

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attend the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

BIG DEMAND FOR MAHOGANY

Name Commercially Is Applied to More Than Fifty Woods—Substitutes Are Numerous.

The name "mahogany" is applied commercially to more than 50 different woods, says Popular Science Monthly. Perhaps half the lumber now sold under that name is not true mahogany, for the demand greatly exceeds the supply.

The tree is only native to the limited area between southern Florida and northern South America. Nowhere else does it really flourish. But the public will have mahogany. Women want it for furniture, business men prefer it for office fixtures, and teak and mahogany are rivals in the affections of shipbuilders. Therefore substitutes flourish.

It is not surprising that the real wood is so expensive when it is learned that it takes from one hundred to one hundred and fifty years for a mahogany tree to reach merchantable size.

Most of the substitutes bear little more than a general resemblance to the genuine wood, but skillful finishing makes them very much alike. Experts can usually distinguish between them by the aid of an ordinary pocket lens. The efforts of the superficial, however, to judge the wood by its appearance, weight, grain and color often lead them astray.

FARMERS ARE WORKING HARDER

And using their feet more than ever before. For all these workers the frequent use of Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes and sprinkled in the foot-bath, increases their efficiency and insures needed physical comfort. It takes the friction from the shoe, freshens the feet, and prevents the itching and blistered feet. Women everywhere are constant users of Allen's Foot-Ease. Don't get foot sore, get Allen's Foot-Ease. Sold by dealers everywhere. 25c.—Adv.

Small Coinage Short.

The Japanese are short of small coinage and are beginning to feel the absence thereof quite as much as people in the United States. Their government has decided to issue small paper notes of 50, 20 and 10 sen denominations. The Japanese sen is equal to one-half cent of our currency.

WAR SLEUTHING CARRIES THRILLS, SHE SAYS.

MISS KATHERINE KAELED.

The newest thrill in life, besides which stunts of movie actors and actresses and women steelyjacks fade away is government secret service work, according to Miss Kaelred, English actress. Miss Kaelred has known many secret service operatives and has decided to quit the stage to take up war sleuthing. She first got the "bug" while starring in a war play in London.

An Effective Curb on Germany.

Harrington Emerson, in the American Review of Reviews.

An International Marine association is neither a boycott nor a discrimination. Rules would apply to all members alike. No trade war is instituted against the degenerate who rages nakedly in his own house. He can come into the street and trade anywhere if he behaves. Even if Prussia evacuates France and Belgium and little Luxemburg, Poland, Russia, Rumania, Serbia, Montenegro, and Italy, her word is not good, but internationalized seas would hold her within moral boundaries. Running amuck would mean that all the crowd would join in subduing her, every port and coaling station and cable office would be closed to her.

Does this mean that the strategic passages of the sea, the straits of Gibraltar, the Suez canal, the Panama canal, the straits at Singapore, the Dardanelles, should be internationalized? They should on the contrary be strongly fortified and held by the present allies severally for at least 100 years, until three generations of German are dead and gone, until treaties are not scraps of paper. The police force of our cities, while making the streets safe for all, do not give up control of their police stations. These are held as rallying points of order. Would the United States dismantle its forts commanding the narrows and the entrance to Hampton roads? Not yet. Germany is not to be trusted even if she should join an international marine.

By holding the great sea passages the allies, loyally joining the International Marine, must hold the whip over any power quite capable of building secretly 1,000 submarines with which suddenly to attack her sea neighbors at some future date. It was one thing to attack in succession Poland, Sweden, Austria, Denmark, France, Russia and Belgium. It would be quite another to antagonize a whole world, holding the great passages, the coaling and repair stations everywhere.

Jeweled Sword to March.

From the New York Times.

The city of Easton, Pa., birthplace of Gen. Peyton C. March, chief of staff of the army, has presented a jeweled sword to him. The presentation was made by Mayor David W. Nevin.

After expressing his appreciation for the gift, General March told of some of the accomplishments of the war department during the past few weeks. In May, he said, more American troops were taken to Europe than were there when he left in February. It was not only the man power of America that was now mobilized, the general said, but other resources, including the emotional forces of the country. By a great wave of patriotism, he declared, those who have sought to accumulate profit from the war have been swept aside.

Motor Driven Plane.

From the Emergency Fleet News.

