Prehistoric Canoe Found.

A prehistoric canoe has been found at Loch Kinellan, near Strathpeffer, and has been presented to the Fort Augustus museum. The canoe was dug by its builder-what was he like. we wonder?-out of the trunk of an eak tree. It measures 24 feet from stem to stern, and is 2 feet 6 inches wide at its broadest part. In the course of centuries portions of the buried relic have rotted off, but the bottom and the curves of bow and stern are still in good preservation. It was discovered lying five feet below the surface.

The English, Scotch and Irish regiments, especially, have many Americans, and the foreign legion in France has many times conferred honors on soldiers born and trained in the United States. When these men are released from their present duties, it is believed that a giant mobolization camp will be placed either in England or France. From there the troops will be sent to the front to take up active service against the central powers.

 HEALDTON COMPLIED WITH GERMAN RULES; WAS NOT IN SUB ZONE

Philadelphia, Pa., March 24— The loss of the Healdton, includ-ing cargo, approximates $2,150,-

Up until two years ago the Healdton was known as the Purelight and sailed under German registry, but since then has sailed under the American flag. The Healdton had an unusual voyage. After Germany had issued her notice of ruthless submarine warfare the Healdton picked up a wireless message off the coast of France ordering her to return at once to Halifax and await orders. She arrived there about February 8, and remained until about February 28, when she sailed again for Rotterdam by way of the Shetland islands route, which is out of the submarine war zone established by Germany. The decision of the Healdton to avoid the danger zone and not call at Kirkwall for inspection caused the British authorities to put the ship and crew through rigorous examination at Halifax. When the steamer left Halifax she had orders to call at Bergen and then ders to call at Bergen and then proceeded to Rotterdam.

Petrograd, March 24—Russian troops, pushing west from Kermanshah in Persia, have reached a point less than 45 miles from the Mesopotamian border. The war office announced today that after a Turkish army had been beaten in a 16-hour battle, outside of Kerind, the Turks had retreated to the vicinity of Kerind and made an-other stand there.

Another Russian column has at-tacked the Turks along the Shirwan river, a tributary of the Diala, about midway between Kerman-shah and Sakkis, from which last point another Russian army has been pushing southwestward into Mesopotamia.

The Russians also have won a new success near Lake Van, in southern Turkish Armenia, capturing men and material.

Amsterdam, March 24-Indications of renewed tension between Norway and Germany are appearing in the German newspapers. The Cologne Gazette makes a feature of an editorial headed. 'Norwegian Insolence," in which it

The Norwegians would do well to remember that their unbridled press campaign once before led to diplomatic tension." tension. A sense of responsibility should have kept the papers from again singing the same tune."

RUSS ACTIVITY RENEWED.

Petrograd, March 24—The Russians are feeling out the Teutonic lines south of Galatz, on the Rumanian front, and have succeeded in driving out the garrisons of two stations near Vadeni, be-tween Galatz and Braila, the war of-fice announced today. German airplanes dropped bombs on Galatz.

By numerous counter attacks the Rusisans has repaired the breach made in their lines by the Germans near the Beresina river east of Lida, on the Rus-san front in a recent attack, the war office announced today.

Paris, March 24—A violent attack was made by the Germans last night north of St. Simon in the region of Ham. Today's war office announcement says the Germans gained some ground at the beginning, but were counter attacked immediately and driven back as far as Beraucort Le Grande, three miles northeast of St. Simon. three miles northeast of St. Simon.

CABINET TOLD OF SPEECH

President Will Make It Clear That U. S. Has Used Every Honorable Means to Avoid War.

Washington, D. C., March 24-Strong intimations of an early call for the national guard are given in high quarters here. The president has authority to issue such a call without action of congress but is believed will not make it until congress recognize a state of Washington, D. C., March 23.-Presi-Washington, D. C., March 23.—President Wilson's address to congress was taken up in the tentative form at today's cabinet meeting. While its exact nature will be determined by the developments of the next 10 days it is expected to be specific in character and probably will outline just what steps he believes congress should take to meet the warlike operations of German submarines.

Administration officials realize that meet the warlike operations of German submarines.

Administration officials realize that during the period of waiting a sustaimed effort is being made in Germany to place the responsibility for war upon the United States. The hint of an offer of mediation is regarded as an added evidence of this movement, but the president and all his advisers are determined that if war actually comes it shall be clear to the world that it has not been of America's choosing.

The president, to keep in touch with army and navy preparations, cancelled practically all engagements today, except one with Governor McCall, of Massachusetts, who wanted to confer on ways in which the state might cooperate with the federal government.

wonderful to see. A package of well buttered ham sandwiches, distributed among the children of one village, caused greater excitement than the evacuation of the Germans.

"It is butter!" cried several shrill little voices to show their mothers, grandmothers and grandfathers what they had received. Through the open doors could be heard such expressions as, "Praise God, there is butter again in France."

In penetrating the former German positions a lasting memory always is one of the endless chains of rusted barbed wire. This has been a most valuable means of defense for the Germans, and from the amount which may be seen stretching away in every direction, it would seem that all the German industrial plants had been turned to wiremaking. It is not the ordinary barbed wire known in America, but the barbs, long and stout, are attached to the wire at intervals of half an inch. If it had not been for the barbed wire this war would have been over long ago, a British officer declared.

In leaving the country recently evacuated, the Germans have taken away in addition to all strong men and boys above 16, all women and girls from 15 years upward who are able to work. A French official communication recent-
