Miss Florence G. Waters, of Bassett, were united in marriage by County Judge Carlon at the county court room last Wednesday.

OLIVIA Z. STURDEVANT is old enough to be reliable and young enough to be up to date and progressive. Vote for her.—Adv.

Joseph Weibel of Ewing and Alfred Revell of O'Neill, are two successful Holt county farmers whose names have been added to The Frontier's subscription list during the past week.

Francis Coleman, one of the pioneer settlers of this county, died at his home in Inman last Sunday, after an illness of several months, at the age of 67 years, 6 months and 6 days. The funeral was held at Inman last Sunday and was largely attended.

Commencing November 16th R. F. No. 2, out of this city, which is now a thrice a week service, will commence as a daily route. Jerome O'Connell is the carrier and his salary has been increased from $724 to $1,244 per year. This will be quite an accommodation to the people living along this route as they will receive a daily mail hereafter.

Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Snyder returned Monday evening from Sioux City where they had been with Mr. Snyder's sister, Mrs. Laura Warner of Allen, Nebr., who is seriously ill in the Samaritan Hospital. Mrs. Warner was taken to the hospital May 30th, making her illness covering a period of five months. Mrs. Snyder has been with her the last two weeks.

William I. Stevens, of Inman, and Miss Laura Lines, also of Inman, were united in marriage at the county court room in this city Wednesday afternoon, Judge Carlon officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lines, pioneer settlers of the Inman neighborhood, while the groom is one of the prosperous young farmers of that section. Their many friends tender congratulations and good wishes.

Don't forget the entertainment to be given at the New Royal Theatre on Saturday evening, November 11, to be given by two of the most versatile and the most gifted girls that O'Neill has ever had the pleasure of hearing. What can they do? What can't they do! Read, act, sing, play both piano and violin, and are artists in all the different lines mentioned.

John Miskimmins was down from Atkinson the first of the week. John informs us that he has traded 800 acres of his ranch north of Atkinson to Blair parties for a farm three miles from Blair. John still owns 800 acres north of Atkinson and says that he has no intention of leaving Holt county out will invest in more Holt county soil when the opportunity offers.

At the meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Rebeccas, held in Lincoln a couple of weeks ago, Mrs. Roy Townsend, formerly a resident of this city, was elected vice-president of the state organization and is in line to be elected head of the order at the annual meeting next year. Mrs. Townsend has a host of friends in this city who rejoice that her ability was recognized and that she was selected to this position, the second highest within the gift of the members in this state.

Lem Weatherwax, who has been a resident of this county for nearly forty years, was an O'Neill visitor last Wednesday. Lem informs us that he will leave some time next month for a visit with his brother in Louisiana where he will spend the winter among the southern magnolia blossoms. The south has no attraction for him in the summer, however, and Lem says he will be back in good old Holt as soon as the grass begins to shoot next spring.

Frank Darr, of Red Bird, one of the old-time settlers of this county, was an O'Neill visitor last Tuesday. Mr. Darr informed us that he had sold his farm and will move to Norfolk about the 15th of November, where he will make his future home. Frank has been a resident of this county for over thirty-five years and has many friends scattered throughout the county who will regret to hear of his removal from old Holt, but who wish him happiness and prosperity in his new home.

Those contemplating trips on election day need not remain at home to get election returns. The Chicago and Northwestern railroad company has arranged to supply the patrons of its limited trains with a complete telegraphic news service on Tuesday, November 7th, whereby the returns will be flashed to the trains enroute as fast as the results are released by the press wires. Under this arrangement travelers will be kept in immediate touch with the election returns.

In a conversation today with Paul N. Humphrey, secretary to Congressman Kinkaid, relative to a public building for O'Neill, Mr. Humphrey assured us that the building was a certainty. The public building bill has already been passed in the house and carries an authorization for the securing of a site for O'Neill and the passage of the bill in the senate is assured. As there is no question of the Congressman's re-election, by a great majority, this city will soon see work commenced upon a public building.

Wedding Bells.

On October 25th a quiet wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thompson of Amelia when their youngest child, Ruth Helen, became the bride of Mr. John Kellogg, the Rev. M. L. Massie, officiating. Only the near relatives of the contracting parties being present. After congratulations were offered the guests were invited to the dining room where a fine dinner was served. The bride's dress was white chiffon and satin trimmed with rose buds and lace. The groom wore the conventional black.

At four o'clock the happy pair left by auto for Atkinson where they took the train for Clarksville, Iowa, where they go at once to house keeping on the groom's farm at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg both are members of pioneer families of southern Holt and the good wishes of their many friends follow them to their new home. ***

O'Neill Defeats Spencer.

