O'Neill 22, Venus 12.

By interspersing forward passes with shift formations and line tactics, the O'Neill football team outgeneraled, outplayed and decisively defeated the Venus Aggies. Pitted against physical giants the O'Neill boys depended entirely upon pluck and superior knowledge of the game to win, and that they had sufficient of both is attested by the score. Venus won the toss and chose to receive at the south goal. The visitors hurled their heavy backfield into the light O'Neill line and carried the ball past neutral territory but when danger threatened were held for downs. O'Neill in a fierce counter charge carried the ball to the enemy's twenty yard line only to meet a like fate. Venus called her two hundred and forty pound fullback and sent him charging into the O'Neill line, but the ball slipped from his fingers and the eagle eye of Froelich spied it, his quick hand seized it and he was off like a flash for a touchdown. Harrington kicked goal. Score: O'Neill 7, Venus 0. Thus it remained until the end of the first quarter.

No sooner had the second quarter opened than the far famed Waugh of Venus intercepted a forward pass and carried the ball within striking distance of O'Neill's goal from which point against fierce opposition it was pushed over for a touchdown. Waugh missed goal. Score: O'Neill 7, Venus 6. Recovering from this sudden and unexpected blow the gritty O'Neill boys returned to the fight more determined than ever, and soon had the ball on the enemy's eighteen yard line where Captain Harrington executed a pretty drop kick. Score: O'Neill 10, Venus 6. This was Harrington's first attempt at the difficult feat of drop kicking and his success was the more remarkable owing to the fact that he was compelled to attempt it at an extremely sharp angle.

Soon after the kickoff time was called and the first half ended.

O'Neill opened the third quarter with a bewildering array of forward passes which disorganized the Venus defense and before they could collect their scattered wits, Sullivan, who played a star game throughout, had crossed the line for a touchdown. Score: O'Neill 16, Venus 6. Here the O'Neill boys seemed to pity the poor Venus giants in their futile efforts to gain ground and for the sake of making the game interesting to the spectators, allowed them to score once more. Again the heralded Waugh missed goal. Score: O'Neill 16, Venus 12.

After blocking a punt in the fourth period O'Neill carried the ball to the three yard line when Captain Harrington plunged straight through the ponderous visitors' line and crossed the chalk mark for the final score of a hard fought game. Score: O'Neill 22, Venus 12.

The O'Neill boys deserve the highest praise for the determined stand which they made against a team possessing such a ponderous advantage in weight.

Captain Harrington handled his team with precision and judgment while his forward passing was marvelous. Ray Hoffman at center was a tower of strength on defense and on offense passed the ball perfectly. Froelich, Whelan, Baker, Chandler, Mullen, Fallon, Henry, Stannard and Tickler presented a stone wall through which the visitors could not gain consistently. C. Stannard on end was a whirlwind getting down under long passes and many of O'Neill's longest gains were due to his excellent work. Gatz and Golden, fleetfooted and sure, allowed no Aggie to circle the left wing. Fullback Hammond did excellent defensive work while Glead and Sullivan proved sure ground gainers and carried the ball on several occasions far into the enemy's territory.

Card of Thanks.

To the many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the death and burial of our beloved husband and father we desire to extend our heartfelt thanks and to assure you that your many acts of kindness will ever be held in grateful remembrance. Mrs. James Mullen and family.

An Endless Chain of Prayers.

An endless chain of prayers for the protection of the soldiers and sailors of the nation now is making the rounds and copies already have been received in O'Neill. The prayer and instructions as contained on the postcards received here are as follows:

"Oh God, we implore Thy blessing on our sailors and soldiers. Keep them in the hallow of thy hand.

"Copy, sign your name and send to seven other persons, requesting them to do likewise, on the day you receive this. On the seventh day see what happens."

The serial number on the cards received here was No. 10, which means, if the chain has not been broken, that more than 380,000,000 copies have been mailed.

Red Cross Notes.

The following notice was received too late for publication last week.

Last week in the report handed to the Publicity Committee a mistake was made in the amount of finished garments sent in from Chambers. It should have been as follows: Knitted garments: Two helmets, three sweaters, one muffler, five pair of wrist-lets and four pair of socks.

Sewed garments: Five suits of pajamas, fifteen bed shirts, three dozen pillow cases, two dozen hot water bottle covers, two dozen bed socks.

Mrs. Clark's and Mrs. Virgin's class met Tuesday afternoon. The following were present: Mrs. Bowden, Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Killmurry, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Wilcox, Mrs. Naylor, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Haffner. The following articles were completed: Seven bed jackets, 17 handkerchiefs.

Mrs. Downey's class met Wednesday and the following were present: Mrs. Hereford, Mrs. Hancock, Mrs. Hubbard, Mrs. Hanly, Mrs. Berry, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Downey, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Clauson, Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. Serber, Mrs. Pettibone, Mrs. George Morrison, Mrs. Meredith.

Try Bolting Dishes together until Airtight

Break? Of course they will break.

So it is with cast stoves or enamel stoves. If you bolt tight enough to make tight, you break it. If you do not bolt tight, you waste heat and fuel and never can depend on the oven.

Then how are cast and enamel ranges made tight? By bolting loosely, then filling the cracks with stove putty, or cement, as it is now called. It is tight, all right—while new—before it is fired up. But after being put to work the putty dries, drops out and the cracks ruin the working qualities of the stove.

Then after a year or so they are rickety and rickety and wobbly and they give you a sickish feeling every time you cook on them.

Malleable iron can be riveted and hammered until it is tight as a steam boiler. And it stays tight. Try bending or riveting a piece of enamel or cast and see what happens.

Pay the price—get the good kind—and if you want the best—buy a Copper-Clad—the range that can't rust out.
