WIFE DECLARES HARRY HAWKER MAY TRY AGAIN

Doesn't Expect Daring Flier to Give Up Atlantic Idea—Hawker and Grieve Given Joyous Welcome In England.

By United Press.

London, May 27.—Harry Hawker and Mackenzie Grieve set foot on British soil today, nearly a week after they had been given up for lost in their attempt to fly from Newfoundland to Ireland in a Sopwith airplane.

The aviators, the greatest national heroes of the moment, landed at Thurso, Scotland, today from the Danish tramp steamer Mary, which picked them up in mid-ocean early last Monday after they had been forced to descend in the sea.

Hawker and Grieve were scheduled to start this afternoon from Thurso for London, where, judging from all indications, they will be given a royal welcome tomorrow. Britain has been jubilating ever since the news spread like wildfire over the land that Hawker and Grieve had been saved.

Grieve, immediately upon landing sent the following message to his parents:

"Safe, will wire later."

When news of the rescue was first received, the Sopwith Airplane Company telegraphed Thurso for confirmation. Later it was confirmed by an airplane courier.

"We had given him up for lost," declared Mrs. Grieve when she heard the news of her husband's rescue. She was too overcome to say more. Grieve's native town, Froxford, took on a carnival appearance.

Crowds Toss riats.

As the news spread there was great enthusiasm throughout Britain. There were remarkable scenes in the streets, in concert halls and in moving picture theaters when the announcement of the rescue was made. Crowds cheered and tossed hats in the air.

A throng gathered around the home of Hawker in Surbiton, near London. The town was beflagged as it has not been since the war. At the church the evening service was one of thanksgiving.

"For this is my son who was dead and is alive again, who was lost and is found," was the text of Rev. T. J. Wood. There were special prayers and psalms of thanksgiving and the doxology, "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow" was sung. The rescue was announced from many other pulpits.

King Sends Message.

Mrs. Hawker received a telegram of congratulation from the king and queen who a few days earlier had sent her a telegram of condolence on the supposed death of her husband.

"Sunday is my lucky day," Mrs. Hawker declared as crowds gathered around her house. She was almost unable to talk at first, but later recovered her self possession sufficiently to say a few words to the newspapermen.

Will Try Again.

"I said Saturday we'd have good news on Sunday. I just felt it. This is the luckiest Sunday of all. I don't know my husband's intentions, but I wouldn't be surprised if he tries the flight again. A failure like this won't stop him. It will only make him the more determined. If he does try again he'll get across next time. I've had a presentiment throughout I would see my husband again and have always been confident, although everybody condoled with me. I am overjoyed. I'm too overcome to say more."

Outside the house a notice was posted:

"Mr. Hawker has been found."

It was this that first brought the news to Surbiton and started the eager crowds shouldering and pressing close around the doorstep of the famous airman

According to dispatches received here from Thurso, that village prepared to give Hawker and Grieve a big popular demonstration when they start for London.

"The courage of Hawker and Grieve places them in the first rank of the pioneers of the air," declared General Seely, of the air ministry. "I can hardly give expression to my rejoicing that their gallant attempt to cross the Atlantic has not cost brave lives. The distance covered shows that, given fine weather, it will soon be possible to cross the ocean by airplane, but their experience proves the trip is still hazardous even for the most perfect aircraft. It is better to wait a little while and not take such big risks until better arrangements can be made."

Blessing in Disguise.

Officers at the admiralty believe the clogged feed pipe that forced Hawker to descend within easy reach of the steamer Mary, which saved him, was a blessing in disguise. Had he continued on his voyage, they pointed out, he would have run into a hurricane which probably would have dashed his machine into the sea far from aid. This storm would have been encountered by Hawker about two hours after he passed the spot where he came down.

The first direct word from Hawker received here was a message to London Daily Mail which offered the $50,000 prize for the first trans-Atlantic flight. This message was sent from on board the Revenge in Capas Flown, where the German fleet is interned and said:

"The machine stopped owing to the filter feed pipe from the radiator to the water pump being blocked with refuse, like solder shifting loose in the radiator. It was no fault of the motor, which was perfect from start to finish. There was no trouble in landing on the water. A dory picked us up after an hour and a half."

The message of condolence which the king sent to Mrs. Hawker only a few hours before news of the rescue, said:

"I feel the nation has lost one of its most able and daring pilots. He sacrificed his life to the honor of British flying." As soon as word of the rescue was confirmed the king hastened to send his telegram of congratulation.

Started May 18.

