For Clerk of the District Court.

I have filed as a candidate for nomination to the office of Clerk of the District Court of Holt county, subject to the action of the republican voters at the primary election on April 20, 1920. If nominated and elected I promise to perform the duties of the office to the best of my ability, without fear or favor. Your vote and active support at the primary will be greatly appreciated.

To The Public and Voters In the 15th Judicial District Nebraska.

The undersigned having caused his name to be placed upon the ticket for the office of Judge of the District Court in the 15th Judicial District of Nebraska, takes this method of telling those not acquainted with him why he has done so.

FIRST: I have done it because I desire to be nominated and elected to the office, if the voters of the district agree with me.

SECOND: After a practice of practically 40 years in the courts of the district I have seen some things which the Judges do which to my mind they should not. And at the same time I have seen many things which Judges do not do which to my mind they should do. And both of which with my long experience and observation I believe can be overcome to the material advantage of litigants and saving to the people of court expenses.

THIRD: A great many people of the district have said and written me saying that it was a shame that there was no one who would come out for the office so they might at least have a chance to vote without being compelled to vote for a man whether they wanted to or not, that this being the second time it had occurred for this office it looked to them as though no one dared to try for the office.

There are many old settlers in the district who know me personally and know whether in their judgment I am qualified for the office or not, to those who do not know me I would suggest that they inquire of those who do and consider forty years of practice as some recommendation.

It will not be possible for me to meet many prior to the primaries but I shall try and see a great many before the election and will at all times answer any proper questions which may be asked, either in person or by mail.

I can say at this time that if elected there will be no strings on me. I have no close friends to reward, or enemies to condemn. I shall be in a position to act in every instance according to my best judgment in conformity with the law as I understand it, without fear or favor from any man or combination of men.

Your votes at the primaries April 20th and the election in November will be appreciated.

Very respectfully yours,
 H. M. UTTLEY,
 Candidate for Judge 15th Judicial District of Nebraska. 43-2p

Announcement of M. P. Kinkaid For the Republican Renomination For Representative in Congress.

I respectfully submit to the voters of the Sixth District my candidacy for re-nomination for Congress. I believe the record of my seventeen years of service is a guarantee of the efforts I have made in their behalf, also of their confidence in the success of those efforts.

Great changes have come in that period. Agriculture has come to be recognized as the most important of our industries. Irrigation has developed new areas of cultivation, and must continue to do so. Potash discoveries in our Sixth District has made it one of the greatest factors in this country in furthering agricultural development.

My long service has placed me at the head of the Committee on Irrigation of Arid Lands, besides giving me advanced positions on other committees, and has otherwise afforded me an opportunity to be of still larger service to my constituents, and it is because I feel that I can render that better and larger service that I submit my candidacy again to the voters of the Sixth District.

I maintain there should be a more equitable division between the price realized by the producer and that paid by the ultimate consumer, and that this should be accomplished largely by the firm enforcement of existing federal antitrust statutes.

The cost of labor is regulated largely by the cost of living, and American labor has the right to expect a living wage, commensurate with American standards of living as compared with the lower standards of foreign countries.

I favor the reduction of the present heavy federal taxes as fast as may be, consistent with the actual necessities of the Government, based upon truly

VOTE FOR

DENNIS H. CRONIN
 Candidate for Republican Nomination for State Senator, Second Term

I have filed for renomination for State Senator, for a Second Term, subject to the action of the republican voters at the Primary Election on April 20, 1920, and will appreciate the support of all voters who believe that my record in the last session of the Senate is worthy of a second term.

My record in the last session is a matter of public record and I court your thorough investigation. During that session I was always found opposing extravagant expenditures of public funds and through my efforts many appropriations that had passed the house were killed in the senate. I am in favor of strict economy in the conduct of all public affairs.

If the new constitution is adopted this fall the coming session will be one of the most important ever held in the state and I believe that my legislative experience eminently fits me to give superior service to the people of the district. I am the first republican to be elected from this senatorial district in twelve years and my nomination will mean my election. Help nominate a winner and a man running for re-nomination for a second term.

Your Vote and Influence Will be Appreciated.

economical management, outstanding obligations, and the maintenance of the integrity of our national credit, and that the masses should be relieved in a measure by shifting a portion of their tax burdens to the shoulders of those who realize immense profits on war contracts.

I deem it my duty to remain in attendance on the present session of Congress, which I regret must prevent my return home to meet voters in person. 44-2

Senator Johnson carried the state of Michigan by about 50,000 and the thirty delegates from that state to the republican national convention will be Johnson boosters.

Lieutenant Governor P. A. Barrows has made good in that position the past two years and should be renominated to that position. You will make no mistake in voting for him.

The parrot still ignores the democratic candidates, preferring to use its "influence" in behalf of one of the republican candidates for state senator and telling the republicans what to do. Before entering foreign fields we would suggest to the presumed editor of the parrot that he try a little "dictating" closer home.

Some people are so constituted that they would rather lie than tell the truth, even when telling the truth would be more advantageous to them. This is the condition of the "Slave" of Joy. And what did he receive for being a slave? Promises it is said that they failed to fulfill when the arrived for payment, and he is left to mourn and ponder over what might have been had he remained faithful to the people he was supposed to represent.

