John A. Robertson has filed for re-nomination as the democratic candidate for state senator from the Twenty-fourth district, which he has represented in the senate the past two sessions. It is rumored that J. D. Lee, who represented this district in 1911, and who is a resident of Boyd county, will also file for the democratic nomination.

Fred Richter, one of the old-time and prosperous farmers of Scottville precinct, was a caller at this office last Saturday and had his name added to The Frontier's rapidly growing subscription list. Mr. Richter desired to keep posted upon the happenings in old Holt and deemed the best way to do so was through the columns of The Frontier.

Miss Eunice Healey came in on No. 1 Wednesday evening from Kansas City, Mo., where she has been visiting friends the past three weeks. She came in response to a telegram announcing her the lucky one in the contest for the position of pianist at the Star Electric theatre. This speaks well for her ability to deliver the goods, as there were a number of local contestants in the field.

William Wells of Red Bird was a pleasant caller at this office last Friday morning and left the necessary "mazzuma" to extend his subscription to this household necessity. Mr. Wells came over for a casket, his mother having passed away the evening before. He said that the bridge across the river north of Red Bird was in such condition that they could not cross to get to Lynch, so he had to come to this city.

John Chmeler left last Monday morning for Lincoln, where he has accepted a position on the road for a Lincoln shoe firm. His many friends in this city wish him prosperity in his new line of work.

Ivan Bain came down from Springview last Sunday morning and spent a couple of days visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bain, northeast of this city. Mr. Bain says that the ice in the Niobrara river raised "ned" with the bridges in that section. He said that the only two bridges that were left intact were the two state aid bridges that were built between that county and Rock. He said the ice piled up on top of these two bridges but that they withstood the attack, proving conclusively that cement bridges well constructed are the cheapest in the long run.

Dan Cameron met with a painful and what might have been a serious accident last Friday evening. While walking up Fourth street from the post office the wind suddenly raised and took a sign, which was standing at the corner of the Nebraska State bank building, into the air and the sign struck Mr. Cameron on the forehead and knocked him to the walk unconscious. He was picked up and taken to a physicians office and then home. He received a very hard blow on the head and was unconscious about all night, in fact did not come right to himself for about four days. We understand he was sitting up today and will probably be all right in a few days. The sign on the street is now securely fastened.

Mrs. Fanny Wells, aged 65 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Darr at Red Bird last Thursday evening, after an illness of about one year, of heart trouble. The funeral was held at Red Bird last Saturday morning. Deceased came to Holt county about fourteen years ago; about nine years ago she moved to Dixon, S. D., and made her home for about eight years with her son, Charles, returning to this county about a year ago and taking up her residence with her daughter, with whom she lived up to the time of her death. She leaves four children to mourn the death of a kind and loving mother. The children are: Nancy Wells, of Washington; Charles Wells, of Dixon, S. D.; Mrs. Frank Darr and William Wells of Red Bird.

Deputy Sheriff Brittel was called to Phoenix last Sunday where he held an inquest on the body of George Lampheir, one of the pioneers of Saratoga township, who committed suicide last Sunday morning, by cutting his throat. Mr. Lampheir rose Sunday morning before the rest of the family, took a razor and cut his throat while standing in the kitchen. Then he walked to the barn and slashed himself a couple of times more, almost severing the head from the body. His body was found by his son-in-law, Dave Anderson, who with his wife made his home with Mr. Lampheir. No apparent cause for the act has been ascertained, but it is supposed that he suddenly lost his mind. About ten years ago he was afflicted with mental trouble and spent a few months in the insane asylum. He leaves a wife and several married daughters and one son, Dave Lampheir, who lives in Montana.

It pays to advertise. A week ago a notice was inserted in The Frontier calling a meeting of the O'Neillites who were interested in the golf club for the Golden Hotel Thursday evening. The prospective members were urged to attend and bring a few ideas with them. They attended and also brought along ideas and the result was one of the most interesting meetings that has been held in this city for a good many days. The great scrap came upon the adoption of the constitution and by-laws for the organization; the main scrap hinging upon the question as to who should be compelled to pay dues and membership fees; whether the members of the fair sex would be permitted to enjoy the benefits of the club grounds without the necessity of joining the club and paying monthly dues or whether they should be taxed for their membership. The line up on the question showed the married men favoring the payment of dues by all who wished to join the club, the fees for the ladies being half that to be paid by the men; while the single men were "strong" for the ladies and they wished them to be permitted the use of the grounds without fee or price. Several strong arguments were put up by the young fellows in support of their position, but there were too many married men present and the young folks were defeated and the regulations as adopted provide that ladies as well as men will have to pay membership fees and dues. Judging from the meeting the chances are that at the next regular meeting the rule will be amended so as to allow the ladies the use of the grounds without the necessity of paying membership fees or dues.

"This Is The Life."
The management of the K. C. Opera House takes pleasure in announcing the coming of one of the latest and best musical comedies, which will appear at the K. C. Opera House on Thursday, March 9. "This is the Life," promises to exceed the laughter limit with its clean, bright, wholesome comedy. It has been many years since the theatre-going public have had an opportunity to witness a musical comedy of this kind. Halton Powers considered to be one of the largest producers of musical comedies in the West, has spared no expense in launching this organization, selecting the best to uphold his years of reputation. The cast, which has been carefully selected, are well known to musical comedy lovers, having appeared in the larger cities with well-known productions. The chorus of young and pretty maidens sing and dance gracefully. Mr. Powell's brand of "girls" shows has never failed to please the most critical audience, because he is quick to anticipate the public wants and never disappoints.

"THIS IS THE LIFE" which will appear here for the first time comes well recommended and judging from the newspaper criticisms of other large cities it will be the best musical comedy that will play here this season. The scenic production is carried complete and the costumes are said to be magnificent. It is safe to say that you will not go wrong when you witness "This is the Life."

Chris Christenson, formerly butter-maker for the McGinnis Creamery of this city, left Monday morning for Alberta, Canada, where he will engage in the creamery business.
