

AID TO SOLDIERS VOTING.

Governor Neville Asks That Relatives Furnish Him Addresses of Boys In the Service.

The governor's office is endeavoring to establish a card index system which contains data concerning every Nebraskan now in the service. This information is gathered primarily for the purpose of giving to Nebraska soldiers and sailors an opportunity to exercise their voting privileges. It is Governor Neville's desire, however, to make the record kept in this office such as will not only enable the men to vote, but will act as a source of information in co-operating with the Federal Government as well as serve as an authentic record of men enlisted from Nebraska. There is, at the present time, no place in which such an authentic record is being kept. Recognizing the noble sacrifice that these men are making and the important service they are rendering, it is the thought of the Governor that a complete record of the achievements of Nebraska through her men in the service should be maintained.

The law passed by the special session of the legislature provides for a direct "voting by mail" system. Under this plan it will be an exceedingly simple matter for the soldier to exercise his right of franchise, if the Governor's office is able to secure the information necessary to forward him a ballot. While the Department in Washington objected to the plan of establishing election commissions and polling places abroad for the gathering of the soldier votes, they have, since the simplicity of the Nebraska plan has been presented to them by Governor Neville, agreed to co-operate in every manner possible in assisting Nebraska soldiers and sailors to vote.

The Governor's office has a list of the men inducted into the service by Local Exemption Boards and those enlisted in the National Guard of the State. However, inasmuch as these men have been frequently transferred, it is exceedingly difficult to secure the information necessary to make this undertaking successful. Confident of the desire of every Nebraskan, and especially those who have sons or relatives in the service, that the state's record and the record of individuals be preserved, Governor Neville is calling upon all Nebraskans to assist in the gathering of this information. He is asking all newspapers in Nebraska to publish a facsimile of the card containing the information desired, together with the request that every person having a relative or friend in the service forward all information obtainable concerning that man either to the Governor's office or to the County Council of Defense. The Governor also requests that when it is learned that a man has been transferred, a friend or relative notify his office of the change so that the record may be kept up to date. This is an important service which every Nebraskan can render the boys who are fighting their fight. In forwarding this information direct to the Governor's office, address it "Governor Keith Neville, Nebraska Soldiers Bureau, State House, Lincoln, Nebr."

Letter From Joe Ziemer.

Camp Dewey, Co. K, Regiment 1, Great Lakes, Ill.

Dear Sis: I received your box of candy and papers and was sure glad to get them, believe me. I tore right into the candy and only one-third is left. I sure appreciated it and if I find anything on my road east I'll send it, providing my money holds out and I think it will as I only spend 20 cents a day. I am having a hat sewed for 50 cents. You see they sew it from bottom to top of rim and make it stiff and it takes about 40 cents worth of thread to sew a hat; so you see they don't make any profit whatsoever.

Well, Marsa, I don't think I'll be in Great Lakes very long; I know I'll be out of Camp Dewey Saturday and transferred to Camp Ross and probably stay there for seventy-two hours and then go to the east coast for six weeks training and go abroad on battle ship or transport. All the gang is rearing to go and so am I, and believe me, there isn't any life like the Navy life. They might say they kick you around but that isn't it; they wasn't used to authority and the officers use full authority and they make you wash daily and they make you obey orders as given and discipline and duty are taught to be most important. If you disobey orders you are sent to a place called the "Brigg," and there you get bread and water (B. & W.)

Say, Marsa, when I write to you again my address will be changed and you be sure and notify Zeffa, Phil and

Francis, Irene, etc., and tell them to write as soon as they receive my permanent address for a few weeks.

I'll be out of detention Friday and probably get shore leave Saturday or 4th of July. My shots in arm and my vaccinations are all over and nothing to worry about until I get aboard ship and then you get a needle run into your back about three inches for spinal "manjetus" or something like that and that sure does put chills down your old spine.

Say, Marsa, if you see any of the guys tell them to write and tell them I'll answer immediately. Is there very many dances and what guys are going to the dances and what girls do they rush?