Hawker and Grieve started from Newfoundland the afternoon of Sunday, May 18, in an effort to fly to Ireland. They dropped from sight and were given up for lost by British officials. Yesterday the Danish tramp steamer Mary, lumbering leisurely past the north of Scotland on its voyage from New Orleans to Denmark, displayed a signal saying it had saved the fliers of the Sopwith airplane. This signal was seen by the Lloyds signal station at the Butt of Lewis. The station immediately asked: "Is it Hawker?"

"Yes" was spelled out by the signaler of the ship, and the Mary proceeded on her way. The news was telegraphed to the admiralty officers in London and orders were issued to remove the aviators and land them. A destroyer overhauled the Mary and took off Hawker and Grieve. The following official announcement was made today:

Official Statement.

"Hawker and Grieve landed at Thurso. They will arrive in London at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. Both are in good health. They alighted 500 miles west of Ireland on account of engine trouble. The airplane was not salvaged."

The steamer Mary apparently carried no radio. This would account for the fact that no word of the rescue was heard all during the week, while hopes faded until Hawker and Grieve were almost universally believed to have perished in their attempt to be the first men to fly across the Atlantic.

STEAMER BRINGS CARGO OF GERMAN HELMETS TO WALES TO BE RE-MELTED

London, May 27.—A steamship has landed in Wales with a cargo of German helmets for re-melting in the steel works at Lanelly into knives, forks and spoons.

ACTRESS GETS DIVORCE.

Santa Barbara, Cal., May 27.—Margarita Fisher Pollard, stage and movie actress, was today granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Harry Pollard, motion picture actor, now in Los Angeles. She charged habitual intemperance and asked no alimony.

DESTRUCTION BY VOLCANO WIDESPREAD

Amsterdam, May 27.—The volcano of Kalut, in Java has burst into eruption, wiping out 20 villages in the district of Brengat and 11 in the vicinity of Blitar and causing deaths estimated at 15,000, according to a Central News dispatch received here.

The volcano Kalut (Keloet) is one of the 14 active volcanoes on the island of Java. Kalut is in eastern Java, south of Surabaya.

RECOVER BODIES OF 24 VICTIMS

Searchers Make Further Gruesome Finds In Ruins of Cedar Rapids Plant—Inquiry Under Way.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 27.—While Coroner King's investigation of the explosion which wrecked the Douglas Starch Company plant here Thursday got under way, this afternoon, additional bodies were taken from the ruins.

Searchers this afternoon took out several bodies, bringing the known death list to 24. Of the bodies recovered 19 have been identified.

The missing this afternoon counted 24.

Workers clearing away the debris are about to reach the spot which formerly was the dry room and the thin boiler department. It is thought the explosion occurred in these rooms and officials were of the opinion that many more bodies would be found there.

The coroner began taking testimony at 2 o'clock.

NC-4 IS HELD AT MOORINGS AT AZORES

Washington, May 27.—Confirming weather predictions, Rear Admiral Jackson, at Ponta Delgada this morning cabled the navy department that the naval seaplane NC-4 still was held at her moorings by unfavorable flight conditions. Weather reports from the Azores indicated the trans-Atlantic flight probably cannot be resumed before Tuesday at the earliest.

Official tabulation of the number of individuals subscribing to the loan has not been completed, but is expected to be close to 15,000,000.

THREE NEW NOTES SENT BY GERMANS

Completed German Counter Proposals Expected to Be Submitted Tuesday — Bombing Plans Under Consideration.

Paris, May 27.—The French government has received from the German peace delegation the assurance that it will ask no further extension of time for consideration of the peace terms. The extension granted last week expires Thursday.

By Associated Press.

Paris, May 26.—The German peace delegation today sent three new notes to the secretariat of the peace conference. The notes deal respectively with reparations and responsibility, German property in allied countries, and German religious missions abroad.

Germany's complete counter proposals to the peace terms are expected to be at the peace conference tomorrow. Sixteen notes asking for modifications in the terms have now been submitted.

ERZBERGER PROTESTS.

Berlin, May 27.—Mathias Erzberger, chairman of the German armistice commission, has sent a note to General Nudant, the representative of Marshal Foch at Spa, protesting against the alleged encouragement given by General Gerard, of the French army, to those seeking the separation of Bavarian palatinate from Bavaria and Germany.

The note was sent through General von Hammerstein, the German military representative at Spa.

The question of bombing German cities, including Berlin, as part of the military program to be followed in the event the Germans refuse to sign the treaty, was understood today to have been discussed by General Robertson, of the British army, and General Liggett, of the American army.

