Luther Shanner has filed suit in the district court praying for a decree of divorce from Nellie Shanner, on the ground of abandonment. In his petition he alleges that they were married at Cleveland, Ohio, on March 22, 1913, and that shortly thereafter he came to this county where he has since resided. He alleges that she deserted him on September 5, 1913, and that she refuses to live with him. He asks for an absolute divorce and such other relief as may be just and equitable.

Col. James Elliott, of West Point, county attorney of Cuming county, was an O'Neill visitor last Thursday while on his way via auto to Boyd county. The Frontier acknowledges a pleasant call from Mr. Elliott while he was in the city. For over a quarter of a century he was the editor of the West Point Republican, one of the most militant republican papers in the state, disposing of his paper when he was elected county attorney two years ago. Mr. Elliott says that all signs point to a republican victory in Nebraska this fall.

1840. When he was thirteen years of age his parents came to this country and settled at Fall River, Mass., where he remained until 1860 when he went to northern Michigan, where he resided until the spring of 1878 when he came to this county and settled on a farm four miles northeast of this city. He was one of the pioneer settlers that formed what was known for years as the Michigan settlement northeast of this city. He was united in marriage at Hancock, Michigan, to Mrs. Bridget Murphy in 1868. To this union four children were born three of whom are living to mourn the death of a kind and loving father. The children are: Con G. Murphy, of Grants Pass, Oregon; Mrs. Louie Storm, of Gregory, S. D., and Mrs. T. J. Enright of this city, all of whom were at his bedside when he passed away. There is also one step-son, Felix Murphy, who resides in Oregon.

Mr. Murphy always enjoyed good health, never having a severe sickness until taken with what proved to be his fatal illness some four weeks ago. He did not suffer any pain and enjoyed visiting with those who called to see him. He retained all his faculties to the last.

Deceased was well known and admired by a large circle of old lived here for forty years, with the friends and acquaintances. Having exception of about four years, which he spent in Montana, he was widely known to all the pioneers of the county, and there will be genuine sorrow in their ranks when they learn of his passing. He was a kind and indulgent father, a good citizen and a true and loyal friend.

The Frontier joins the many friends of the family in tendering them its condolence in their hour of sorrow.
