Ross Coomer and Paul D. Cook have already received captain's commissions in the engineering department. The newly commissioned officers have been given furloughs from August 15 to 27, that they may visit their homes before being called into service with the new army with the new army.

General Sage, camp commander, would not say how many students failed to get commissions. He said he will not know definitely until some errors in the telegrams announcing com-missions are cleared up. About 130 men were recommended for further training at the second camp. Many of the students who were dis-Many of the students who were dis-appointed are applying today for en-listment in the national army as non-commissioned officers, they having been promised commissions in that or-ganization if they make good. It is ex-pected a list of Snelling students enlist-ing as national army noncommissioned officers will be made public late today. National Guardsmen who attended the student camp and failed to receive com-missions also can enlist as noncommis-sioned officers in the national army. About 200 National Guard students at Shelling have been awarded commis-sions in the various classifications. Some students who falled to get com-missions or were not cared for in some other way are planning to fair some

Washington: D. C., Aug. 20.—Evi-dence is coming to hand constantly that governors, other state officials and many members of congress are getting more and more impatient over delay of the federal trade commission's taking adequate measures to handle the coal situation. Protests against delay are pouring into Washington. — The a number of states will take over coal lines unless the federal gov-ernment meets the emergency quickly is fully expected. — Not to Take Mines. of the officers' training camp at Fort Niagara, N. LOVETT TO DIRECT CARS Head of Union Facific Will Take Charge of Priority of Shipments-State Complaints Grow.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20 .- Judge Lovett, of the Union Pacific, will be put in charge of priority of shipments under an order of the president. Judge Lovett plans to force shipments of coal to northwestern and western states that are clamoring for it.

that are clamoring for it. Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—The president will take some action in the coal situation early this week. He car-ried back to the White House from the trade commission a mass of statistics on coal production costs and will go over them tomorrow. His decision prob-ably will be announced Monday. The president's intention, it was learned, is to reduce the present prices, not only at the mines, but of jobbers and retailers. The trade commission's report indicates that operators can self their bituminous at a price far below the maximum of $3 fixed at a recent conference between mine managers and government officials and still make a handsome profit. Evidence was given the president that operators have failed to abide by the $3 a ton agreement and that they have been selling their product for any amount they could get. Shortages in some parts of the country have made it possible, it is said, for them to obtain extortionate prices.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—Presi-dent Wilson went to the food adminis-tration today for a personal confer-ence with Herbert Hoover and later went to the federal trade commission. It was believed the president discussed the coal situation and the extent to which he would assume the powers to control distribution vested in him by the food bill.

the food bill. Under the law the president may fix the price of coal, operate the mines or commandeer stocks and sell to the public. Some decision of which course he will pursue is expected as the result of today's conference which were based on the federal trade commission's now completed report on the coal situation. At the federal trade commission the president went over the figures sath-ered on costs of producing coal. The trend of the commission's report on the subject was to urge the president to take over the supply and its distribu-tion.

The Man of Constant Peeve.

The Man of Constant Peeve. Orville Dewey. No man is more constantly unhappy, or makes others more so, than the impatient man. He is out of harmony with things: and all things fight and worry and wound him. He feels himself dishonored, too, by his impatience: and he does lose, so far he induiges it, the true dignity of life. He is not cast, indeed, like the victim of semulal vice, into the slough of dishonor; his garment perhaps is not solied; but it is everdropping. Ittle sparks of petulance; and it is in tatters and disorder with the he seems to himself and to others as one who scrambles through life, rather than he seems to himself and to others as one who scrambles through life, rather than he seems to himself and and the the head of conscious self possession. Con-sing one who walks in the calm and digni-fied robe of conscious self possession. Con-stant fretting and faultfinding and break-he one who walks in the calm and com-ting of unkenness. Or suppose that the head in the sarcasm and anger may be-reave a house of all honor, peace and com-ynd drunkenness. Or suppose that the head the head is the it wastes and consumes the springs of the inmost life.

The Modest Modernist.

The Modest Modernist. Grant Showerman in the Unpopular Re-view. The modest modernist is always in mo-tion. He is the apostle of movement and the apostle of movement. He filts from movement to movement. He is always buzzing, sipping and darting away to fresh flowers. He keeps the rest of the world. in movement — in neighborhood movements and national movements; in the civic and patrictic movements; in the civic and patrictic movements; in the civic and patrictic movements; in the movements; in dietetic, philanthropic, microscopic, and myopic movements, Every one of them is in turn "the most comprehensive, and allogether the most comprehensive, and allogether the most comprehensive, and allogether the most stromentous ever initiated in this community." The modest modernist says, "Do you know?" and "Do you realize?" a great make frequent use of the word "con-structive." He says: "Do you realize, my friends, that you and I, in this very community and at this very hour, are inaugurating a movement which contains greater constructive possibilities for the cause of civic and social betterment than all other present and past movements to the says in parenthesis that he "speaks advisedly." He says it is strange no one ever thought of this be-fore. He says all great things are simple. The modest modernist is talkative. There are some who call bim chautauquative. My Prayer.

My Prayer.

Great God. I ask Thee for no meaner pelf Than that I may not disappoint myself; That in my action I may soar as high As I can now discern with this clear eye.

Not to Take Mines. The administration is unwitting to take over the coal and mines as the tood control measure authorizes. Representative Lundeen, of Minne-apolis, in a letter to the president calls on apoils, in a letter to the president calls on him for immediate action under powers granted by congress. He dwells on the coal shortage in Minpesonta and the northwest, and says if Minnesota people have to cut down their forests to keep their furnaces burning, they want to know it in advance.

ILLINOIS TO ACT MONDAY.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—The public hear-ing on price fixing of coal by Justice O. N. Carter, director of coal for Illinois

O. N. Carter, director of coal for Illinois, recessed today until next Monday. Justice Carter has announced that after the hearing he will set a price for fuel-at the mine mouth unless such power has in the meantime been taken from him through federal action. Governor Lowden sent a telegram to Francis. S. Peabody, chairman of the coal committee of the national council of defense, declaring he might be obliged to take possession of the coal mines in the state. Mr. Peabody in his reply pleaded for delay, asserting fed-eral action would no doubt be forth-coming shortly.

President Wilson gave assurance yes-terday that the Illinois coal problem "is receiving the most careful attention and everything that can be done will be done.

CAPPER CALLS COAL MEN.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 20.-Governor Capper has issued a statement to all Capper has issued a statement to all coal producers in Kansas calling them to Topeka, Monday, August 20, for a discussion of the coal situation. Should this conference fail to pro-duce results the governor has aserted that the state, backed by the federal trade commission and recent acts of congress, will seek to take over the coal production of Kansas mines.

PRINTERS TO PAY DUES FOR DRAFTED TYPOS

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 18.— Delegates to the 63rd annual conven-tion of the International Typographical union completed all business by hold-ing a night session and have adjourned. The convention voted to take care of the union dues of members who join the national army, the necessary fund to be raised by per capita tax of 10 cents a month, beginning January 1, next. A resolution to establish a branch of the union printers' home in the south of the union printers' home in the south defeate

A proposition to set aside a fund of $500,000 for "war purposes" also was oted down. Efforts of Colorado Springs suffragists to have the convention endorse a resolution favoring national woman suffrere and protesting President Wilson's silence concerning the issue votes for women, met with failure.

GORE TRIES NEW PLAN.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—An amendment to prevent expending any money raised from the war tax bill in transporting men to Europe who have not volunteered for such service was introduced by Senator Gore.
