Mr. Cherry is now in the tractor business and has one of the most beautiful homes in North Denver. W. M. Caldwell, route agent of the American Railway Express Company, was in the city two days this week looking over the situation of the Express companies. Mr. Caldwell found conditions perfectly satisfactory at both depot offices, but expressed himself as favoring an up-town office where the business might be handled with more convenience to the public. There is no question but what the express companies would secure more business here if there was an uptown office as many people object to walking to the depot to send their packages. We understand they contemplate making J. A. Brown their uptown agent, if they decide on opening an up-town office. This location would be very convenient for the patrons of the express companies. Notice. The proposition as to whether or not the Union Church at Emmet shall be dedicated to the Methodist church will be voted on at the close of the regular four o'clock services next Sunday. All interested parties are requested to be present. Paddock Township Caucus. O. F. Biglin Passes Away. Owen F. Biglin died at his home in this city at 7:15 last Tuesday morning after an illness of over three years of arterial sclerosis, at the age of 56 years and 11 months. Deceased was born at Dunmore, Pa., on November 5, 1861. In the fall of 1881 he came west and for a time was a brakeman on the Fremont Elkhorn and Missouri Valley railroads, now the Northwestern, running through this city. He located in O'Neill in the fall of 1882 and was a resident of this city continuously since. When he first came to O'Neill he worked for Patrick Hagerty, who at that time ran the largest general store in this section of the state. He later entered the store of McCann & Co., which store he later purchased and conducted until sickness compelled him to relinquish the active management of the business to his sons, some three years ago. On February 14, 1884, he was united in marriage to Miss Margaret A. McCann, who with eight children are left to mourn the death of a kind and loving husband and father. The children are: John, Hastings; Ambrose, Casper; Sister Julia, Sioux City; and Frank, William, Irene, Genevieve and Clare of this city. The children were all at his bedside when he passed away except Ambrose, who had returned to his home at Casper the day before he died. He also leaves two brothers and three sisters, P. J. of this city and William, who lives in Pennsylvania, where the sisters also reside. A little over three years ago Mr. Biglin's health began to fail and he went to Omaha and consulted specialists who informed him that he was suffering from arterial sclerosis, for which there was no cure. Notwithstanding the condition of his health he always maintained his cheerfulness and calmly awaited the call from above. It was the writer's good fortune to have known him long and well, and we only knew him to esteem him more highly as the years passed by. We first met him thirty-seven years ago, while he was still railroading, and we have been friends and neighbors in the years that have passed since that time. Today we miss his kindly smile and friendly greeting; we long in vain to hear the ring of his jovial laughter and to feel his genial presence. Possessed of an unusually keen intellect, a deep student and a great reader it was a real pleasure to discuss with him the questions of moment in our public life. But he has answered the last call and his passing will be sincerely mourned by many outside of his immediate family, for his friends were legion. He was always prominent in civic affairs and served the city in various capacities of honor and trust. He was the first mayor of this city and several times thereafter was called upon by our people to head the city government. He filled every position with ability and fidelity. He was ever a great booster for this city and county and lived to see O'Neill take its place as one of the best little cities in the state and Holt county become one of the garden spots of the state. He was also prominent in lodge affairs and held membership in the Knights of Columbus, The Elks, the Modern Woodmen, Royal Neighbors and the Ancient Order of United Workmen. He was a devoted husband and kind and indulgent father; to his brothers and sisters a tender brother; to his friends the soul of fellowship. But the greatest of all he was a man. And as a man it is that those who knew him best most love to contemplate him. He believed in scattering flowers in the pathway of his fellow men, to let into the dark places of life the sunshine of human sympathy and human happiness. His devotion to his wife and family and his kindness to everybody will long linger as a fragrant memory in the home which his presence brightened and which death has now darkened. Though he has gone his record has been made and will remain with us as a lasting treasure. His life was gentle, but like the still waters it was deep. In his heart of hearts he carried those he loved, and his hand was never weary, his step never failed those who were in any way dependent upon him. The funeral services were held