Gleanings.

Quite a snow flurry fell on the night of the 18th and 19th inst, what?

C. R. Young was looking for the machine to come and do his threshing last week, but the snow storm prevented it. Cheer up, Clark, we will have plenty more nice weather yet.

We learn with regret that Mr. Thomas Simonson is on the sick list again. We hope soon to chronicle his complete recovery.

Mr. Brentson's sale was a decided success. Horses brought a fair price and cattle went high. Farm machinery however did not sell well. On the whole, the results was pretty good considering the fact that there was another sale in the vicinity a few days before.

Plenty of candidates were there getting acquainted with the voters.

J. P. Berger was up from Omaha to attend the Brentson sale. He bought most of the stuff sold there.

Mr. Roberts' mother came up from Iowa on the 16th, to pay him and his estimable family a visit.

In glancing through the "Help Wanted" ads in a daily paper recently, we noted the large number of ads for male help, with the proviso that they be sober men as one of the qualifications. It would seem from that, that neither the boozier or moderate drinker is wanted in any line of business, which leads us to enquire in what way does liquor benefit the human race? It is clearly evident that from the articles pro and con on the subject of prohibition that those states that have tried it for any length of time, that they have forged ahead in business and along all lines of endeavor.

We are to vote on a prohibition amendment on Tuesday, November 7th. Lets go to the polls, boys, and help put Nebraska in the dry column.

Mrs. John Heimiller of Kokomo, Indiana, a sister of Smith Merrill's arrived in the city Wednesday to visit her brother and family.

The failure of our papers to arrive until this, Friday morning, is responsible for The Frontier being one day late this week.

To the Voters of Holt County:

The republican party presents for Governor of Nebraska a man who has served more than eleven years on the District Bench in this state.

Judge Sutton's father homesteaded in Holt county, and Judge Sutton later homesteaded in Brown county, living in a soddy and taught school in a sod school house in that county. He was one of the pioneers of this state and was living in his soddy at the time of the great blizzard on January 12, 1888.

Judge Sutton solicits your vote for Governor, regardless of party affiliation, and pledges himself as follows:

- Strict enforcement of law.
- Economy in public affairs.
- A higher standard of character and efficiency in appointive officials.
- Constant improvement in administration of affairs of public institutions.
- Encouragement of all educational institutions along progressive rather than political lines.
- A better chance everywhere for the boys and girls of Nebraska.
- A square deal between business institutions and the people—between corporations and the public.

WORTH WHILE

It is not so much in knowing much as in knowing what is useful in this world that makes the wise man. He that holds down the ladder at the bottom is frequently of just as much service as the man on top.

O'Neill-Alliance Burlington Extension May Be Built Next Year.

The O'Neill-Alliance extension of the Burlington may be built next year. Advise received that high Burlington officials are to make a tour of inspection and investigation of this section in the near future has aroused the prophets of Sioux City, who are particularly anxious to have the extension completed. The Sioux City Tribune has the following to say regarding the proposed visit of the magnates:

"Such a visit would be taken to mean that the company probably intends to build an additional line in Nebraska. For some time it has been known that the company had under consideration the building of a line between O'Neill and Alliance. A delegation of Sioux City business men visited the Burlington officials at Chicago about six months ago. They urged that the lines be extended. "O'Neill and Alliance are about 150 miles apart. A line connecting them would run through 10 or 15 towns. A connecting link of this sort would be a boon to Sioux City wholesalers and jobbers bringing most of the trade of those towns. "The Yutan cutoff of the Burlington road will be completed January 1. It will mark the beginning of better service on the Burlington to Omaha and Kansas City. Just how many additional trains will be operated has not been made public."

Lecture Club will present to the people of O'Neill a beautiful illustrated lecture on the life and works of a great model of modern Christian womanhood, the justly celebrated Marie Martin, otherwise known as Soeur Therese. The question suggested by the lecture and pictures will be: "Was Marie Martin a saint?" That the subject will prove to be of intense interest to both young and old is the verdict of all who have seen the production. The event is under the joint auspices of St. Mary's Academy and the Knights of Columbus, Wednesday evening, November 1st, at 8 sharp. Tickets from the students or at Reardon's Drug Store. Everybody welcome.

Marie Anderson, a graduate of the Morningside College of elocution, will give an entertainment consisting of readings, instrumental and vocal music at the M. E. church on Thursday, October 2nd.