Well, Marsa, you tell Mama that I am coming fine and eat like a horse. I'll bet I gained ten pounds already. We sure do drill here and after drill we have a big feed and it doesn't seem like they can fill me up and I go to bed at 8:30 and rise at 5 bells. Well, Marsa, I'll close this time.

Your Brother Joe.

P. S. Where is the celebration for the Fourth. Give me Sandy's address. A friend of mine saw young Malone in this regiment where I was but I was 'phoned to too late.

Drastic Rules Promulgated to Meet Big Sugar Shortage.

Omaha, Nebr., July 1.—With only 1,600,000 tons of sugar available to supply the United States during the remainder of the year, drastic sugar regulations have been put into effect by the Food Administration. To meet the ordinary requirements on the strictest rating, we will have to cut our consumption 25%, announces the Nebraska organization. Summarized the new rules are:

All buyers of sugar, except the householder for home consumption, must secure certificates and present them when the purchase of sugar is made. Retailers will secure their certificates from their county food administrator. All others will get theirs from the Omaha office.

Householders may buy not to exceed 2 pounds at any one time in cities and towns and 5 pounds in rural communities. While householders are entitled to 3 pounds per person each month, they are asked to eat only 2 pounds per month.

Public eating places are prohibited from putting sugar bowls on their tables or counters.

Families can get 25 pounds for canning and preserving purposes. Additional 25 pound lots can be bought only on a certificate issued by the County Food Administrator.

The manufacture of ices and sherbets is now prohibited.

Boarding houses, feeding twenty-five people or more, must secure certificates for their sugar.

Beef, Sugar and Meats Must Be Conserved at All Times.

Omaha, Nebr., July 1.—Beef, sugar and wheat must be conserved at all hazards, says the Food Administration of Nebraska. The conservation measures regarding these commodities will be continued that we may meet immediate needs and also build up a reserve, which well meet demands later in the season. There will be no let up in the regulations, announces the Food Administration.

Mauling It Out of Him.

While the editor of a certain newspaper was away from home for a while he left the paper in charge of a minister of the gospel. During the minister's stay in the office the following letter came from a subscriber: "I know very well that I paid my subscription to your paper the last time I was in your office. If I get any more letters from you as I received last week I will come in and maul h—l out of you." The minister answered the note like this: "I have been trying to get that out of the editor for ten years, and if you will come down and maul it out of him, then, my dear sir, I have twenty members of my church I will let you operate on."

THAT MORNING LAMENESS

If you are lame every morning, and suffer urinary ills, there must be a cause. Often it's weak kidneys. To strengthen the weakened kidneys and avert more serious troubles, use Doan's Pills. You can rely on O'Neill testimony.

Mrs. Luke Mandeville, O'Neill, says: "My back was weak and painful and when I did my housework, my back became so lame I could hardly use it. In the morning when I first got up, I was stiff and sore across my back and found it difficult to stoop. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and from the first they stopped my backache and rid me of the lameness. I have used Doan's Kidney Pills at different times since and have always been helped. I think so much of Doan's I am seldom without a box in the house."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mandeville had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

BAD STORM STRIKES STUART

Hail Breaks Hundreds of Windows and Ruins Gardens and Field Crops.

Stuart Advocate: Last Thursday evening about six o'clock, the village of Stuart and the country south of it was visited by the worst wind and hail storm in its history.

The cloud came up so rapidly that but few were aware of its approach, and the first intimation we had of its coming was a cloud of dust and dirt which filled the air and made it impossible to see across the street.

The wind had blown but a few minutes when a deluge of rain and hail struck and completed the devastation began by the wind.

The first damage noted was to Frank Biglow's rye northwest of the cemetery, and from there south on a strip about one and a half miles wide the destruction of crops was almost complete for a distance of ten or twelve miles, and taking in some of our best agricultural district.

Stuart village appeared to be in the worst part of the storm, and Mr. Ramm just west of town was one of the heaviest losers. In addition to the loss of his crop he had two large barns demolished by the wind. Anton Batenhorst and Henry Shald each estimate their losses at five thousand dollars.

The Brayton farm with its big orchard was also visited and the fruit ruined.