United States Senator George W. Norris will deliver a political address in this city next Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock, at the K. C. hall. Senator Norris comes in the interest of the candidacy of Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California for the republican presidential nomination. He has never before appeared before a Holt county audience and on this occasion should be greeted with a capacity audience.

Holt county republicans should not overlook voting for S. J. Weekes for delegate to the republican national convention from the Sixth Congressional district. Mr. Weekes is one of the pioneers of the county, having lived here practically all his life. He has always been active in the support of republican principles and candidates and is worthy of the honor he seeks. If elected he will support the candidate for president receiving the preference vote at the primary.

The editor of The Frontier is a candidate for renomination for state senator from this district and will appreciate the support of his friends throughout the district who believes that he made good in the position during the last session of the legislature. We invite the closest scrutiny of our record. On account of a rush of work it will be impossible for us to get out and make a campaign for the nomination so we rest our case in the hands of the voters and will be satisfied with the result.

In the enactment of the Civil Administrative Code the last session of the legislature was fulfilling a platform pledge. Republican platforms are made to be fulfilled and are not merely scraps of paper, as those of the democratic party has been. During these seven months the Code has been in operation it has saved several thousand dollars to the taxpayers of the state, besides putting the state business upon a good sound footing. The opposition to the Code bill has come from the democratic party, as a party, the entire machinery of the party being used to attempt to destroy it. And why? Because it is considered the most progressive piece of legislation enacted in the state in ten years and it was passed by a republican and not a democratic legislature. Legislation of this character was urged by both Governor Morehead and Governor Neville in their messages to the legislature, but their wishes were ignored by the democratic legislatures. They were too busy trying to protect the breweries to think of trying to ease the burdens of the taxpayers. That the state of Washington is interested in the Code bill is evident from the following telegram to Governor McKelvie from the Post-Intelligencer, Washington's leading newspaper. "Very desirous of securing duplicate copies of civil administrative code of Nebraska and also a statement wherein it differs materially from the code in effect in Illinois. Starting campaign for similar measure in this state and would appreciate any assistance or suggestions you may want to offer as articles in series, and we wish to take up effect in your state of new laws. Will hold off on Nebraska until we get your letter and documents."

S. J. WEEKES
 O'NEILL, NEBRASKA
 Candidate for Delegate for 6th Congressional District, Nebr., for Republican National Convention

Have been a resident of Holt County, Nebr., for 41 years. Raised on a farm in Holt county. Now engaged in banking and farming. Was the first United States land official in Nebraska to be appointed by President McKinley; was reappointed by President Roosevelt. Served as member of the Republican State Central Committee during several campaigns and a member of that committee at present time. Also have acted as Secretary of the Republican Committee of the Sixth Congressional district for the past ten years. Not pledged to the candidacy of any particular candidate, but if elected, will vote for candidate receiving the preferential vote at the primary. It is my ambition to assist, in a humble way, in nominating a candidate at the Chicago convention who, I hope and expect, will be the next President of the United States. In this ambition I am asking the support of the Republican voters—both men and women—of the Sixth Congressional District.

"A Temperamental Wife"

A peppery play about wives and stenogs. The sad, sweet story of a maid who would wed a man who would gaze upon no feminine charms but her own. She sallies forth into the wide world in pursuit of him, captures him and then—oh then! she begins to find out things about men, the wretches! and her own man in particular. Written by the King and Queen of satire, John Emerson and Anita Loos.

"LAND OF OPPORTUNITY"

Two programs in one. Before a gathering of the leading figures of the industry, on January 11, Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane appealed to the motion picture to throw its entire weight into the move for a complete Americanization of his nation. In part he said: "It is within the power of the motion picture industry to exceed, if possible, the great work which you carried on during the war—a service that was not outdone by any other single agency."

"I believe that through the medium of the motion pictures, which reach ten million Americans daily, there can be instilled into these millions the lessons of fortitude and patriotism which it is essential that all must learn."

My Best Paying Investment

Look at my car now! Only a few days ago it was about the shabbiest car in the country. The finish was dull, mud spotted and weather beaten. The body and fenders were scratched and rust was beginning to eat away the unprotected metal. A few hours work with has transformed the shabbiness into newness. The body, fenders, wheels and chassis are protected from moisture and rust.

The car looks almost like new and the money spent for the few small cans of paint has been return tenfold to me, in the increase in value and in satisfaction of driving a car that is spic and span as new.

There is a dealer in Lincoln Paints and Finishes right here in our town who will gladly show you how your old, shabby car can be made like new.

Out of this season's bewildering dictates of Fashion, one thought stands clear—you must appear natural.

Uncorseted? No! Emphatically No! Certainly frocks and suits never more definitely demanded the foundation of a clever corset. When Paris says you should look "uncorseted," Paris means you should wear a corset so deftly designed to be a part of yourself that it merely accents the natural beauty of your figure and the most critical observer will not be able to trace your charm to its subtle support.
