CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT

in the Nebraska State Bank of O'Neill are mighty desirable property. They bear 5 per cent interest, are transferable by indorsement, not subject to attachment and are good security.

If you have some surplus money on hand waiting permanent investment, our "C. D.'s" are just the right thing for you.

Come in and let's talk it over.

Charles Daly, V. Hunter, Bob Arbutnot, Ed Hagensick, Walter Stein and Clem Benson left on the early train Tuesday for Omaha to take in the automobile show.

R. M. Strickland of Orchard is going to move to Alsask Sask, Canada, as soon as he can procure a car to load his goods into, so he informed us while in the city Tuesday.

Mrs. B. Palmer returned from Riverton, Wyo., Friday morning, where she had been on a visit. Mrs.

Allan Nesbit, a sister, returned with her for a short visit at home.

Judge Charles Ruby, one of the brilliant members of the Cherry county bar, was an O'Neill visitor Sunday morning, enroute to Omaha where he goes to look over the annual auto show.

The Sorosis club will give a free program at the Methodist church on next Friday evening at eight o'clock. Everyone is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served after the program.

H. C. Henning of Atkinson, while in the city Saturday dropped in and renewed his subscription to this family journal. Mr. Henning was in the city with the Atkinson basket ball team which played here that evening.

A. L. Masters, of Louisville, has purchased an interest in the dray line owned by Eugene Mayfield and will move his family here shortly, where he intends to take an active part in the management of the business.

A. J. Garvis left Tuesday morning for Lyons, Nebraska, for a short visit before departing for Montana where he intends to spend the summer picking himself a homestead. Mr. Garvis recently disposed of all his stock and machinery at public sale.

E. F. Roberts has closed a deal with P. D. Mullen whereby he secures the old Mullen livery barn, in exchange for some city lots, and other consideration. We understand that Mr. Roberts intends to again open up the barn as a livery and feed stable.

Patrick Kelley returned Sunday night from Omaha where he had been attending to some business matters. Pat says that the fire in that city Friday, which entailed a property loss of $800,000, was one of the most spectacular sights he ever witnessed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holt, enroute from Neligh to their home at Riverton, Wyo., stopped off in the city Friday for a visit with old friends. Mr. Holt will be remembered here as the local manager of the Nebraska Telephone Co., some few years ago.

Judge Ford is the name of the magistrate who will pass sentence upon violators of the automobile regulations in Boyd county this year. Judge Ford promises to be just as strict with the owners of a certain brand of gas consumers as with those who own cars.

Fred G. Taylor, prominent ranchman on the Rosebud Indian agency near Valentine, was in O'Neill Saturday and Sunday on a business trip, returning to Valentine Sunday afternoon. Mr. Taylor recently acquired the old T. V. Golden residence property as an investment.

Father Cassidy received word Sunday evening that his sister, Mrs. Cullen, of Elizabeth Port, New Jersey, had passed away on that day. Mrs. Cullen is the mother of Miss Mayme Cullen, also of this city. Miss Cullen and Father Cassidy left Monday morning to attend the funeral.

Charley E. Hall came up from Lincoln Thursday night, to attend to some business matters here, and spend a few days with old friends. Mr. Hall is Captain of Detectives in the capitol city, and for the past few weeks, during the illness of the police chief, he has been acting chief of police.

Several of the golf fiends, Joe Hunter and Dr. Pettibone among them, thought spring hard arrived Sunday and quietly slipped out to the links in the afternoon. The grounds are not yet in suitable shape, however, and after playing three or four holes the disappointed pilgrims returned to town.

Mr. and Mrs. James Loob and daughter, Mary, left Thursday morning for Boise City, Idaho, where Mr. Loob intends to look around with the intention of possibly locating. Mr. and Mrs. Loob are astable people and we regret to see them leave Holt county and we wish them every success in their new location.

William Luben, oil locator, was in the city on business Tuesday. Mr. Luben says that he has located an oil field at Bassett, that, when opened will produce from 200 to 400 barrels, per well, per day. The speculating and stock buying people of this community can obtain information as to stock, prices, etc., from Thomas Cosgrove, at Bassett.

The arrangements for the Robert Emmet banquet have been completed, and the name of Judge C. J. Malone has been added to the speakers list. William Fallon, chairman of the banquet committee, announces that the event will far eclipse all former efforts at honoring the memory of Ireland's martyr. A record attendance is expected.

