

AFTER 6 YEARS—STILL WELL

Now Strong and Hearty Though Case Looked Hopeless

"Six years ago I was in awful condition," says E. K. Chase, 36 E. Cross St., Ypsilanti, Mich. "My family was told I couldn't live more than two months. I was in constant pain from the uric acid and was so bad with rheumatism my legs seemed all drawn up. My back never stopped hurting. The kidney secretions were held back until only a few drops came, and I bloated until I thought my skin would burst. My legs were twice their normal size. "The water seemed to fill my chest and press against the heart. For three months I never moved out of the chair and I choked and gasped for breath like a dying man. All the doctoring failed, and my weight went from 185 to 125 pounds. "Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life. Eleven boxes cured me of every complaint. I have been well six years and able to work as hard as any man."

Timothy approached his lady love timidly, hearing a big fish, which announced its presence subtly, but unmistakably.

"Oh, what a fine cod!" exclaimed Maria. "Wherever did you get it?" "A man at the market gave it to me last week for helping him," replied Tim. "I've been keepin' it for your birthday."

"But my birthday ain't till tomorrow," the girl told him coyly.

"I know, Maria, but I sort o' wondered if you'd mind keepin' it today, as—well, me and—the fish is gettin' kind of impatient."

FIGHTING RAGES OVER BERLIN AS FACTIONS CLASH

More Than 2,000 Lives Cost of German Revolution to Date—Soviet Idea Spreading Through Nation.

Germany's movement toward radicalism has grown beyond the control of the government, today's dispatches indicated.

Many of the country's principal cities are in the hands of communists. Hundreds of lives have been lost in violent fighting.

The Ebert government, one dispatch said, in an effort to stem the rising tide of bolshevism, has granted the demands of the workers. This dispatch said the leaders of the general strike movement had ordered its end.

There was indication, however, that the radicals have passed beyond control of their own leaders as well as the government. It seemed doubtful if the mere order to end the strike will have much effect on the people.

Berlin, March 19.—Since noon firing has occurred in various parts of the city. It is reported that the security police are shooting down all officers of the Baltic troops remaining in Berlin.

Under Den Linden bristled today with barbed wire and the hotel Adlon was thoroughly screened with it and guarded with troops. Wild rumors are afloat, becoming grotesquely magnified in circulation.

The inner city streets are seething with excited people. Disorders are occurring in the suburban districts. There is a conspicuous absence of troops in the workingmen's dwelling districts where agitators are feverishly busy.

Social democrat artillery was reported moving toward Supl. Troops armed with machine guns and flame throwers, a dispatch said, left Unterkrichen, near Stuttgart, for the disturbed areas in Westphalia.

Armed workmen were said to occupy the great part of Westphalia including the Ruhr industrial districts. Armed forces of radicals also were reported in control of Bitterfeld, Langen-Salza and Meiningen.

The situation was reported acute, with armed conflict imminent in Muenster, Bremen, Thuringia and Mecklenburg.

In Berlin the majority socialists have demanded of the government immediate disarming of all troops and other concessions, including participating in the government.

Heavy Loss of Life. It was impossible to obtain telephone connections outside Berlin but motorists who came through the suburbs said that citizens in Schoenberg yesterday captured a truck loaded with retreating Von Kapp insurrectionary troops and massacred them. The dead were variously reported at from 50 to 100 with more than 200 wounded. It is estimated that more than 2,000 have been killed to date since the revolution started.

Scores were killed or wounded in yesterday's fighting in Berlin. Fighting was especially severe near the Brandenburg gate and the Adlon hotel. Additional fighting took place at 11 a. m. today near the hotel but so far as could be learned none was killed.

One apparently reliable report said that President Ebert arrived secretly in the capital last night, accompanied by Philip Scheidemann, the majority socialist leader. Scheidemann, it was said, will be entrusted with reorganization of the cabinet.

The Hotel Adlon, headquarters for most of the foreign missions and residence of the American correspondents, today still bore the appearance of an army hospital in the field. The lower corridors were splattered with blood from the wounded who were carried into the hotel after last night's fighting.

As the Baltic troops marched by the hotel they were jeered by a crowd which had gathered in front of the building. At first the troops responded by firing several volleys in the air. Then suddenly they began shooting into the crowd.

