Earl D. Mallory of Alliance, has defeated Gene Westerfelt of Scotts Bluff for district delegate to the national republican convention. According to the revised returns his lead is 155 votes. W. C. May of Gothenberg is the other delegate.

The clothing manufacturers are to be next to add to the miseries of existence during a world's war. With the excuse that on account of the war it is impossible to procure dyes and "shoddy" or cheap woolen materials the announcement is made that suit patterns are to be advanced $5 per to the retailer for full suits.

The state of Washington is talking of sending Bryan as delegate to the national convention as a SILENT rebuke to the Nebraska Democracy. It can't be done. He "aint no such animal." The next thing we hear Henry Ford will be selecting Roosevelt as chairman of his permanent peace commission.

Hon. James Douglas of Bassett, former member of the legislature from the Fifty-fourth district and prominent in legal circles in this section of the state, has become a resident of Omaha. Mr. Douglas has purchased a residence in Dundee, the piety suburb of the metropolis. He will engage in the practice of law at Omaha.

On the settlement of the votes cast at the recent primaries in Holt county D. H. Cronin, republican nominee for representative, drew the socialist nomination for the same position. B. Mossman, republican nominee for county assessor, was awarded the prohibition nomination for assessor, and B. T. Winchell, democratic nominee, captured the socialist nomination.

Unofficial returns from Douglas county apparently hand the plum to Chairman Henry Clarke of the state railway commission as republican nominee to succeed himself. Ex-Senator Charles Randall of Newman Grove was in the lead until an error in the unofficial returns of the city of Omaha was discovered in the official count. This gives Mr. Clarke a lead over all of about six hundred.

W. J. Bryan has succeeded in landing as a delegate to the national democratic convention, or rather as an alternate. Kind friends to the extent of eighteen wrote his name in on the ballot as alternate. In mixing the doze on delegates-at-large it is apparent; that the strategists on both sides overlooked something. Now it is up to Billy Thompson of Grand Island to step aside and let Mr. Bryan do the officiating and "orating." However, Mr. Thompson is accustomed to being a water carrier.

Whooping Cough.
"When my daughter had whooping cough she coughed so hard at one time that she had hemorrhage of the lungs. I was terribly alarmed about her condition. Seeing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so highly recommended, I got her a bottle and it relieved the cough at once. Before she had finished two bottles of this remedy she was entirely well." writes Mrs. S. F. Grimes, Crooksville, Ohio. Obtainable everywhere. 474

Geo. Reeve Dies On Homestead.
Inman Leader: Ernest Archer, a nephew of Geo. Reeve, was in Inman last week on his way home to Tekamah, Neb., from Rozet, Wyoming, where he had been to attend the funeral of Geo. Reeve, who died on a homestead near Rozet about a week ago. Mr. Reeve was a resident of Inman about four years ago. While here he roomed in the second story of the Clark building (now occupied by the Goree store) and getting up in the night he fell through an opening in the floor, sustaining injuries that rendered him a cripple for life. For a number of years he was under a guardian and lived at the Merchants hotel at O'Neill. About a year ago he was

Wants to See You

When you want to buy a shirt come to me. If you want a fifteen buy a fifteen, it will fit. My shirts are good stuff and full measure and the price is right. You may buy shirts cheaper, but they are only collars with sleeves on. When I sell you a shirt I give you a shirt—not a collar.

If I take a notion and move this store to some other town there is going to be a lot of you people kicking yourselves for not taking advantage of a good thing when you had it.

You were all hollering for a good Cash dry goods and grocery store and now you got it. If I wasn't cutting the stuffing out of prices what are all the storekeepers in O'Neill hollering their heads off for?

Before we got the Golden Hotel every cheap traveling man that came to town was kicking on stopping at O'Neill. As soon as we got the Golden Hotel finished they would drive all night to get a bed for a quarter. When you have a good thing push it along.

The principal reason that prices are going higher is he people demand them. If they are used to paying 25c per package for Postum they couldn't drink it if they bought it for 20c. When eggs are 30 and 40c per dozen everyone wants eggs. When they are 20c, nobody wants them. They don't taste as good.

When leather started going up all the women wanted 10 inch booties. Manufacturers knew this and are fixing the prices to suit this class of trade.

