

A Medicine for Women

For Forty Years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has Relieved the Sufferings of Women.

It hardly seems possible that there is a woman in this country who continues to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, proving beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other medicine in the world.

Mrs. Kieso Cured After Seven Month's Illness.
Aurora, Ill.—"For seven long months I suffered from a female trouble, with severe pains in my back and sides until I became so weak I could hardly walk from chair to chair, and got so nervous I would jump at the slightest noise. I was entirely unfit to do my house work, I was giving up hope of ever being well, when my sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles and today I am a healthy woman able to do my own housework. I wish every suffering woman would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and find out for herself how good it is."—Mrs. KARL A. KIESO, 596 North Ave., Aurora, Ill.

Could Hardly Get Off Her Bed.
Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I want you to know the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was in such bad health from female troubles that I could hardly get off my bed. I had been doctoring for a long time and my mother said, 'I want you to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.' So I did, and it has certainly made me a well woman. I am able to do my house work and am so happy as I never expected to go around the way I do again, and I want others to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. JOSIE COPNER, 1028 Harrison Ave., Fairmount, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Quiet Girl.
Caller—That new girl of yours seems nice and quiet.
Hostess—Oh, very quiet! She doesn't even disturb the dust when she's cleaning the room.

Realizing His Importance.
Louis is the only boy, not only in the immediate family, but also in the collateral branches. One night at his nurse's knee he said his prayers aloud:
"Now I lay me down to sleep,
"I pray the Lord my soul to keep,
"If I should die—"
Pausing, he reflected a moment, and then broke out:
"Golly! Wouldn't there be a row in this family if that 'ud happen!"—Harper's Magazine.

A Little Skeptical.
"As I was walking through Central park, in New York, when I was there last summer," the fat plumber remarked, "I saw a round, shallow sort of vessel on top of a short post and I have been wondering ever since what it was."
"Where was it located?" the thin carpenter asked.
"Right out in the middle of a lawn."
"And don't you know what that was?"
"Nope."
"Well, I'll tell you. It was a bird bath."
"Quit her kidding!"
"It's the truth."
"I don't believe it for a very good reason."
"What is the reason?"
"Because I don't believe there is a bird on earth that can tell Saturday night from any other time."—Youngstown Telegram.

Important to Mothers
Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, that famous old remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Wm. D. Feltz In Use for Over 30 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

East Indian Rulers.
Saint Nihal Singh, writing in the Southern Workman, says: "Without a single exception I have found the Indian rulers to be men of great administrative ability and statesmanship, all devoted to the welfare of their subjects and interested in all sorts of reform movements."

Pupley's Fowls.
When Pupley invested in six worse-for-wear hens, he made straightway for the local grocer, and inquired whether that gentleman would give him market price for the produce of his feathered stock.
The grocer smiled at his impetuosity, and told him he would be only too pleased to buy at current rates. To his surprise, Pupley called round with 42 eggs as the result of his hens' first week's exertions. An hour or two after the tradesman had retailed the first of the eggs, he called round on Pupley.
"I'd like to see your hens," he said; "there's something I can't understand about them."
Pupley piloted him down the garden.
"There they are," he remarked; "splendid strain. I've given them a good run, you see, but this wet weather they get into a frightful pickle!"
"Oh, that accounts for it," answered his visitor.
"For what?"
"Accounts for their laying pickled eggs," said the grocer.

There's a good way to keep growing boys and girls healthy and happy and that is to give them Grape-Nuts for breakfast.

This wonderfully nourishing food has a sweet, nutty flavor that makes it popular with children.

One of the few sweet foods that does not harm digestion, but builds them strong and bright.

Arab Revolt Against Turks and Germans Not Unlikely: Capture Of Bagdad Ends German Dreams

BY FRANK SIMONDS, Copyright—1917, Tribune Assn.

New York, March 13.—The fall of Bagdad is one of the most interesting incidents in the whole war. One may exaggerate the important military effect and the ultimate political consequence, but not the possible results, for it may be the first step in a new orient of Islam, the return of Arabian supremacy and the relegation of the Golden Horde to a place outside the walls of the Mohammedan world. By taking Bagdad, the British have amply and with reasonable promptitude retrieved the prestige lost in the whole near east by the surrender at Kut-El-Amara a year ago. This surrender, coupled with the failure at Suez, has been, if only momentarily, endangered British prestige from Egypt to Siam. It was the kind of failure that could not be permitted to stand and its effect east of Suez could only be compared to that of the Rumanian collapse in Europe.

Russ Wait On British.
A year ago when the Russians had taken Erzerum and were pressing west through Persia, there was a moment when it seemed possible that the three fold allied thrust of the allies might fuse into a single drive across the upper waters of the Euphrates, and the Tigris and that the Turk would be pushed out of Mesopotamia and threatened, if not attacked in Syria. The British failure ended this possibility.

After taking Erzingan and Trebizond, Russian operations came to a dead halt and presently the Turks began to advance. The British, however, again reported to be moving west out of Hamadan in Persia, and the position of the Turks facing them will become exceedingly difficult as British pursuit from Bagdad reaches their communications.

