eye leaves no doubt of Mr. Anson's marksmanship. A BB. shot under the eyelid and numerous other shot in his face and neck leaves no doubt of the narrow escape of Mr. Trommershauser.

When Baby Has the Croup.

When a mother is awakened from sound sleep to find her child who has gone to bed apparently in the best of health struggling for breath, she is naturally alarmed. Yet if she can keep her presence of mind and give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy every ten minutes until vomiting is produced, quick relief will follow and the child will drop to sleep to awaken in the morning as well as ever. This remedy has been in use for many years with uniform success. Obtainable everywhere. 17-4