My store is not located right to catch the Suckers. I have to sell the goods at the prices that will get the business from the people who demand their money's worth.

released from guardianship and later went to Wyoming where he took a homestead. He was a single man about sixty years old. He was buried at Rozet.

O'Neill As A Dairy Center
More than half a million dollars paid out for cream and dairy products in O'Neill last year by the local buyers and into the pockets of Holt county farmers.
How's that for a county and a community classed but a few years ago as part of the great American desert?
Sixty-one thousand cans of cream were shipped from O'Neill alone the last twelve months, according to the publicity statistician of the North Western line in dilating on the north and west part of the state a few days ago.
But the word painter didn't go quite far enough. If he hand't been afraid of offending some of the other towns

THE YOUNG MARRIED

Every time you waste a dollar you are doing something more than spending a dollar. You are spending your future home. Every time you place a dollar in your Bank Account here you bring your own home that much nearer to you. Just as that home will be built brick by brick, or board by board, just so you must build up your Bank Account dollar by dollar.

along the line he might have mentioned a little item of 400,000 pounds of butter also shipped out of here and consumed by those who do not care for oleomargarine, to away back east as far as Tonawanda, N. Y., and as far west as Lander, Wyoming. Also the from eighty to two hundred gallons of O'Neill ice cream that those in the more immediate vicinity of this geographical center of the world insist on having each day.

Incidentally it is estimated by expert mathematicians that the eggs laid by Holt county hens and shipped out of O'Neill in the course of twelve months, if made into an omelet the width of a railroad track, and not too thick, would cover the track from here to Fremont. But this isn't a story about eggs.

A close approximate estimate of the money paid to the farmers in the territory served by O'Neill, for cream and milk alone, the last twelve months is $532,500, by the three principal O'Neill buyers and their agents. And the amount is increasing each month as compared with the same month of last year.

This is an indication, says General Manager Driggs of the McGinnis Creamery Company, that dairying is becoming more and more an industry in the county, and a doubling of this amount within the next few years is predicted by the optimists.

Cream prices vary of course with the butter market, but at present are around thirty cents per pound for butter fat in sour cream at the country stations, to thirty-two and thirty-three at O'Neill, with thirty-six cents for sweet cream used in ice cream making. All O'Neill ice cream is made from pure sweet cream and milk.

"We paid out $75,000 for cream in O'Neill alone, last year," said Mr. Driggs. "Among some of our other items of expenditure were more than $9,000 for salaries and wages, a like amount for fuel and $6,000 for miscellaneous supplies, such as creamery packages, packing cases, etc. About $7,000 more went for sweet cream for our ice cream."

O'Neill-Chambers Road Laid Out.

The definite route of the O'Neill-Chambers road has been established by the county board of supervisors, after an inspection of the several proposed routes.

The final route was decided upon Wednesday, after the board, accompanied by Government Road Engineer James C. Wonders of Washington, D. C., and Mayor

Dishner, had viewed all of the proposed ones.

Starting at the correction line south of O'Neill the new road will run south for six miles, then west two miles, then south eight miles, west two miles south two miles and west one mile.

This morning Mr. Wonders and County Surveyor Norton started the preliminary survey of the road, to ascertain the necessary grades, fills, etc., for the purpose of making an estimate of the cost. When this is completed the board will advertise for bids for construction.

Mr. and Mrs. Wonder arrived in the city Monday evening and are at the Golden hotel. They will remain during the construction of the road, which Mr. Wonder will superintend. Mr. Wonder has just completed the construction of a two million dollar highway in Missouri.

PREPAREDNESS

The mighty forces at work, devastating and depopulating countries across the sea, have left thier imprint on the minds of thinking people throughout the civilized world.

Individuals as well as Nations realize, as never before, the gravity of delay in matters related to protection of life and property.

It is an appropriate time to emphasize the importance of preparedness in every day affairs; the making ready for the unexpected events, which so frequently deplete the fortunes and change the course of life of thoughtless and unsuspecting folk.

Accumulating money, is preparedness for the day when labor is both burdensome and profitless—provided the funds are placed in a depository that affords absolute protection from external and internal agencies. Such protection is available to all depositors in Nebraska State Banks.

Fortunately Bank failures are in frequent, yet preparedness—protection against such an unfortunate incident—is good policy—a wise precaution.

Depositors in Nebraska State Bank are protected by the Guaranty Fund of the State of Nebraska, which now amounts to more than one million dollars.