May Take Jerusalem.
So much for the immediate military effect. Granted that the British army is capable of further effort, after its recent exhausting campaign, it is probable that the Turks will be driven as far as Mosul, along a section of the Bagdad railroad which has been completed. At Mosul, the British will be able to join hands with the Russians, advancing from Lake Van. A resumption of the Russian advance from Erzerum westward upon Diabek and Kharput is also conceivable. Such a campaign would inevitably compel a Turkish retreat out of most of Syria, and this retreat may be accompanied by the capture of Jerusalem, being exerted by a British army coming out of Egypt and already reported at the gates of Jerusalem.

But underlying the military is the political meaning of the new turn in the war. If you draw a line from the Gulf of Alexandria on the Mediterranean, straight east to the Tigris river, will, roughly speaking, indicate the northern frontier of the Arab Mohammedans like the Turks, the Arabs have never reconciled themselves to the rule of the great powers of the Orient, and their successors who carried the green banner from Bagdad to the Loire have survived and the decline of Islam in the world remains for the Arab a consequence of Turkish supremacy. For many years has been a growing restlessness among the Arabs, which is Arab by population, was on the verge of a revolt when the Young Turks overthrew Abdul Hamid, and it was long the Syrian dream to create an autonomous Syria. Away to the south, about Mecca, there has been a terminable Arab revolt and now the last of these has driven the Turk out of the holy city and thus deprived him of the possession of the center of Islam, which was one of his chief claims to power.

The failure of the Turkish expedition against Egypt, the fall of Bagdad, the invasion of Palestine, are the circumstances which must combine to shake Turkish power. Add to this the great misers and suffering the war has brought to Syria and to Mesopotamia, and the unpopularity of the German, and it is plain that there is in sight sufficient basis for a revolt of the whole Arab population, from the Amanus mountains to the Yemen, and from the Mediterranean to the Tigris. No one will forecast the immediate outbreak of such a storm, but its coming must now be regarded as one of the most probable consequences of the fall of Bagdad.

The alliance between the Turks and Germans was designed by the Germans to serve as the first step in the assertion of German supremacy in Islam. Long before the war the kaiser had gone to the near east and had sought to build up a legend of Germanish power and his greatness in the whole Turkish world. It was generally accepted in Islam that the kaiser was a Mohammedan. This alliance was to permit the Germans, once the Bagdad railroad was completed, to go south and east, south to Egypt and east to India. The German plans included the arrival of the Bagdad railroad at Suez and at the Persian gulf, the road to be linked up ultimately with the railroads in Egypt and in India.

When Turkey entered the war, a holy war was proclaimed against the infidel, and the Germans planned to harness the fanaticism of the Mohammedan to the world plans of the Entente and conquer British and Russian territory by Turkish armies, trained officers and equipped by Germans. Nor did the German scheme pause at Egypt. It dreamed of further extension along the African shores of the Mediterranean and contemplated repeating the triumph of the Arab successors of the prophet who carried Islam from the Arabian desert to the shores of the Atlantic facing Gibraltar.

Allies Plan Counter Stroke.
To expel the Turk from Islam, by separating him from Mecca, to restore the Arab to the place he once occupied, to confine the Turk to Asia Minor, by erecting a French protectorate in Syria, a Russian province in Armenia and a British colony in Mesopotamia, with an extension of Egyptian territory to Palestine or the creation of an independent holy land, these have been the conceptions of the allies. This has been their answer to the German success in capturing the Turk and thus the machinery of Islam.

One more circumstance should be noted. The German scheme of Mittel Europa, which underlies the present policy of German statesmen, as it was the chief purpose of pan-German activity before the war, was based upon the creation of a great state which should extend from the channel at Calais to the Gulf of Riga on the Baltic, and from Hamburg and Bremen to Suez and the Persian gulf. In realizing a very great portion of their dream, the Germans have been checked at the frontiers of complete success. They did not take Calais; they did not take

Healthy Skin Depends On Kidneys

The skin and the intestines, which work together with the kidneys to throw out the poisons of the body, do a part of the work, but a clean body and a healthy one depends on the kidneys. If the kidneys are clogged with toxic poisons you suffer from stiffness, your joints seem "rusty," you may have rheumatic pains, pain in the back, stiff neck, headaches, sometimes swollen feet, or neuralgic pains—all due to the uric acid or toxic poisons in the blood. This is the time to go to the nearest drug store and simply obtain a 50c. package of Anuric (double or triple strength), the discovery of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y. Then drink a cup of hot water before meals, with an Anuric Tablet, and notice the gratifying results. You will find Anuric more active than lithia.