Clark McConnell of Fairfax, Mo., and the operator of a large ranch and blooded stock farm near Trakio, Mo., is in the city while enroute to visit his sons in western Nebraska and Wyoming. Mr. McConnell raises fine horses and mules on a large scale. He says that the finest mules come from Nebraska. Mr. McConnell visited the Rankin ranches near O'Neill this week, the disappointed pilgrims returned to

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Holland celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary last Friday. In the evening all the members of the family, who could be present, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Donohoe, Mrs. Donohoe being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holland, where, after partaking of a delicious dinner, they spent the evening visiting. Besides many smaller presents, Mr. and Mrs. Holland received $100 in gold.

Marie O'Donnell Weekes, the talented and versatile editor of the Norfolk Press, whom Governor Neville recently honored with an appointment as inspector in the pure food and drug department, was in the city on business Tuesday. Mrs. Weekes is one of the most genial and accomplished newspaper women in the state, and The Frontier rejoices that the fraternity is represented by one who so well advertises the personality of the profession.

Last Friday's Seattle Daily Times contains an announcement of the engagement of Miss Mina Eves, now of that city, to Mr. Frank P. Richmond, of Spokane, the ceremony to take place on Wednesday evening, February 28th. Miss Eves is a daughter of E. S. Eves, former owner and editor of the Holt County Independent, and of the Holt County Democrat, and a resident of this city for a number of years. Mina was born and raised here and is well known by the younger people, among whom she was very popular.

A couple of O'Neill's enterprising young business men have organized a company for the manufacture of Automobile windshields, which, according to their dope, promises in magnitude and profits to even outshine General Motors and United States steel. Always a booster for anything that might tend to place O'Neill more securely on the map, or increase the weekly pay roll, The Frontier rejoices that it was O'Neill men, not Atkinson or Stuart men, who discovered the possibilities of this business.

Even the presence of the "champeen" failed to stop Frank Barret who, for the third successive time, romped home with the bacon in the weekly seven-up tournament, at the K. C. club rooms Monday night. The evening was filled with many surprises. The "Champeen" was decidedly out of form, and as the evening neared its close, disgust was indelibly stamped on his otherwise handsome features. Others picked for a strong showing, finished with pitiful scores, which at their earnest solicitation are withheld. Truly 'tis a cruel, unsympathetic world.

One of the best wrestling matches ever staged in Holt county was pulled off at Emmet, last Tuesday evening between Fred McNally and W. R. Cobb, under the management of a committee of Emmet business men, headed by Guy Cole. McNally secured the first fall in an hour and eight minutes with a half Nelson and crotch hold. After a short consultation with his seconds and backers Cobb refused to continue the match. The crowd was the largest ever in the Emmet auditorium and the demonstration accorded the wrestlers was long and hearty. It is estimated that about 100 people from here saw the match.

Mrs. Anna McHugh.

Mrs. Anna McHugh quietly passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital, in Omaha, at one o'clock on Monday morning, of pneumonia. Mrs. McHugh, who has been suffering for some time, recently went to Omaha for an operation which was performed. After the operation, and before she regained her strength, pneumonia set in and daily she grew weaker until on Monday morning she died.

Anna Cronin was born in Danville, Illinois, on July 25, 1863. At Leadville, Colorado, on December 25, 1880, she was married to Charles C. McHugh, to whom the following children were born: Nellie, Julia, Loretta, Frank, Grace, Ursula, John, the latter having preceded his mother to the land of eternal sunshine. Besides the children Mrs. McHugh leaves an aged mother, Mrs. Julia Cronin, two brothers, William and Dan Cronin, both of O'Neill, and three sisters, Mrs. Hayes, of Atkinson, Mrs. Dennis Hunt, of Lincoln, and Mrs. Daniel McGraw, of Omaha, to mourn her demise.

Mrs. McHugh had resided in Holt county for forty-one years, coming here when the country was an unbroken mass of prairie. The hardships and vicissitudes of pioneer life she bore without complaint ever struggling that those near and dear to her might be happy. It was for her children that she lived and labored and her every thought was centered upon their future happiness and welfare. The funeral was held from the Catholic church Thursday morning, and her body was laid to rest in Calvary Cemetery.

Mrs. Jake Ernst.

Mrs. Jake Ernst, one of Holt county's pioneer women passed away Sunday morning, after an illness lasting several weeks, during which time she seemed many times near death. She was surrounded by her family and the end came peaceful and easy, a direct contrast to the hardships of pioneer life she underwent as a young woman.

