

J. F. SHOEMAKER PASSES AWAY

J. F. Shoemaker died at his home in this city last Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, after an illness of several years, at the age of seventy-three years, six months and twenty-six days.

James Franklin Shoemaker was born at Montgomery, Maryland, on April 19, 1846. While yet in his boyhood his parents moved to Iowa, settled near Ottumwa. In 1870 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Cody. To this union nine children were born, eight of whom survive and were present at the funeral. The children are: George, John, Albert, Miss Mary and Miss Clara, O'Neill; Fred of Winner, S. D.; Louie, of Alliance, and Mrs. Anna Burke, of Randolph, Nebraska. He also leaves a kind and loving father, grandfather funeral. The children are: George, John, Miss Mary and Miss Clara, O'Neill; Fred, of Winner, S. D.; Louie, of Alliance, and Mrs. Anna Burke, of Randolph, Nebraska. He also leaves one brother, Nick Shoemaker, of Ottumwa, Iowa, to mourn the death of a kind and loving father, grandfather and brother.

Deceased was a pioneer westerner. While still under age, in 1865, he crossed the plains from Leavenworth, Kansas, to Denver, with a government ox train hauling freight. He did not like the appearance of Colorado, however, and two years later he returned to Iowa, where he made his home until his removal to this county.

In December, 1885, deceased moved to this county and settled on a homestead four miles east of this city, where he resided for two years and then moved eight miles south of O'Neill where he took a farm and resided until four years ago when failing health made it necessary for him to retire from business and he moved to this city. After moving to the south country Mr. Shoemaker went into the cattle and hay business very extensively and for years was one of the largest stock men in the county. He was also a large dealer in baled hay and was one of the first men in the county to ship hay out of the state. For years he had the contract for furnishing the Sioux City Stock Yards with hay and the quality of the hay furnished them by Mr. Shoemaker created a great demand for the hay product of this county. When he moved south of this city there were but very few people living in that part of the county, but he had great faith in the future of the south country and as opportunity presented he kept investing in real estate until a few years ago he was the owner of 1920 acres of the best hay land to be found in that section and the great increase in the price of hay land has proven that his faith in the future of the south country was not misplaced.

In the death of Frank Shoemaker Holt county loses one of its most substantial citizens. He was a man of unimpeachable integrity, whose word was as good as his bond. He was well known throughout the county and no man had more friends or no one was more loyal to his friends than Frank Shoemaker.

The funeral was held from the Catholic church last Monday morning at 9 o'clock, services being conducted by Very Rev. M. F. Cassidy and interment was made in Calvary cemetery. A large number of old time friends were present to pay their last respects to their departed friend.

O'Neill Was Always On the Map.

Taken from the Chambers Eagle of August, 1891: O'Neill breaks the world's record for wonderful things which happen. A farmer named Charles Ozier resides near that town, and this bit of family history is vouched for by all who know him: Just two years ago the 14th of August a cow belonging to Mr. Ozier gave birth to four calves, all of which are alive today. A year ago the 14th of August his wife gave birth to four babies, three of which died soon after they were born, and one of which succumbed to a like fate some months after. On August 14, 1890, just a year from the date of the four babies' birth, Mrs. Ozier gave birth to three more babies, making seven babies born to them in just one year. The three babies also died. And following all this an old sow belonging to Mr. Ozier acquires notoriety by becoming the mother of eighteen pigs. Surely this is a wonderful family with wonderful possessions.

Statement of the Ownership, Management, Circulation, Etc., Required by the Act of Congress of August 24, 1912.

Of The Frontier, published weekly at O'Neill, Nebraska, for October 1, 1919.

Before me, a Notary Public, in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared D. H. Cronin, who having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Owner of The Frontier, and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and address of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:
D. H. CRONIN, O'Neill, Nebraska.
2. That the owners are:
D. H. CRONIN, O'Neill, Nebraska.
3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total stock of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.)
NONE.

FROM OTHER COUNTY PAPERS.

Page Reporter: Glen Davis, accompanied by Robert Williams, arrived here overland last Friday with ten head of horses from his homestead near Hamblin, Montana. Five weeks were required to make the trip and Mr. Davis says that he lost no time on the way. The dry season in Montana has caused a great many homesteaders to take their stock to other states where there was more moisture. Glen formerly lived at Dorsey but during the past four years has been holding down his homestead. Inman Leader: Frank Conard, Inman hotel man and Dr. Ferrigo, an eye specialist from Fremont, were victims of an automobile accident last Monday evening on the road home from Chambers where Mr. Conard went to bring the doctor here to fill his dates. The evening air was pretty cold and as the driver had no gloves the doctor volunteered to drive part way and it was while the doctor was at the wheel that the accident occurred. The car was going at a pretty good speed and in making a turn in the road about three miles south of town, the car turned completely over, throwing Mr. Conrad a distance of several feet and pinning the doctor under the car. Mr. Conard was badly shaken up but not hurt and seeing the condition the Doctor was in he hurried to the rescue and lifted up the side of the car the doctor crawled out from under the wreck badly frightened but otherwise all right. After help was secured the car was righted again and the trip continued to town. It was a lucky accident for both parties. The only damage done was the breaking of the wind shield.

The Frontier, only $2.00 per year.

SHOWING APPRECIATION
Showing appreciation is an art. To be shown, it must be felt.
Few things are harder to teach than real appreciation. We are in debt to others every day of our lives, yet how often do we speak of it. It is wonderful how the little spoken word of appreciation helps.
The O'Neill National Bank will show its appreciation of your account by the service it gives you.