Newspapermen, many American officials and several American women watched the fighting from windows of upper floors. They saw soldiers leap from the ranks and deliberately shoot down citizens on the sidewalks. Other troops poured volley after volley into the fleeing crowd. Dead and wounded lay in the streets. The slaughter lasted about three minutes.

Several American women watched the entire spectacle and hurried below to aid in caring for the wounded after the troops had marched on. Dead and wounded were brought into the Adlon. Surgeons hurriedly cared for the injured.

Government forces marched into the city at 4:30 p. m.

Berlin today continued to live in fear that the infuriated Baltic troops will return. It was said they will refuse disarmament and decline to be split into companies and scattered to different posts, as Defense Minister Noske had planned.

Brookings, S. D., March 22.—Automobile thieves are no respectors of persons. Last night the car in which General Wood and his wife had gone to the college, where he spoke, was stolen during the speech and it was necessary for them to make a long walk afterwards to reach a place where a reception was given.

General Wood has been informed by Baron Romano Avenzanna, Italian ambassador at Washington, that the king of Italy has conferred upon him the cross of grand officer of Saints Mauritius and Lazarus as an appreciation of his efforts to promote good feeling between the United States and Italy. This is one of the highest Italian military orders.

TREATY COMMENT.

World.—The commanding prestige that the United States won in the war has been frittered away, and the country, after all its superb achievements, stands before the world today discredited and without a real friend.

Times.—Mr. Lodge might at any time have secured ratification with reservations sufficient for every reasonable purpose, ratifications not obviously intended as dagger thrusts. He has been beaten at his own game, a most despicable, deadly game and upon him, as leader of the republican majority, the actual responsibility falls and will rest.

Tribune.—The treaty's defeat is a tragedy whose poignancy is intensified by the sourness of the final scent. The country beholds the president wrecking a great undertaking for no better reason than because he could not unconstitutionally have his way.

Boston Post.—What next? Will the president at once move to negotiate a separate treaty with Germany or will he hold the whole matter in abeyance until next fall to become a campaign issue? Something must surely be done to end the grotesque situation in which we now are.

Cleveland Plain Dealer.—Obviously the Senate and the president must continue as partners in the matter of peace making. The constitution sees to that. The country is weary of pseudo peace. It is weary of deadlocks.

IF WILSON RUNS NOW IS HIS TIME

Political Washington Waiting Breathless For Next Move on Treaty From the White House.

Washington, March 22.—If President Wilson is to run for a third term on the issue of treaty ratification now is the psychological time for him to make it known, in the opinion today of close political observers in Washington.

The White House is being anxiously watched by democratic party leaders for some indication of what the president will do, now that the Senate has returned the treaty to him. Officials of the party organization privately profess to believe there is no chance of Wilson becoming a candidate on a ratification platform. But it is considered significant that no definite word has come from the executive mansion and members of the president's household refuse even to talk about it.

A public declaration is expected soon. In that message to the people of the United States, the president is expected to announce that the treaty is in the campaign and that he will not abandon the idea of having a real League of Nations with America in it and that he will await with confidence the verdict of the voters in November.

Those who believe Wilson may run again argue it is logical for him to come forward now as the one candidate whose election would mean beyond a doubt that the people demand ratification. His health is the biggest obstacle, according to those close to the White House. Persons who know him and traveled with him on his speaking tour last fall believe that the importance of treaty ratification transcends everything, in his estimation. He considers the treaty is greater than politics or third term traditions. If he feels that such a step would assure ratification he would be strongly impelled to enter the arena to clarify the issue in the campaign his friends say. At the very least he is expected to get into the fight to the extent of attempting to dictate a treaty plank for the democratic platform, and designating some candidate to make the race on that principle, as a "Wilson man."

Peoria, Ill., March 22.—The unqualified support of 90,000 Illinois miners through representatives in session here today gave unqualified support of State President Alexander Howat, of Kansas, today, when he announced a program for the launching of a general miners' strike in Kansas in defiance of state laws there, which are said to now prohibit strikes of any nature. Howat was one of the leaders of the coal miners recently cited for contempt by Federal Judge Anderson, at Indianapolis.

NEWBERRY FOUND GUILTY WITH 16 OF HIS HELPERS

Verdict Comes as Surprise Before Noon Today—Sentences Will Be Pronounced This Afternoon.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 22.—U. S. Senator Truman Newberry was today sentenced to serve two years in federal prison and fined $10,000 following his conviction on election fraud charges.

