MORE LOCAL MATTERS.

Spencer Advocate: J. J. McCafferty was over from O'Neill Wednesday on business.

Miss Lola Rockwell arrived in the city last night for a short visit with her sister, Mrs. H. J. Boyle.

Spencer Advocate: E. M. Merriman and his wife were over from O'Neill Sunday visiting at the Wm. Arrison home.

Last Tuesday Abe Saunto purchased from Charles Scott the latter's property on Douglas street, between Gilligan & Stout's store and Saunto's store. Mr. Saunto says that it is his intention to build a modern store room on the lots purchased. He has now a frontage of 67 feet on Douglas street and expects, either this fall or next spring, to commence the erection of a modern store building on the lots recently purchased.

S. J. Weekes, Ed. F. Gallagher, Jack Sullivan and J. F. O'Donnell went up to Gordon last Monday night to attend the annual convention of the Bankers' Association of this district. Mr. Weekes being president of the Association. They returned home this morning and say they had an enjoyable time. An Indian congress is in session there this week and many amusing stunts were pulled off by the Indians for the amusement of the bankers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Golden returned Wednesday morning from Bayard, Neb., where they had been attending the golden wedding anniversary of Mrs. Golden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrow, formerly of Atkinson. Parnell says that Scotts Bluffs is growing faster than any other section of Nebraska. It is in the great irrigation country and land is high priced and those who own land are receiving splendid returns upon the money invested.

Milo Taylor, who has been editor of the Page Reporter for the past two years, was in the city last Tuesday afternoon. He left on the west bound passenger that afternoon for Ashton, Idaho, where he will make his future home. Prior to leaving Mr. Taylor favored this office with a short call and ordered The Frontier sent to his address for the ensuing year so that he could keep posted upon the happenings in this section of the state. Mr. Taylor is a good newspaper man and a clean and likeable young fellow and The Frontier wishes for him happiness and prosperity in his new home.

John E. Schindler has filed suit in the district court asking for judgment against the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Company for $273.35, damages alleged to have been sustained in the shipment of nine head of cattle from Newport to Lincoln in February of this year. He alleges that on February 18, 1916, he loaded nine head of cattle in a car at Newport for transportation to Lincoln. That in the shipment the railroad company took 27 hours and 21 minutes longer than it should have taken and that by reason of the delay in transporting them he was damaged in the sum of $273.35, for which he asks judgment.

A suit for damages growing out of the renting of a farm occupied the attention of the county court two days the first of the week. The case was that of O. P. Chase vs. Floyd Crawford. It appears from the petition that in the spring of 1915 Chase rented a half section of land to Crawford. Crawford planted 40 acres to oats and 200 acres to corn. Chase was to receive one-third of the crop raised. He alleged that Crawford failed to properly care for the corn and allowed his stock and the stock of others to run in the field and greatly injured the crop, and that although his share was to be delivered he was compelled to haul about 500 bushels of his share of the corn himself, which was worth $20. Prior to the trial of the suit Crawford made a tender of $20 and agreed to pay all the costs up to that time. The case was tried to the court and a verdict was rendered for $20, the amount the defendant had agreed to confess judgment for.

Young-Rouse.

Married, at the home of the bride's parents in O'Neill, Nebraska, at high noon, on Thursday, May 18, Mr. Guy Earnest Young and Miss Edith Margaret Rouse; Rev. George Bressler officiating.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Rouse, pioneer residents of the Leonia neighborhood. She is a young lady of estimable qualities, highly esteemed by all who know her and for several years has been numbered among Holt County's best teachers.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Young of Opportunity, old-time settlers of the Mineola country and has grown to manhood in this county.

The bride wore a gown of beautiful white silk messaline, while the groom was attired in the conventional black.

The wedding party took their places under an arch of pink and white descending the stairway to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March played by Mrs. Roy M. Young.

Only immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. The young people were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents.

They will go to housekeeping on a farm two miles south of Opportunity.

School Boy Drowned.

Clon Bressler, aged 16, was drowned in the Elkhorn river, near the mud bridge, about three miles east of this city at about 2 o'clock this afternoon, the body being recovered about 4 o'clock.