Theresa Snow was born in Germany, on March the 1st, 1839. Her parents died while she was still an infant, and at the age of 18 she came to this country with relatives and settled in Illinois. In 1858 she was married, at Freeport, Ill., to Jake Ernst. From Illinois they migrated to Iowa, from whence they came to Nebraska and Holt county in 1880, and where they have resided ever since. To this union thirteen children were born, three of whom have preceded their mother to the great beyond. Those living are: Mrs. R. Adams, of Amelia; Mrs. Dan McClellan, of Joy; Mrs. C. Johnson, of Ray; Mrs. J. McAllister, of Atkinson; Mrs. T. F. Gallagher, and Matt, Neil and Jake, of O'Neill.

Mrs. Ernst was a home loving woman entirely wrapped up in her family, and ever solicitous of their welfare and success. The family she raised will ever stand as a monument to her devotion and care. The funeral was held from the Catholic church, Tuesday morning, and her body laid to rest in Calvary cemetery.

Busy Month With Judge Quig.

According to the report about to be filed with the city dads, February has been a busy month with the police judge and his staff. His honor had occasion to administer justice to $5.00

This is the amount put to your name on the Pay Roll. You are starting out in life. It is a small sum of money. That is true. But out of that sum put in each week in an Account 50c. In a year that amounts to $26. Why not make the start?

Get what you can, and what you get hold, 'Tis the stone that will turn your lead into gold."

did in his Solomon like manner. The thirteen, an unlucky number you will notice, culprits were assessed $105 in fines. But $50 of this was collected, the recipients of the other $55 laying theirs out in jail. Eleven of the charges were drunk and disorderly, one jay-driving, and one obstructing the side walk, the latter two Judge Quig decided were damaging to the extent of $5 apiece. The largest fine assessed was $40 and the smallest $5. The costs amount to $4.95 which must be added to the amount of the fines to ascertain the amount your escapade really costs. Only one gentleman was banished from the city during the month, but the judge says he will make up for this apparent neglect of duty this month, so beware. The Ides of March, which proved so disastrous to Caesar, are but a few days away.

Science Prevails Over Luck.

L. C. Chapman demonstrated at the whist tournament Monday night that luck has no chance against science, when he captured the buttons for himself and partner, Mike Enright, from the temporary champions, Arthur Ryan and Tom Enright. This was but the third appearance of Mr. Chapman in the tournament, he not participating in some of the earlier sessions, and since his entry he has played a consistent game, never falling below the average. Mr. Chapman's score last night was sixteen plus, by far the largest score yet made at the tournament. This will be the fourth time that Mr. Enright has won the button he last evening, as on previous occasions, displaying his shrewdness by attaching himself to a good player who could carry him through to victory regardless of the handicap. Next Monday night Mr. Chapman and Mr. Enright will defend the title. There were no sensational plays, nor any cold decks, sprung at this week's meeting, and it is a coincidence that several suspected of being responsible for them at previous sessions were not present Monday night, being in attendance at the automobile show at Omaha.

Oswald-Bellar.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Pleasant Hill, north of this city, when on last Thursday Miss Mattie Bellar was united in marriage to Mr. Aaron Oswald. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend J. D. Birky, a Bishop in the Minonite Church, to which both young people belong.

Miss Bellar is a daughter of John Bellar one of the early settlers in the north country, and is a young lady of many accomplishments and great personal charm.

Mr. Oswald is a son of Charles Oswald, and is at present in the employ of the McGinnis Creamery Co. He is a young man of sterling character, ambitious and capable. The Frontier tenders congratulations, and expresses the hope that they may live long and prosper.

O'NEILL,

NEBRASKA

LAND WILL BE SOLD UNDER THE HAMMER!

The 1000 acre Ranch of the late T. V. Atkinson, in Cedar Valley, 30 miles south of Atkinson, 22 miles south-west of Chambers and 22 miles north of Burwell, will be sold to the highest bidder on Monday, March 19th, 1917, at 10 o'clock A. M. in O'Neill, Nebr., at a court sale.

This land will be a bargain for any man desiring a small and productive ranch, is well improved, has 100 acres in cultivation and contains some of the best meadow land in Nebraska. Tom Atkinson kept 200 head of stock on this place.

The owners all live in England and the land must be sold. No by-bidding. Title confirmed by Court. $4000 mortgage, balance cash.

640 acres of this ranch with the buildings will be sold separately if desired, part cash.

You will never get another chance like this. Go and examine it now. Come to O'Neill on March 19 and buy it. See or write H. D. Grady, Referee, or Ed. H. Whelan, Attorney for Heirs, O'Neill, Nebr.
