New Bank Opens at Chambers.
Chambers Bugle: J. T. Pickard and D. L. Johnston, both of Omaha, arrived in Chambers Monday to attend the first annual meeting of the stockholders of the South Fork State bank and to oversee the opening of the bank for business.

Some delay in opening for business was caused by the failure of the railroad to deliver the safe and fixtures promptly. Monday and Tuesday were devoted to installing the fixtures and the bank began business Wednesday, January 12, 1916.

It is but fair to say that both Mr. Pickard and Mr. Johnston as well as the cashier, C. E. Harden, have all had experience in banking.

Mr. Pickard began his banking experience in Illinois sixteen years ago. After learning the business he was cashier for seven years at Toluca, Ill. Having sold his interests in Illinois he bought controlling interest in a bank at Mason City, Iowa, and ran that for some years when he sold out his interest there and moved to Omaha. He now owns a large part of the capital of the Bank of Benson, a suburb of Omaha. This is a most successful and growing institution.

Mr. Johnston, after having been admitted to the bar, entered the St. Paul National bank at St. Paul, Neb., in 1887, in which institution he was assistant cashier. He says he worked in a bank in order that he might learn the business for helping him in law. In 1880 Mr. Johnston moved to Omaha where he has since resided and practiced his profession. Most of his practice has been for banks. For the last twenty years he was one of the attorneys for the Omaha National bank, the largest bank in the state. He has had many cases for other banks in Omaha and elsewhere.

Date your Sales with me. Satisfaction Guaranteed. Six years actual experience.

Reference: Any bank in Filmore county, where I resided before coming to O'Neill.

Mr. Harden graduated at the Fremont Normal school, specializing in banking. He began his active banking experience in the Live Stock National bank at South Omaha, learning methods of business in the city and especially at the stock yards. He was next in the Glenwood State bank at Glenwood, Iowa, where he was assistant cashier for two years and four months.

R. J. Starr, president; J. H. Simpson, vice president; William Lell, C. H. Stowell and Dr. E. J. Oxford, the other stockholders, are too well and favorably known to need an introduction from us.

A large part of the expense of the building and fixtures was paid by the stockholders, in addition to the capital stock, which was all paid in cash.

All the parties interested say they expect to do a careful and conservative business.

Death of W. R. Lewis.

William Reece Lewis was born in La Salle County, Illinois, August 31, 1847. In January 1877 he was united in marriage with Flora D. Hite; and in 1880 they came to Cass county, Nebraska, near Bushberry. Ten years later he heard the call of God saying "Follow Me," and ever since then he has been a faithful follower of the Lord.

In the fall of 1913 they came to O'Neill, Holt County, Nebraska, where he has lived till God took him on January 8, 1916.

He leaves to mourn and wait for that great day when families shall be reunited, a loving and devoted wife, and two daughters, Mrs. Viola Maude Dimmitt, and Mrs. Alice Elray Eidenmiller, both of O'Neill, Nebraska, and six grandchildren.

"What must it be to fall asleep at night, And wake at dawn in paradise fair light? What must it be to look with wondering eyes Upon the glory of the heavenly skies? What must it be in mornings radiant dawn To greet with rapturous joy our loved ones gone? And oh what bliss to feel God's perfect peace, When earthly care, and pain, and sorrow cease. With heavy hearts and souls by grief made dull, We mourn for those whose cup of joy is full, We miss each dear presence every hour, Their love was to our hearts like some sweet flower. Thank God, in Paradise love grows no less, But fuller in its holier blessedness. Thank God that in the everlasting years, There are no partings and no bitter tears, Oh! saints at rest, your joyful peace is deep, For so he giveth his beloved sleep." Laid to rest in the Elmwood Cemetery at Elmwood, Nebraska, from the M. E. Church. ***

Murphy-Geis.

Married, at the Catholic church in this city last Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock, Joseph Murphy and Miss Clara Geis, Rev. Father Ballou officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Geis, who live just north of this city and is a very charming young lady with many graces and accomplishments and who has a host of friends in this city and vicinity.

The groom, Joseph Murphy, is one of O'Neill hustling young business men. That he is a hustler was evidenced last fall when he went after and won the automobile given away by The Frontier. It takes energy, hustle and push to make a success in this world and Joe promises to make his mark in the business world. He is a young man of good habits and has a host of friends, not only in O'Neill but throughout the county.

The young couple, after an eastern honeymoon trip, will go to Wyoming, where they will take up their residence upon the farm of the groom, and the best wishes of a host of Holt county friends will accompany them, including The Frontier force.

Kola Items.

Dr. Oxford of Chambers was called to the home of Loyd Benjamin last Sunday, Mrs. Benjamin being quite ill; and on his way returning home, stopped to visit his patients at Thos. Baxter, Evert Lee, and J. P. Kennedy.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Kellogge returned home from a two month's visit in western Iowa and eastern Nebraska.

Mrs. J. P. Kennedy contemplates started a hospital she says as soon as their "wash room" is finished. "Hot air" and "Rub me more" are her treatments.

Master Milton Pfund returned home after visiting with his brother, Jacob and wife, during the Holidays, at Norfolk, Nebraska.

The City Council of Kola at their last meeting resolved to build an electric railroad through their city. Can you beat that Amelia's?

J. L. Quig of O'Neill and two land buyers from Iowa visited this part of the country last week.

Twenty-nine below Tuesday night and 27 Wednesday night made old timers sit up and take notice.

Rev. M. F. Cassidy went to Omaha Tuesday to attend the funeral of Bishop Scannell, who died in that city Monday, after a short illness of pneumonia.

The city officials have put a day policeman on and part of his duties will be to see that all walks and crossings are kept free from snow and ice. A very good move.

You've hit the right tobacco

when you fire-up some Prince Albert in your old jimmy pipe or in a makin's cigarette. And you know it! Can't get in wrong with P. A. for it is made right; made to spread-smoke-sunshine among men who have suffered with scorched tongues and parched throats! The patented process fixes that—and cuts out bite and parch. All day long you'll sing how glad you are you're pals with

It's an easy job to change the shape and color of unsalable brands to imitate the Prince Albert tudy red tin, but it is impossible to imitate the flavor of Prince Albert tobacco! The patented process protects that!

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

You take this testimony straight from the shoulder, men. You can smoke a barrel of P. A. without a kick! It hands out all the tobacco happiness any man ever dreamed about, it's so smooth and friendly. It's a mighty cheerful thing to be on talking-terms with your pipe and your tongue at the same time—but that's what's coming to you sure as you pin your faith to Prince Albert!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Everywhere tobacco is sold you'll find Prince Albert awaiting your cheerful visit. Buy it in tippy red bags, 5c; tudy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound humidor—and—in that classy pound crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco so fit!