Deliver 13th Note.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau's 13th note to the allied council was delivered Sunday. It is a rejoinder to the council's reply to the German note regarding responsibilities.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau insists that Germany's only responsibility is for the violation of Belgian neutrality, which it is ready to make reparation for, and declares that all the powers were responsible for the war and that the material damage done was the work of the allied armies, as well as the Germans.

Only One Concession.

With the exception of one minor concession, all suggestions and counter proposals by Germany for the disposition of the Saar basin have been rejected by the reply of the allied and associated powers.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau's appeal for an oral discussion of the points at issue on this subject was ignored.

The concession agreed to is that Germany might create a prior charge upon her assets or revenues for the payment for the mines in the Saar region if the plebiscite goes against France.

If, however, the sum agreed upon is not paid within a year from the date it is due, the reparation commission shall effect payment under instructions from the League of Nations.

This alteration was made in view of Germany's declaration that it was impossible for her to accumulate a sufficient sum of gold with which to pay for the mines in the 15 years before the plebiscite is taken, since other reparations would constitute a constant drain.

DENY REPORTED SPLIT.

Berlin, Saturday, May 27.—"The cabinet and Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau are in full accord with respect to the general outline and the specific proposals and counter proposals which will make up the German reply," according to an official statement made today after the return of Philipp Scheidemann, Mathias Erzberger and Count von Bernstorff from Spa.

TEXAS GUARD TO AID MEXICAN OFFICIALS

Eagle Pass, Tex., May 27.—The state of Texas will cooperate with the Mexican government in stamping out disorders along the border, especially the efforts by Mexican bandits to smuggle arms across the line, it was announced today after conferences between Adjutant General Hurley, of Texas, and Governor Mireless, of Coahuila, Mex It was said the First Texas cavalry will be used as a border guard.

"BIG 4" ACTS ON RUSSIAN PROBLEM

Kolchak and Denekine Governments to Be Recognized Upon Compliance With Conditions Fixed.

Paris, May 27.—The council of four of the peace conference has decided conditionally to recognize the anti-bolshevist governments of Admiral Kolchak and General Denikine, according to Reuter's agency here.

The conditions for the recognition are that regarding the future of Russia these governments agree to convoke and accept the verdict of a genuine constituent assembly; likewise that the League of Nations covenant and its consequences as affecting the boundaries of the former empire be accepted.

The constituent assembly is to determine the future form of government for Russia.

The policy adopted, it is added, will enable the allies to recognize and assist any force in Russia co-operating in the struggle against soviet rule, because such recognition will be in force only until such time as the constituent assembly decides upon the permanent form of government. The regional governments through and the threat made to the line of communications between Petrograd and Pskov at Gatchina, the bolshevists are retiring from their positions on the northwestern front, according to a Russian wireless message today.

The message also says that the bolshevists have retired to new positions 10 versts (6 2-3 miles) east of Riga.

The allies will not furnish Admiral Kolchak and General Denekine with troops but will supply them with arms, munitions, money and food on a larger scale than hitherto. It is stipulated that there will be in interference with the races of non-Russian states recently erected from old Russian territory.

BOLSHEVISTS ANXIOUS.

By Associated Press.

London, May 27.—While there is no confirmation that Nicolai Lenine, the bolshevist premier, has proposed an armistice to Admiral Kolchak, head of the all-Russian government at Omsk, there are indications that the bolshevists are anxious over the fate of Petrograd and Moscow. A wireless dispatch states that the defense committee of Moscow is appealing for women volunteers for military service and admits that non-bolshevist troops are fighting in the outskirts of Riga.

According to a dispatch from the Reuter correspondent there is no doubt that Petrograd can be taken, but he says its capture would be useless, owing to the allies' inability to feed the population.

BAPTISTS ELECT SIOUX CITY MAN

Choose D. C. Schull as President For 1920—Two Million Gift From Rockefeller Assured.

By Associated Press.

Denver, Colo., May 27.—D. C. Shull, of Sioux City, Ia., was today elected president of the Norther Baptist convention. Frank L. Miner, also of Iowa, was chosen treasurer.

Buffalo, N. Y., today was unanimously selected by the northern Baptist convention as the meeting place for the 1920 convention of the church.

Completion of the $6,000,000 Victory fund, collection of which was begun last fall, was announced to the convention today. This assure the receipt of a contingent gift of $2,000,000 from John D. Rockefeller, announced last week.

The prominence given to western men and women was a feature of the report of the nominating committee, presented to the Northern Baptist convention here today. Besides nominating D. C. Shull, a prominent business man of Sioux City, Ia., for president the committee in making its selections of officers and board members for the ensuing year gave additional greater recognition to the west than heretofore.

