BUY THAT FARM NOW
Look at these splendid lands of Southern Nebraska and Northeastern Colorado before you make cropping arrangements for 1918. Don't make a rental contract for the coming year that puts you nowhere toward a permanent home until you have looked into the crop records of these areas. Go out and talk to the farmers of these counties—you'll find them prospering and ready to tell you that an investment you must make to properly equip for renting an Eastern farm will put you at work on your own account in their neighborhood and on the road to independence.
I have two new folders setting forth the agricultural conditions, one for Nebraska and one for Colorado, illustrated with local farm scenes and maps showing location. They are free. Let me put you in touch with the best farm bargains offered today.
