The democrats elected a governor in Kentucky this fall by less than 300 majority. Can it be that the democratic solid south is disintegrating?

Champ Clark has pledged the president his support of the latters army and navy program. Naturally Champ would be in favor of the movement if Bryan opposed it, and vice-versa.

W. J. Bryan is opposed to Wilson's program of a larger army and navy and the consensus of opinion is that he will attempt to prevent the re-nomination of the president at the next democratic national convention.

President Wilson is now urgently advocating a greater army and navy and the plans of the administration call for the expenditure of ships and other war material and is being supported by a large portion of his party that was elected pledged to an economic administration.

A Republican Swing.

Fremont Tribune: There is not sufficient opportunity at Tuesday's election for much proof of the political trend of things. National issues were involved only to small extent. But such opportunity as was presented indicates a decisive swing republicanward. The outstanding feature was the disappearance of the Progressive party, which means the amalgamation of those forces with the republicans once more. In Massachusetts the state election was waged on national issues very largely, and for the first time in six years the republicans won a governor, at the same time increasing their strength in the legislature. Two additional members of congress were gained by them in New York and Pennsylvania, to fill vacancies. In New Jersey, the president's own state, gains were made in the legislature which has an overwhelming republican majority. The magic of the president's name doesn't seem to have much effect at home.

There is nothing to be gained by anyone deceiving himself, but it appears quite clear that the masses of the people are not enamored with this administration, which precipitated a panic when it came in and which got us uselessly into a bad mess in Mexico.

Upsets Apple Cart.

Lincoln News: William J. Bryan is the Peck's Bad Boy of American politics. Whenever he sees things going along smoothly, he devises some scheme, always effective, of disturbing harmony. It does not appear on the surface that he upsets apple carts because of an impish disposition, but there are uncounted numbers of democrats who believe that very same thing. The democrats of the nation have been trying their best to cover up one big division that exists in their midst and thought they had succeeded when the president, from a pacifist, had turned into a big army and navy man and then had blown cold on this proposition. They believed this would catch them coming and going, which is always the thing the politician is striving for. Along comes Bryan and remarks that this policy doesn't suit him and he will appeal to the people to see if they approve of his idea or that of the president. Then the gnashing of teeth begins and the newspapers take to hammering him as a man desirous of splitting the party. This national scrap is being reproduced in miniature here in the state, where the politicians are complaining bitterly because Bryan doesn't play the game according to the old rules. Splitting the party is a most heinous offense in the eyes of men who use a party for their own benefit, but the general public doesn't care a rap about it. It wants to know, who's right and what's right?

Horst in Another Auto Wreck.

Neligh Leader: As Leonard Horst, Tom Kent and Lew Lehr were returning from Petersburg with Earl Housch in a small car they struck the railing to the cement bridge just south of Elgin, tearing the iron railing off. The car turned completely over. Lehr, Kent and Horst were thrown out and Kent and Horst badly hurt. Housch clung to the wheel but was badly bruised. ### How to Prevent Croup.

It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Croup Remedy in the house, and when he began having that croupy cough I would give him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable." Obtainable everywhere. 21-4

Married, at the Catholic church, in this city, last Wednesday morning, Jacob A. Pfeiler of Hot Springs, S. D., and Miss Margaret Brennan of this city, Rev. M. F. Cassidy officiating.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony the bridal couple repaired to the palatial home of the bride's mother where a splendid wedding breakfast was served after which Mr. and Mrs. Pfeiler left on the Northwestern for an extended trip in the east, after which they will make their home at Hot Springs.

The groom is one of Hot Springs' leading business men and while he is a stranger to us, judging from what the bride is worthy of, he is a good and noble man.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Neil Brennan and is one of O'Neill's fairest young ladies. She was born and grew to womanhood in this city and now that she leaves to reside over her own home she carries with her the best wishes of all the people of this city for a long and happy life.

Tornado Hits Kansas.

Twelve persons were killed and more than 100 injured, many of them seriously, in a tornado which swept through the residence section of Great Bend, Kansas, last Wednesday night.