at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock this morning, Very Rev. M. F. Cassidy officiating and paying a beautiful tribute to the memory of the deceased. The casket was covered with the most beautiful floral designs loving fingers ever wrought, all of which spoke of peace and immortality. The funeral was one of the largest ever held in this city, many friends being present from various parts of the county and state to pay their last respects to their deceased friend, and as a token of respect all the business places of the city were closed during the funeral. The family have the heartfelt sympathy of the people of this city in their bereavement, in which The Frontier joins. Card of Thanks. We wish to express our thanks, and deep appreciation, for the beautiful flowers and wreath, sent us by our friends and neighbors of the Highlander Lodge of O'Neill, for the funeral of our wife and mother. W. R. BUTLER AND CHILDREN. Engagement Announced. Omaha World Herald: Mrs. Emily Mullen announces the engagement of her daughter, Helen, to James Berrigan, of Ewing, Nebr., a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Berrigan of this city. The wedding will take place October 28 at St. Cecilia's cathedral, followed by a wedding breakfast at the home of Miss Mullen's brother, Mr. Arthur Mullen and Mrs. Mullen of this city. Miss Mullen has made Omaha her home for the past year, having moved here from O'Neill, Nebr. She is a graduate of St. Mary's Academy. Mr. Berrigan is a prominent rancher near Ewing. Announcement. Having received the republican nomination for County Clerk of Holt county I respectfully solicit your support at the polls on election day. I am past the age limit for the army, my only son is now in France and feel that I am competent to fill the office of County Clerk, thereby releasing some one who will be able to go and help the boys at the front, if they so desire. If I am elected I promise to do my utmost to give you an efficient and economical administration of the County Clerk's office. I have been a resident of Holt county for twenty years and expect to reside here, and if elected will feel it my duty to do anything that is for the welfare and interest of the county and its people. Respectfully, E. F. PORTER, Chambers, Nebr. LIBERTY LOAN ITEMS. To the People of Holt County: The present business of the United States is war. Every other consideration is of secondary importance. The Fourth Liberty Loan campaign is as important as the great battle now raging in France. Monday, October 7, 1918, is the day set aside in this county for the purpose of raising Holt county's quota, amounting to $829,750. This task is going to require the united effort of every loyal citizen in the county. At a meeting of the Liberty Loan Solicitors and members of the County Council of Defense from the various townships of the county, each individuals share was fixed. Some may have been overlooked. This public appeal is intended for every resident of the county, man or woman, owning property or having an income, to appear at the voting place in their respective towns or townships on Monday, October 7, 1918, at 2 p. m., and subscribe for their share of Liberty Bonds. S. J. WEEKES, Chairman Liberty Loan Committee. R. R. DICKSON, Chairman County Council of Defense. LIBERTY LOAN PERSONAL QUOTAS FIXED. The personal quota which each person in Holt county will be asked to subscribe to the Fourth Liberty Loan was decided upon at a meeting at the court house in O'Neill Tuesday afternoon. Every precinct in the county was represented by several members of the precinct soliciting committees and its representative on the County Council of Defense. The committees reviewed the cards containing the financial statements of all Holt county residents and prorated the quotas on the financial standing of each person. The amounts previously subscribed and contributed for Liberty Bonds and donated for war society activities were taken into consideration in making the allotments. Monday the citizens of each precinct are called upon to meet at the precinct polling place to receive knowledge of their allotment and to make their subscription. In O'Neill the meeting will be in the K. C. hall and at Atkinson at the opera house. About 175 precinct soliciting committees and members of the Defense Council were in attendance at the meeting, which was one of the most representative ever held in the county. WITH THE LOCAL DRAFT BOARD. The Local Exemption Board has completed mailing questionnaires to men of the ages of 19 to 36 years, who registered September 12. Men having claims for deferred classification as farmers or farm laborers or other industrial occupations are not classified by the Local Board but questionnaires are forwarded promptly to Omaha where the District Board for the State of Nebraska classifies them. After agricultural claims are classified by the District Board, the record is returned to the Local Board and notice of classification mailed to registrants. Men making claims on the grounds of dependency are classified by the Local Board and their classification is subject to review on appeal either by the registrant himself, or by the agent of the Federal government.