The O'Neill "High", Friday, at Spencer, demonstrated that the local team is one of the leaders to be reckoned with in contests during the football season, by defeating Spencer by a score of 26 to 21. A large and enthusiastic gathering of football fans were witnesses of the hostilities and the slaughter of Bill Froelich.

The score by quarters was as follows: First, Spencer, 7, O'Neill 0; Second quarter, Spencer 7, O'Neill 7; Third quarter, Spencer 14, O'Neill 20; Last quarter, Spencer 21, O'Neill 26. This briefly tells the tale of one of the most hotly contested games of the season. Froelich, one of the star guards of the O'Neill team, suffered a double fracture of the right arm when the other twenty-one members of the contesting teams massed on top of him during the argument.

Hallow'en Party.

A number of ghosts with their Jack O'Lanterns, gathered at the home of Marguerite and Marie Welch on Hallow'en night and had a regular Hallow'een time. They visited the neighbors, giving them bad dreams of ghosts, after which they returned to the Welch home, having a large bonfire, after which the ghosts and the hostesses filed into the dining room where they found a loaded table, arrayed with eats and Jack O'Lanterns. After they had done justice to the tempting viands spread on the table, they took a vote for president and found that all the ghosts but two were in favor of Wilson. The others attempted to throw those two out, but then decided to leave them off as they were two of the esteemed ghosts. After the vote they retired to the parlor where the ghosts had a glorious entertainment. After the entertainment they were treated to taffy and they all spent a most delightful evening.

The ghosts of the west and south end of town were escorted home by Mrs. William Welch and daughter, Marie, and those of the east and north by Mr. Welsh and daughter, Marguerite. All the guests were delighted with the evening's entertainment. ***

O'Neill Campaign Over Saturday.

The speaking campaign in Holt county practically will be concluded with the address of C. Homer Durand of Ohio, a representative of the Nebraska Prosperity League, who will present that side of the liquor issue at the Opera House Saturday afternoon.

Tuesday evening the Hon. Elmer Fulton of Oklahoma, speaking for the democratic national ticket, drew a good crowd at the Royal Theatre. He devoted himself entirely to national affairs and issues and held the attention of his audience.

A squadron of the dry fleet now touring Nebraska visited O'Neill last Thursday afternoon. Judge Frank Boucher, Robert Switzler and Thomas Hollister, all of Omaha, were the orators and workers for the dry cause. Ladies interested in the meeting furnished music for the occasion.

W. J. L. Crank of Denver, Colorado, addressed a monster meeting at Atkinson last Friday night, speaking in the interest of the republican national ticket. He also addressed a good-sized crowd of voters at Chambers last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Crank is a fluent speaker and presented some good argument for the return of the republican party to power.

Northern Nebraska Dentists Organize. Prominent dentists and dental surgeons of Northern Nebraska organized a dental study club at a meeting held in O'Neill Monday and Tuesday. The meetings of the club, which were in the nature of clinics and discussions, were held at the office of Dr. M. E. Pettibone, and the social events of the gathering were at the Golden Hotel.

Twelve of the leading dentists and dental surgeons of Northern Nebraska, with three assistants, were in attendance and so cordial was the welcome accorded them that it was unanimously decided to hold the next meeting in O'Neill. The purpose of the club, as stated in the constitution adopted, is: For the improvement of professional knowledge of members; the development of their technique in cavity preparation, and the manipulation of gold foil and amalgam.

The active membership of the club is limited to twelve, but honorary members may be taken in. Honorary members, however, when members of the profession, will be expected to participate in clinics.

The following were in attendance: Dr. M. E. Pettibone, O'Neill; Dr. J. E. Fickling, Plainview; Dr. L. A. Burgess, O'Neill; Dr. R. R. Ralston, Long Pine; Dr. Warren R. Hall, Battle Creek; Dr. C. E. KATHRYN PADEN, MARGUERITE SAFT, ENTERTAINERS Saturday night, Nov. 11, 1916 at the Royal Theatre.

This is the first of the series of entertainments which are to be given this season under the auspices of the Presbyterian Ladies. Have you got your season tickets?

The Bureau: Miss Paden is a most charming little reader who has made her debut recently and has a long chautauqua contract beginning the summer of 1916. She also plays piano and sings. In December, 1915, Miss Saft returned from a four years' study in Berlin, where she studied both voice and violin, the former with Miss Clare Lansberg, the latter with Prof. Piederma, the teacher of Mischa Elman. Their closing number is a vocal duet with violin obligato, Miss Paden at the Piano. A splendid little combination.

"God has never made a cleaner, better, or more patriotic Citizen than Gilbert M. Hitchcock. The administration owes a debt of gratitude to Senator Hitchcock for the part he took in perfecting the banking and currency act."—Vice President Marshall.—Adv.