Clon Bressler was a member of the seventh grade in the O'Neill public schools and it has been the custom for the past few years for the teachers to give a picnic for the pupils. This morning the members of the seventh and eighth grades, forty-two in number, chaperoned by their teachers, left on their annual picnic. There were two hay rack loads of the young folks and they were feeling good over the prospect of a lovely day free from lessons and with nothing to do but enjoy themselves. They stopped in the Gallagher pasture, south of the Northwestern track, near the mud bridge. After lunch some of the boys desired to go in swimming and they went up the stream around the bend and went in. We understand that Bressler could not swim but was assured by some of the others that they would teach him, so four of them went in swimming. Near where the boys went in the river cuts around a bend and the rush of the current has cut out a deep hole and it is said that on that side of the river the water is twelve or fourteen feet deep. Shortly after going in Bressler sank and called for help. Edwin Shaughnessey, aged 17, who was one of the boys who went in with him, went to his rescue and succeeded in getting him to some willows that grew along the bank, where he was told to hang on until help could be secured. The effort made by Shaughnessey in getting Bressler to the willows exhausted him and he had a hard time getting out himself. Whether Bressler got cramps and was compelled to let go of the willows, or whether he was so exhausted that he could hold on no longer will probably never be known, as no one seen him when he sank.

One of the boys went over to Pat Barrett's and telephoned to this city and a large crowd was soon on the scene. After about an hour's search the body was found on a sand bar, in about three feet of water, about 200 feet east of where he was last seen. Physicians were present and they labored for a half hour in trying to resuscitate him, but to no avail, as he was dead when taken from the water. Shaughnessey was also in bad shape when the physicians arrived, as he was hysterical and had to have medical attention.

Deceased was the son of Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Bressler, who formerly lived near Leonia, but who now live on the Minton place just north of this city. They have the heartfelt sympathy of the people of this city in their hour of sorrow.

The Panama-Pacific Judges awarded the Highest Honor and Gold Medal to Hoosier because of its Superior Construction and Unrivaled Convenience.

Hoosier's Shake Flour Sifter makes flour fluffy and light; works faster than most sifters; avoids grit or broken wire; can't wear out.

Hoosier's Double-Acting Sugar Bin is the only bin from which sugar can be taken with equal ease from top or bottom. It has three times the capacity of most bins.

These are only two of the many prize-winning features. Come see them all demonstrated at our store tomorrow. Please come in the morning if possible—for the Saturday crowd on this last day will tax our facilities in the afternoon.

The Famous Roll Door "Hoosier Beauty"

O. F. Biglin, O'Neill

The Seed Hopper and Spout being mounted on the beam eliminates telescoping, because both are raised with the beam and are always in the same relative position to each other. No chance to clog up or get out of order.

Variable Drop, controlled by a hand lever conveniently placed near the hopper insures accurate dropping. An opening in the spout enables the operator to see the seed passing down. Planting distances may be varied 12 to 22 inches.

Distances between press wheels can be varied

The Disc Covers are held firmly in the ground by spring pressure, allowing them to ride over obstructions and to rebound to position. They are adjustable for depth, width and angle, enabling the operator to set the discs just right. Shovel Covers furnished if desired.

M. E. Church Notes.

The revival is still progressing. Each night witnesses a good attendance, and interested congregation; but there is always room for one more. "Come then with us and we will do thee good."

Dr. Heddon is doing good work in our city, and those who fail to hear him are losing one of the greatest opportunities of life. Here is your chance to decide for Christ and Christian service.

Subject for Thursday night: "Hell." Friday night: "Excuses." Have you been to any of the revival services at the M. E. church yet? They are surely interesting. Try once.

Best Thing for a Bilious Attack.

"On account of my confinement in the printing office I have for years been a chronic sufferer from indigestion and liver trouble. A few weeks ago I had an attack that was so severe that I was not able to go to the case for two days. Failing to get any relief from any other treatment, I took three of Chamberlain's Tablets and the next day I felt like a new man," writes H. C. Chapin, S. C. Obtainable everywhere.

S. J. Weekes Addresses the Bankers.

If the next five years are to repeat the history of the past eight, then there can be no business improvement or general prosperity in the United States. Rest from agitation, intelligent economy, efficiency, harmonious co-operation among business institutions as well as political divisions—these are not obtuse ideas. They do not provoke eloquence or attract the self seeking. They are things as long familiar and little revered by the mass of man as the contents of the Decalogue. We must go back to them or suffer the penalty paid by every creative thing that defies the law of the physical or the moral order of the world.

President Wilson, whose life spent in study and investigation, qualifies him as an observer of current events, has recently manifested a desire to help the business of the country regain some of its former vigor. If others in public life will aim to give business a chance to adjust itself to the conditions imposed by recent legislation, the whole country will, with new hope and confidence, step rapidly forward toward the sunshine of commercial peace and national prosperity greater than it has ever known.
