McKELVIE FOR GOVERNOR.

A Nebraska Product.
Not only was S. R. McKelvie, candidate for governor, born and educated in Nebraska, but he was reared upon a farm. Sam McKelvie, the pioneer oldland China breeder of Nebraska, resided in Clay county in an early day.

and his success as a breeder of pure red stock is recognized throughout the corn belt. He still lives upon and operates the original farm. Samuel is one of the sons who lived upon the farm until of age, and the training received then is one of the things which makes him worthy the title The Popular Candidate.

MORE LOCAL MATTERS.
That a liberal expenditure for public advertising pays was again demonstrated at the sale of the property of the late Thomas Atkinson of Swan last Tuesday. This sale was well advertised in the newspapers of the county and the property sold for $2,000 more than it was appraised for. One of the largest crowds that has attended a public sale in the south country for years was present and bidding was very lively. If you contemplate having a sale do not stint your advertising; it will pay you too fold, as has been demonstrated several times.

The members of the Holt County Game and Fish Protective Association held their second crowd hunt last Sunday. The boys say they had a splendid hunt and succeeded in bagging seventy crows. Tuesday evening the losing side tendered the winners a banquet at the Western Hotel and it is said to have been one of the swellest events pulled off in the city for years. The feed was exceptionally good; the oratory, cigars and "lemonade" of proper strength and richness and everyone had a delightful time. Some of those who participated are anxious to organize another crowd hunt.

Antone Svisend, one of the pioneer and prosperous farmers of Willowdale township, died at his home eighteen miles northeast of this city last Tuesday night, after an illness of ten days of pneumonia. Mr. Svisend was in O'Neill about four weeks ago and at that time was enjoying the best of health. He was seized with an attack of the grippe, which turned into pneumonia. He was a splendid citizen and a lovable man. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn the death of a kind and loving husband and father and they have the sympathy of a host of friends in their hour of sorrow.

William Carson was in from his ranch near Dorsey last Monday and had this office turn out bills for a public sale which he will hold on Tuesday, March 21st. Mr. Carson decided to retire from farm work for a while and decided to close out his personal property at public sale. He was accompanied to this city by his father-in-law, Edward Turner of DeWitt, Neb., who has been visiting at the Carson home and the home of John Brady of Dorsey, another son-in-law, for the past two months. Mr. Turner visited this county twenty-seven years ago and said he did not think it possible for a country to change so much in that length of time as this country has. He now believes we have one of the garden spots of the state. Mr. Turner represented Saline county in the state senate in the famous pop session of 1901 and can tell many amusing tales and incidents of that session.

T. N. J. Hynes, who was one of the original settlers of the colony that founded O'Neill and who lived here for many years, arrived in the city last Monday morning for a few days visit

THE ARM OF A SETTEE

It was hollow. In cleaning house mother discovered it. She thought it was a good place to keep her money. She gathered together $150 in bills and hid them in the hollow of the arm of the old settee. The other day she went to add some more bills to them, when she found mice had made a nest of her $150. The Bank is a good place to "hide" your money. It is safe—and so is your money.

with relatives and old-time friends. Mr. Hynes has been a resident of Oregon for the past two and a half years, where his daughter, Mrs. Gilg, now resides. Last November he was struck by a street car near Chehalis, Washington, and was severely injured, in fact having been given up by four of the best physicians in that section of the country. In his contact with the street car he sustained a fracture of the left arm, one of the hip and of the left leg and at his advanced age, 74 years, it was not thought possible that he could recover. But his hardy constitution withstood the attack and he is now apparently as well as ever. Mr. Hynes says that the seven weeks he put in on his back in the hospital was the hardest work he ever done. Mr. Hynes will visit relatives and friends here for a few days and will then go to Valentine, where he will spend a few months visiting with his son and daughter.