For Hang-over Coughs, Colds

Omaha, Neb.—"All of last winter I was just about down and out with a heavy cold on my lungs that the old-fashioned home remedies I had been accustomed to taking did not seem to touch. I was just about to send for the doctor when my brother advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I only took the one bottle, but it certainly did give me wonderful relief and I believe saved me from a stage of pneumonia. My people have used Dr. Pierce's remedies for more than twenty years and consider them to be the most reliable."—MRS. CORA H. JOHNSTON, 2406 I St.
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains no alcohol, no narcotic. It is put up in both liquid and tablets and is to be found in all drug stores.
If not obtainable at your dealer's send $1.00 to Dr. Pierce, Invaluable Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and he will mail large package of tablets.

His Move Next.
A woman in a railway waiting room the other day had a great deal of trouble with one of her children, a boy of seven or eight, and a man who sat near her stood it as long as possible and then observed:
"Madam, that boy of yours needs the strong hand of a father."
"Yes, I know it," she replied, "but he can't have it. His father died when he was six years of age, and I've done my best to get another husband and failed. He can't have what I can't get."

"Scribbler is very fond of putting advertisements in the newspapers, isn't he?"
"Yes, very. He says that's about all he writes that gets into print."

Cross Andes in Balloon.
The mighty Andean mountain range of South America, the highest in the western hemisphere, has just been crossed by aeronauts for the first time. The feat was accomplished by two men in a balloon. The aeronauts left Santiago, Chile, on the Pacific side, and descended five hours later in Mendoza, on the eastern slope of the range, in the Argentine Republic. They reported a very difficult trip, and had to rise to a great height to catch a favorable air current. So far the Andes have not been crossed by airplane.

No Hope.
Pansey—Isn't it tragic that John fell down on his job?
Lily—Well, he still can make good.
Pansey—No, he can't; he was a steeplejack.—Jester.

You Can Make Excellent Cake With Fewer Eggs

Just use an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted.

This applies equally well to nearly all baked foods. Try the following recipe according to the new way:

CREAM LAYER CAKE
Old Way	New Way
1 cup sugar	1 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk	1 cup milk
2 cups flour	2 cups flour
2 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder	4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
3 eggs	1 egg
1/2 cup shortening	2 tablespoons shortening
1 teaspoon flavoring	1 teaspoon flavoring

Makes 1 Large 2-Layer Cake

DIRECTIONS—Cream the sugar and shortening together, then mix in the egg. After sifting the flour and Royal Baking Powder together, two or three times, add it all to the mixture. Gradually add the milk and beat with spoon until you have a smooth pour batter. Add the flavoring. Pour into greased layer cake tins and bake in a moderately hot oven for twenty minutes. This cake is best baked in two layers. Put together with cream filling and spread with white icing.

Canada Offers 160 Acres Free to Farm Hands

Bonus of Western Canada Land to Men Assisting in Maintaining Needed Grain Production

The demand for farm labor in Canada is great. As an inducement to secure the necessary help at once, Canada will give and allow the time of the farm laborer, who has filed on the land, to apply as residence duties, the same as if he actually had lived on it. Another special concession is the reduction of one year in the time to complete duties. Two years instead of three as heretofore, but only to men working on the farms for at least six months in 1917. This appeal for farm help is in no way connected with enlistment for military service but solely to increase agricultural output. A wonderful opportunity to secure a farm and draw good wages at the same time. Canadian Government will pay all fare over one cent per mile from St. Paul or Duluth to Canadian destination. ## English Teachers.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY ACRES OF LAND FREE AS A HOMESTEAD

From the Indianapolis News.
In the educational supplement of the London Times a strong appeal is made for more teachers and higher standard education in English schools. Apparently the English educational authorities have for some years been expecting teachers to take too much of their pay in the shape of their privilege of serving humanity. In other words, the government expects them to teach because they like to teach and pay them only because they must keep body and soul together. Under this policy the number of candidates for the profession dropped from 12,000 in 1905 to 10,000 in 1916, indicating that English girls are beginning to look upon teaching as a poor career. Of late many good teachers have abandoned the profession for war work, and many have found congenial clerkships, formally held by men, which bring better returns and allow for more leisure than teaching. The dearth of teachers has become so serious that the requirements have been lowered with a view to attracting persons whose general education is not high, but who lack specific training in educational methods. The Times is of the opinion that after the war the government will have to place the teaching profession on a much higher plane if it expects to command the services of industrious and intelligent women.

Farrar Whistled in "Carmen."

From the New York Letter to the Cincinnati Times-Star.
Geraldine Farrar astounded the audience and critics by introducing a whistling solo in "Carmen" at a recent performance here. Miss Farrar toned down her "Carmen" materially from her "moving picture" style of last year, but maintained her reputation by introducing an innovation which was startling. It came in the first act, when, with clear birdlike notes, she whistled a short prelude to one of her important arias.

Couldn't Answer.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.
The employer of a Polish servant maid who has learned to speak English was telling of her experiences with the telephone. After its use was explained to her she was eager to answer every call. One day a ring came and she jumped to the instrument.
"Hello!" came from the receiver.
"Hello!" answered the girl, flushed with pride at being able to give the proper answer.
"Who is this?" continued the voice.
"I don't know!" exclaimed the maid. "I can't see you."