A motor driven, portable jack plane adaptable to plain, convex or concave surface, which it is claimed will enable one man to do the work of from 20 to 30 men with old fashioned hand planes, is being introduced into shipyards at Jacksonville, where it is manufactured. Officials of the shipping board have expressed much interest in the speed, endurance and efficiency claimed for the new tool. The apparatus consists of a small motor, which supplies power, a flexible arm through which the power is transmitted, and the planing tool guided by hand and containing a cutting burr with which the driving shaft is connected.

Army Cures Alcoholism.

William C. Gorkas, in Collier's Weekly.

Eight hundred cases of alcoholism have been cured during our camp experience. This is a condition that comes to us from civil life when the men are drafted. These men may backslide at some future time, when they are released from military supervision, but for the time being, at least, 800 lives have been rendered normal and temperate.

DOG A PROBLEM IN ENGLAND

Diminishing Food Supply Makes Canine Industry Difficult One From War Standpoint.

The British government is wrestling with the problem of what to do with dogs in view of the rapidly diminishing stocks of food. It seems settled that the number of dogs is to be reduced. There are hardly any dog biscuits left, and no more will be manufactured, as the low grade flour from which they are made is wanted for the textile trades.

Bonar Law, Chancellor of the exchequer, refused to include a heavy tax on dogs in his budget, which he introduced in the last week of April. His friends said that such a tax would kill dog-breeding as an industry, and would work unequally between rich and poor. The poor man's dog would be sacrificed, while the pampered Pekinese would flourish.

Now the alternative proposal is to prohibit the breeding of dogs during the war except under license. The effect of this would be to allow the perpetuation of pedigreed breeds, which have taken many years and large sums of money to produce, and also useful dogs, like sheep dogs and army dogs. The breeding of mongrels and probably of purely fancy dogs would be prohibited.

There will be no interference with people who already have dogs. They will in the future need all their ingenuity to keep pets fed.

Militant Medicos.

Events in France have led to a shortage of medical men with the army, for it stands to reason that in any toll of prisoners taken a percentage will represent the medical personnel of the forces. And that percentage must often be a high one, as in the zones of the clearing station mobility cannot be a feature.

Smoking in France.

Tobacco cards have made their appearance in France. The town of Aubin has taken the initiative and it is expected that many other towns and cities will follow suit. No card will be delivered to youths under sixteen years of age. No provision is made for women. There has been a shortage of tobacco in France during the last three months.

Dubious Compliment.

"Mrs. Bings' new baby is just in the fashion."
"How do you mean?"
"It is such a red cross affair."

Not Surprising.

"Is your lazy husband doing anything now, my poor woman?"
"Yes'm; he's doin' time."

The woman "peanut butcher" has appeared on some of the Western railroads.

TELLS ITS OWN STORY.

From Stars and Stripes.

There is a hotel in France which is much frequented by men of the A. E. F., generally transients, who stop there between train journeys to enjoy their first sleep in real beds in many months, to eat dinner and breakfast off a real table cloth, and to taste the nearest approximation to the comforts of an American home which the Y. M. C. A. can give.

In the reading room of the hotel is a guest book, on the cover of which is a notice bidding the reader write his name and a happy thought within.

What are these happy thoughts? Bright lines? Home town boasts? The old familiar autograph album humor? Many of them are, but at least every other one reads very much like this:
"God bless the women of America who have come over here to help us."

Stand us face to face, and we aren't very sentimental. We aren't given to blubbering, or gushing, or "soft soaping." But the secret of that little book establishes a bond of sentiment that every man-jack of us is proud to echo.

"Français" a New Tongue.

From the Fargo (N. D.) Courier-News.

"Français" is a new language that you hear in France today. The word is made out of francs and anglais—the French words for French and English—and the language itself is made out of a fearful jumble of words that were perfectly good when they played by themselves, but don't always mix.

Français is what you hear where American and English men and women without a very good knowledge of their hosts' own speech find themselves at work alongside of French men and French women—soldiers, nurses, relief workers, shopkeepers and all sorts of folks.

American Red Cross workers say that when you gather up several hundred little French babies who have hardly begun to speak any language at all, and several hundred little ones who are speaking the universal and universally incomprehensible language of babyhood, the results are one degree harder to understand than grownup Français.