The big new McGrew hay barn in the west part of town was blown to pieces by the wind entailing a heavy loss as there was no insurance.

Frank Biglow lost heavily, having his large granary unroofed and also had a corner blown from the roof of his residence, through which the water poured, damaging the plaster badly.

James Flannigan's house was also damaged by the flood of water which entered through broken windows.

Henry Shald, in addition to the loss of his crops, had an eighty foot corn crib blown over and badly wrecked.

M. J. Flannigan's stone garage south of the school house was blown to pieces and the roof carried over into Abner Spragg's yard.

Many chickens were killed by the hail, Joe Wedige southeast of town, alone lost three hundred.

Ferdinand and Ben Kaup and John Hoffman report their crops almost a complete loss.

As usual Joe Bernt was hailed out, making about seven times in the past dozen years that hail has struck his place.

In fact, nearly every farm down to the Kozisek neighborhood were badly damaged, and the total loss will run into many thousands of dollars.

The north end of one of the Flannigan hay barns was carried away, and John Banning had his new garage in the east part of town entirely destroyed.

A number of windmills among which was that of Albert Desive, were blown down.

Never before since the country was settled had Stuart had so many fine gardens. Every one had a "war garden," but they sure looked as though the war had struck them after the storm had passed.

The velocity of the hail was so great that in some cases it cut apples in two on the trees leaving one-half hanging by the stem.

The ground under the cherry and plum trees was literally covered with fruit.

Getting Together.

Judge Wade, talking before the America First association, at St. Paul, said a lot of good things, but the best of his address was what he said about "getting together" in the following words:

"When I saw that at Camp Dodge before all the buildings were completed, the Catholic clergy were celebrating mass in the Y. M. C. A. building, and when I saw the non-Catholic chaplains holding service in the Knights of Columbus building, and when it came to me that the chaplains there at the camp representing the different religious denominations were working side by side, and shoulder to shoulder in unity of effort, trying to keep those boys who were away from their homes, right with God, I said,—"Thank God, they are getting together."

"Look out of the window and see the boys marching by in step with the drum beat, following the flag. They are marching away to the camp—if your own boy is there, you won't see them for the tears. There they go—side by side—the boy from the German home—the boy from the Swedish home—the boy from the home of Irish parents and Scotch parents, and French parents, and Norwegian parents—the sons of every race. There they go with steady step—the banker's boy; the son of the street cleaner; the lawyer's boy and the farmer's boy; the Methodist boy, the Jewish boy, the Catholic boy—the boy of every creed, marching side by side, following the flag on up to the camp then down to the coast,—on to the transports, and across the great ocean with all its peril, and over upon the fields of France—side by side—shoulder to shoulder; then down into the trenches side by side, and side by side many of them, will die; and I tell you, that in the mingled blood of those boys of different creeds and races, and classes, we are going to build a new America—stronger, more powerful, more just, and more free than ever before.

"Yes, the war brings its burdens, but it is also bringing to us blessings that we never knew before. Oh, if we would just keep the spirit up! Oh, if we can only keep the spirit right—the heart right, we will have no difficulty in winning this war."

Something to Live For.

"Alas! I have nothing to live for now!" wailed the rejected lover.

"Oh, pshaw!" returned the practical maiden. "Better stick around until the Kaiser is hanged."

Rowe "New Idea" Valveless Hog Oiler

The Rowe "New Idea" Hog Oiler is different and we claim superior to any other hog oiler on the market. It is very simple in mechanism, can't get out of order, never fails to work if properly adjusted, and is most economical in the use of oil.

"On Guard All The Time" to keep hogs free from lice. If your hogs are lousy you are losing from 25 to 40 cents on each hog each week by raising lice instead of pork, to say nothing of your entire herd being more susceptible to cholera and other virulent diseases. Which is the most profitable for you to raise, pork or lice? On an average herd of 25 healthy hogs, if kept free from lice, you will make enough extra in two weeks time, to pay for a "NEW IDEA" Oiler and enough Medicated Oil to keep them free from lice, sleek, contented, and growing until they are ready for market.