In nominating Mr. Shull for president the committee also adhered to the long established custom of limiting this nomination to laymen, although it had been suggested that the position be given to a clergyman.

The principal nominations submitted by the committee follow:

Officers of the convention: President, D. C. Shull, Iowa; first vice president, Rev. Frederick E. Taylor, Indiana; second vice president, H. G. Stoddard, Massachusetts; corresponding secretary, Rev. William C. Bitting, Missouri; recording secretary, Rev. Maurice A. Levy, Massachusetts; statistical secretary, Rev. Charles A. Walker, Pennsylvania; treasurer, Frank L. Miner, Iowa.

Members of the executive committee (terms expire 1922); Rev. W. S. Abernathy, Missouri; Rev. G. A. Briggs, New York; J. A. Earl, Iowa; Robert Earl, Minnesota; W. W. Everett, District of Columbia; Rev. Joseph C. Hazen, Illinois; Mrs. Andrew MacLeish, Illinois; W. W. Smith, Michigan; E. J. Sternberg, Wisconsin, and J. A. Sunderland Nebraska.

President American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, Rev. T. J. Villers Michigan; president American Baptist Home Mission Society, Charles R. Brock, Colorado; president American Publication Society, W. J. Brimson, Illinois; president of the Women's American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, W. A. Montgomery, New York; president Women's American Baptist Home Mission Society, Mrs. John Nuveen, Illinois.

American radio experts have unearthed the existence of a secret German wireless station in Africa. The station had been in operation throughout the war but had evidently been of limited value since it only received messages. The exact location of the station is still a mystery.

CURIOUS IDEAS ABOUT GOLF

Some of Them, That Have Been Preserved, Will Be Appreciated by Devotees of the Game.

Twenty years ago the majority of women knew nothing about golf, and many good anecdotes are still told of some of the curious ideas they had regarding the game. One lady, making sympathetic conversation at dinner, said to an enthusiastic golfer:

"I often see you in your red coat. Do you need many dogs to play golf?"

A younger lady said she knew exactly how the game was played.

"They get what they call caddies to hunt about in the grass till they find a round stone, and then they hit it into a rabbit hole."

A third lady, who had evidently enjoyed a nearer view of the game, said:

"It is played by two men. One is a gentleman and the other is a common man. The common man sticks a ball on a lump of dirt, and the gentleman knocks it off!"

A Good Audience.

Little Elizabeth studies music, also elocution, and it means much studying and practicing. It is sometimes hard to impress on her the importance of "practice makes perfect;" however, she is faithful. Edith, her playmate, is not burdened with these duties and often waits patiently while Elizabeth "practices."

To encourage Elizabeth, her mother remarked, "Won't it be a terrible thing for Edith to grow up and not know how to play the piano?" Elizabeth sighed and answered, "Well, one thing, Edith is going to grow up to be a mighty good audience."

Looked Like Melodrama.

When Lewis Waller was playing Charles Surface in "The School for Scandal" he unfortunately stumbled just before making his entrance, and his right hand was thrust into a pot of red paint, with which a scenic artist had been retouching some of the "props." There was no time to lose, so Mr. Waller walked on the stage with his hand apparently dripping with gore, as from some hideous crime. The audience imagined the actor had injured himself, until his uncontrollable mirth reassured them.

Whence "Dutch."

The name Dutch is derived from Dietsch, meaning the vernacular, as distinguished from Latin. It is the same word as the German Deutsch. Dutch belongs to the Frankish division of the Low German, and is closely related to the Flemish, with which it is now practically identified in its written form. The Dutch language is one of the Germanic group of dialects, and is practically the same in its structure.

Plenty of Cut Glass Pickle Dishes.

"I suppose your friends gave you wedding presents enough to start you out housekeeping in good shape?"

"Well, it's going to be a little awkward, I fancy, trying to serve roast beef and boiled cabbage in pickle dishes, but perhaps we can manage it."

On the Reservation.

"Will Injun smoke the pipe of peace with paleface?"

"Out of date, my dear fellow," responded the Carlisle graduate. "But I don't mind having a cigarette."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Self-Preservation.

"You never drink the stuff you have been selling," commented the officer.

"No. I know what it will do to a man, and a bootlegger has to keep his wits about him."

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

Terrifying.

"A lady of forbidding countenance?"

"Yes, even the automobiles pull up when she crosses the street."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

But few people ever make their way through the world on the strength of their phrenological developments.