The property loss is estimated at half a million dollars. The city water plant, a laundry, three flouring mills, the Santa Fe depot and fifty residences were demolished. Santa Fe passenger train No. 5, narrowly escaped the path of the twister, which swept through the southern part of the city.

Several thousand sheep were killed, the animals being hurled into the air as the wind struck their feeding place. The city was in total darkness and without water supply.

Many of those injured were caught in their homes, which were picked up from their foundations and twisted and crushed into a mass of debris. Fire broke out in several of the houses, and as the city was without fire protection, they burned to the ground.

Walnut Creek, Moses Brothers and the Hulme companies were the three flour mills destroyed. In the structures several men working night shifts were killed.

A long line of freight cars were overturned by the twister when the Santa Fe depot crashed in.

A path three quarters of a mile long and several blocks in width, was cut through the residence district. Here the heaviest toll of life was exacted.

Summary of Week's News.

At Douglas, Arizona, last week Corp. Jones of Company G, Seventh Infantry, was shot through both thighs by a Carranza soldier, who leaped from his trench at Agua Prieta, shouting: "Viva Carranza," and fired six shots at Jones, who was on patrol duty near the boundry in the rear of the customs house. Jones is not seriously wounded. Gen. Villa delivered his long-expected attack on the Carranza garrison of Agua Prieta Monday, and within two hours after the first gun was fired machine bullets and shell fragments showered over American territory, seriously wounding Louis F. Taylor, an American, and endangering scores of American soldiers in trenches south of the United States Army camp, two miles east of Douglas.

Gen. Sauberzweig, military governor of Brussels, who is generally believed to have been responsible for the final refusal to grant the American minister's request for the postponement of the execution of Miss Edith Cavell, has been removed from office and a new military governor appointed. "It is noteworthy," the correspondent further says, "that last week the emperor made a tour of the principal towns in Belgium occupied by the Germans. His presence may be assumed to have resulted in the removal of Gen. Sauberzweig."

It is generally understood in Washington that Great Britain, France and Russia intend to extend recognition to Carranza in the same form as did the United States and at an early date.

At Washington Monday arrangements were made by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, to begin the drafting immediately of the series of bills which will be introduced at the opening of congress to carry out the army's part of the administration's national defense program. The senator had a conference with Secretary Garrison, who promised that officials of the War Department would give every possible aid in preparing the measures. Congress will be asked to appropriate $10,000,000 this year for the organized militia of the country, or just about double the average amount asked by the War Department for this purpose during the last few years.

At Duquoin, Ill., the wedding of Charles Bransfield, aged 83, and Mrs. Nancy Mexo, aged 79, both of Sandridge, has been announced. The two had been sweethearts before the war, but after a lovers' quarrel parted. Bransfield served through the war with Confederate troops and later came to Murphysboro. The couple renewed their old friendship and the wedding followed.

In Washington official announcement has been made that the marriage of President Wilson and Mrs. Galt will take place "near the close of December," and that it will be private at Mrs. Galt's home there. The statement was issued by Secretary Tumulty: "In order to quiet speculation, President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt today authorized the announcement that their marriage will take place near the close of December. Their plans are for a simple ceremony. It will be performed at Mrs. Galt's residence. No invitations will be issued, and it is expected that the only guests will be the members of the families."

Upon the complaint of cook in a Bisbee (Ariz.) restaurant, the United States Supreme Court in Washington Monday annulled as unconstitutional the Arizona alien labor law enacted into law about a year ago by the vote of the people under the initiative process of legislation. The statute required employers of more than five persons to employ not less than 80 per cent qualified electors or citizens. Mike Raich, an Austrian cook, upon being notified that he would be discharged because of the law, appealed to the courts and when he won the state took the case to the highest tribunal.

"It has been learned from trustworthy but unofficial sources," says a dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from the Hague, "that at a recent conference in Amsterdam, which was attended by several members of the Reichstag, one of the members stated that Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial German chancellor, had declared that Germany was inclined to conclude peace on the basis of the cession to Germany of Belgium and the Meuse Line, the cession of Courland and the payment of an indemnity of 30,000,000,000 marks ($7,500,000,000).
