

SEE "MICKEY" AT The Royal Theatre

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, OCTOBER 17 AND 18

This delightful creation which Mark Sennett directed with his finest comedy touches and skill comes to the Royal Theatre for a limited engagement of two days commencing October 17th and if it does not break every record of this theatre this will be the first time that Mickey has not established such a record since she became the darling of the year.

O'Neill to Have Landing Field.

O'Neill is to have a landing field for airplanes. The selection of the site, which probably will be the Smith Merrill pasture north of town, will be considered at a meeting of the Commercial Club in the near future.

The necessity for a marked and illuminated field has been demonstrated on numerous occasions within the last few weeks, the city lying on one of the main air routes from east to west and also from north to south. Owing to the superior hotel facilities and the fetees of skilled mechanics maintained by the several garages and also to the fact that O'Neill is one of the big storage places for gasoline and oils, two oil companies maintaining plants and storage reservoirs here, aviators often extend their normal daily mileage by a hundred miles or more to spend the night at this point. Just a few weeks ago a belated aviator reached O'Neill after sundown and spent a half hour or more flying over and around the city before he was able, in the dusk, to select a landing field. Several aviators were in the city the first of the week, one with a companion, arriving Sunday and departed westward Monday afternoon after making minor repairs to his plane. Another, a lone flyer, stopped Monday, coming down from the north and headed south. There is hardly a week but what several planes make landings in the city.

The Elkhorn and the Niobrara valleys, it is declared by aviators, are more clearly marked and are easier followed than the Platte route. Landings also are easier to make, they say, because of the larger unfenced areas, fields and pastures in the north part of the state being larger than in the southern and central portions.

The field, when selected, will be suitably marked with signs and lights as required by the Aero Club of America and the government, so that its location will be plainly visible to flyers by day or night. When this is done O'Neill will be included as one of the principal stopping places on the air routes, in all air maps and literature.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Model T one-ton truck is proving a splendid time and money-saver on the farm. It is very flexible in control, strong and dependable in service. It has really become one of the farmers' necessities. One Ford truck is equal to half a dozen teams and it won't "eat its head off" when not working.

The very low price makes it popular with shrewd farmers who analyze conditions on the farm. Let's talk it over, Mr. Farmer. Price, without body, $550 f. o. b. Detroit. We have them in our garage ready to deliver to you. Come in and drive one home.

couple left Wednesday morning on a wedding trip to Omaha after which they will make their home at Chadron.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Colman. He was born and raised in Inman and has many friends here who extend congratulations on the happy event. He is at present employed as traveling salesman for the Nourse Oil Co. with headquarters at Chadron.

Mr. and Mrs. Colman will arrive in Inman Saturday evening for a short visit with the groom's parents.

Page Has A Fire.

Page Reporter: About two o'clock last Sunday morning fire was discovered in the shed to the rear of the residence, just north of the C. A. Townsend home occupied by A. E. Cole, but before help could arrive the west side of the house caught on fire and the building was rapidly consumed. All of the personal effects belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Cole were saved. The cause of the fire is unknown. We understand that W. E. Wanser, who recently purchased the property of the Blain estate, carried some insurance. Just another piece of evidence in favor of a water system.

OIL DISCOVERY CAUSES GREAT EXCITEMENT

The discovery of oil in a well sunk recently on the Coyne place, north of town, caused great excitement Saturday and Sunday morning, but before any stock could be issued and floated the oil played out and the community has resumed its wonted calm. On completion of drilling the well, Henry Watterson Tomlinson in removing the derrick and tools accidentally spilled some lubricating oil therein and for several days the water took on a decidedly oily taste and appearance. Large numbers were attracted to the

POST OF AMERICAN LEGION ORGANIZED HERE

An application for a charter for a local Post of the American Legion was circulated among the returned soldiers of this city the first of the week. The requisite number of signers was secured and the charter is expected shortly when the local organization will be completed and an effort made to enroll all of the returned soldiers in this organization. It was unanimously decided to name the Local Post Simonson Post, in honor of Gaylor Simonson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Simonson of this city, the first soldier from this locality to be killed in the late war. The following men signed the application for the charter: Leo Francis Carney; Leo Francis Sougey; Water L. Brennan; Frank H. Murray; Luther Clark; John Davidson; Edward M. Gallagher; Frank D. Harmish; Julius D. Cronin; Francis Martin; Pat B. Hart; Oscar C. Hagensick; Clarence F. Pine; H. J. Radaker and E. H. Whelan.

It Happens.

"What now?"
"Just been in the theater, and the song and dance team could sing as well as dance."
"No?"
"Yes."
"Well, I've always said it might happen, but I didn't think it would happen in my time."