The Court of Last Resort.
Around the stove of the cross roads grocery is the real court of last resort, for it finally over-rules all others. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been brought before this court in almost every cross roads grocery in this country, and has always received a favorable verdict. It is in the country where man expects to receive full value for his money that this remedy is most appreciated. Obtainable everywhere. 38-5 performed the ceremony. Mrs. Leo Hoffman played the wedding march. The bride wore a violet silk suit, with large black hat and corsage of orchids and lillies of the valley. Mrs. Clarence Parker, matron of honor, wore a lavender silk suit and black hat. Her corsage was of violets and Mrs. Ward roses. Dinner was served at the home of the groom's brother, Dr. T. J. Dwyer, and Mrs. Dwyer. Dr. and Mrs. John Dwyer left for the east, and after April 1, will be at home at the Harvard. Dr. John Dwyer has been associated in practice with his brother, Dr. T. J. Dwyer, for some time, and has also built up a considerable practice of his own. Dr. and Mrs. Dwyer have the best wishes of many friends in their future welfare.

Dr. Dwyer is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dwyer of this city and his many O'Neill friend tender congratulation and good wishes.

Gleanings.
Gus and Will Brentson each took a load of hogs to town for Walter Downing on the last day of February. The best time to buy thermometers is in the winter time when they are low.

F. A. Hatch was helping Colmer Simonson a few days last week. Two weeks ago, ye scribe heard meadow larks and prairie chickens. They are strangely quiet now.

W. S. Roberts returned February 27 from his visit in Iowa. His voice sounds as cheerful as ever. Our thermometer registered four below on the 2nd.

It has been quite a number of years since most farmers in the county quit raising spring wheat. You ask any one of them why he quit and he will tell you it don't pay. Now as a matter of fact, wheat requires a certain amount of lime in the soil, or it will not do well. As wheat raising exhausts the lime that nature put there, it stands to reason that the farmer must supply his land that he wishes to grow wheat on, with more lime, if he wants to get a paying crop. Need I say more?

Miss Ott held an examination of high school candidates last Thursday and Friday. The candidates were: Pauline Roberts, Martha and Helen Wiedtfeldt, Lloyd Whaley and Vivian Wrede. I have not learned the result of the examination yet.

I did say I wouldn't, but I will try my luck again in the weather forecasting line. For the balance of March the weather will be more or less stormy, with plenty of high winds. My calculations are based on the phases of the moon for the month, and should they prove correct, will give the readers a forecast for April, after the 5th of that month.

It is rumored that Awalt Spangler is going to get him a car this spring. We are glad to see him have one, as he needs it as bad as any one, and has surely earned it in good work faithfully done.

Dug Robinson and family have rented the Frost ranch and have moved on the same.

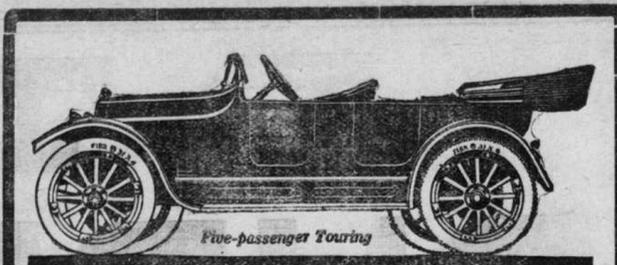

Walter Downing is thinking some of investing in either a car or motor truck this spring. A motor truck would surely pay him big, on account of the distance he has to freight his goods.

Ye scribe was out circulating among his neighbors last week, and noticed with some surprise, that no one whom we talked with on the subject, had noticed the notice of the county board in last week's Frontier, calling a special election to be held in the regular polling places in each precinct of the county on the proposition of bonding the county in the sum of $100,000 to raise funds to replace bridges on various streams in the county which have been taken out by high water, within the last two or three years. The bridges are certainly needed, and as that is the only way in which they can be had, so it seems to me that the duty of the tax payers who wish for better crossing facilities across the creek is clear.

The question of good roads is another thing closely related to good bridges on streams, as no road is any better than its worst spot. In this respect, the county could employ a county engineer at a reasonable figure, who would take charge of all road work in the county and all work done under his supervision should be productive of the best results.

He could also cooperate with the federal authorities, who are to begin this year on a road running between O'Neill and Chambers. The county engineer has put the roads in tip top condition in other counties where he has been employed. Why not here?

American Troops in Mexico.
Several thousand American troops, under the leadership of General Pershing have entered Mexico and will attempt to capture Villa, either dead or alive and break up the band of brigands that he is surrounded with. The attack on Columbus, New Mexico, has ended the policy of "peaceful watching."
According to advices from Washington all the regular soldiers, except 8,000 men, will go into Mexico and take up the chase of the bandits.