Sentence was passed by Judge Clarence W. Sessions, of U. S. district court.

Just before Judge Sessions pronounced sentence, attorneys for the defense moved for a stay of judgement and also for a new trial. The motions were denied.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 22.—Senator Truman H. Newberry and 16 of his 34 co-defendants were found guilty of criminal conspiracy in the 1918 senatorial election by a jury in the United States district court here today. Besides the senator, the men convicted were his brother, John S. Newberry, Paul King, his campaign manager; Frederick Cody, New York legislative agent; Charles Floyd, Grand Rapids; Allan A. Templeton, president of the Detroit board of commerce; Hannibal Hopkins, publicity director; B. Frank Emery, office manager.

Harry O. Turner, Detroit; E. V. Chilson, of the national republican headquarters; Roger Andrews, Menominee, publisher; Milton Oakman, Detroit, politician; William J. Mickel, Oshkosh, Wis.; Richard Fletcher, state labor commissioner; James F. McGreegor, Detroit; Fred Henry, Flint and George S. Ladd, Sturbridge, Mass.

All other defendants were acquitted on the first charge and none was found guilty on the sixth count.

The penalty is a fine of $10,000 or less, and two years or less in prison. "Father will not resign from the United States Senate," Phelps Newberry's son of Senator Newberry, stated. The senator said he would have a formal statement later in the day.

History of Case. The "Newberry case" grew out of one of the bitterest campaigns ever waged for a seat in the United States Senate.

Truman H. Newberry and Henry Ford were the leading contestants.

Newberry, a member of one of Michigan's oldest and, before the automobile industry hit Detroit, wealthiest families; a member of the navy during the Spanish-American war, assistant secretary of the navy in Roosevelt's cabinet and an aide to the commander of the port of New York during the world war, based his appeal for election on a war platform.

Ford for Wilson. Ford, head of the Ford automobile company, head of the Ford peace ship and before the United States entered the war, leading pacifist, built his platform on support of President Wilson's policies.

The Newberry supporters built up a huge organization entering into every county, city and village in the state. By their own admission $178,000 was spent. The government attorneys contended that they had showed $225,000 was paid out to purchase "a seat in the Senate" for Commander Newberry. Testimony given at the trial stated one defendant in a conversation said $800,000 was spent.

Paul H. King headed the Newberry campaign committee in Michigan. The government claimed that Senator Newberry and Frederick Cody hatched the alleged plot to corrupt the 1918 elections in Michigan while they resided in New York. Newberry worked directly through King in carrying out the details of the campaign, the government contended.

The case hinged on the question of whether or not Senator Newberry "caused to be expended" an amount in excess of the sum allowed by the Michigan statutes in procuring his election. This amount is $3,750.

The defense contended that Newberry had nothing to do with the spending of the large sum of money; declared that he did not contribute 1 cent to the campaign fund and was not informed of the huge amounts spent in his behalf during the campaign.

A grand jury summoned in the autumn of 1919 returned indictments accusing 135 men of conspiracy to violate the federal statutes by spending an excessive amount of money in the campaign. A conspiracy to defraud the whole state of Michigan by using the mails in the alleged fraudulent election scheme was also charged.

These were the two main accusations which went before the jury. Four other indictments were either quashed or combined with these two principal charges.

The trial covered a period of eight weeks. More than 400 witnesses testified for the government and approximately 250 for the defense.

Wonderful Story of "Waterless Sea" Would Have Done Credit to Baron Munchausen.

Prester John as a title was like the Egyptian Pharaoh and belonged to whole lines of king who reigned in the East and in Ethiopia in particular. One writer of long ago sets Abyssinia as the kingdom of Prester John. Abyssinia used to be called "Middle India."

It is related that before the year 1241 a letter was addressed by Prester John to Manuel Comnenus, emperor of Constantinople, saying that in Prester John's country there is a "waterless sea," which none have ever crossed. It consists of tumbling billows of sand, never at rest, and contains fish of most excellent flavor.

Three days' journey from the coast of the sand sea is a mountain whence rolls down a "waterless river," consisting of small stones, which crumble into sand when they reach the sea.

Whoever Prester John may have been, if he invented that story, he certainly possessed a vivid imagination and considerable originality.
