

Owe Their Health To

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound — overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine. Compared with it, all other medicines for women's ills seem to be experiments. Why is it so successful? Simply because of its sterling worth-For over forty years it has had no equal. Women for two generations have depended upon it with confidence.

Thousands of Their Letters are on our files, which prove these statements to be facts, not mere boasting.

Here Are Two Sample Letters: Mother and Daughter Helped. Middleburg, Pa. - "I am glad to state that Lydia E. Pinkham's VegetableCompounddidmemuch good when I was 35 years old. I was rundown with female trouble was not able to do anything, could not walk for a year and could not work. I had treatment from a physician but did not gain. I read in the papers and books about Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. The first few bottles gave me relief and I kept on using it until I got better and was able to do my work. The Vegetable Com-pound also regulated my daughter when she was 15 years old. I can recommend Vegetable Compound as the best medicine I have ever used."—Mrs. W. YERGER, R. 3, Box 21, Middleburg, Pa.

Fall River, Mass. - "Three years ago I gave birth to a little girl and after she was born I did not pick up well. I doctored for two months and my condition remained the same. One day one of your little books was left at my door and my husband suggested that I try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I started it immediately and I felt better and could eat and I felt better and could eat better after the first bottle, and I continued taking it for some time. Last year I gave birth to a baby boy and had a much easier time as I took the Vegetable Compoundfor four months before baby came. On getting un I had baby came. On getting up I had no pains like I had before, and no dizziness, and in two weeks felt about as well as ever."—Mrs. about as well as ever."—Mrs. THOMAS WILKINSON, 363 Columbia Street. "Now, don't let me see you take another piece."

Presently Mrs. S- was called from the room, and when she returned she found her four-year-old daughter in the farthest corner of the couch, hastily making way with a nice, plump chocolate cream.

"Martha Jane," said her mother, in her sternest tones, "didn't I tell you not to let me see you take another piece of candy?"

"I know you did, mother," said the little diplomat, "but I took this one while you were gone."

THE NEWER COLONISTS.

What is to become of the old American stock is a very serious question. Furthermore, it is one which cannot be put aside for consideration at a later day. A federal official located in Chicago has a chart prepared for the purposes of his office which shows that two-thirds of the Chicago population were either born abroad or are the children of parents born abroad. But, some one replies, the Chicago population is not a fair sample of an American population. The children's bureau of the department of labor reports that 65.2 per cent. of the population of Saginaw, Mich., is made up of two classes—foreign born and the children of the foreign born. In Manchester, N. H., the percentage is 77. However, in a rural county in Kansas, it is only 23 per cent. Since 1880 nearly 24,000,000 immigrants have come into the United States. Fur-thermore, among these groups the birth rate is high, while it is low among all other populations, including the Irish, Germans, and Scandinavians who came

I am not saying that the stock of the foreign born is not good. There is much to be said on both sides of that ques-tion. My contention is that the old American stock is passing away. It is up to the members of that stock to decide whether the tendency should be

The department of economics and sociology recently published the results of an investigation of the families of undergraduates in Mount Holyoke college. More than 99 per cent of these students were native born, while 82 per cent were pative born of native parents. Informa-tion was obtained as to the families of 620 students, the great majority of old American stock,

The inquiry revealed the number of children of their own mothers, grandmothers, and great-grandmothers. The average number of children in the families of the great-grandmothers was 6.19, of the grandmothers 5.09, of the mothers 3.15. If a similar decrease should take 3.15. If a similar decrease should take place for another two generations the average number of children would be less than 1. To maintain the family stock an average of almost four children to the family is required. The students at Holyoke were selected for study because they are drawn from typical familiess in the main of old American stock. can stock.

If anything the average number of children to the family among the native stock is less than 3.16. We recall the study of birth rate among the Mayflower descendants published a few years ago. As far back as 1870 the director of the consus warned the American people of a census warned the American people of a dangerous downward tendency in the birth rate.

In 1880 the director repeated his warning, making the statement that in certain sections of the country the birth rate of the old native stock was not high enough to maintain the stock. Since that time the birth rate among the racial groups coming here between 1840 and 1880 has likewise fallen.

Making of a Friend. We nodded as we passed each day
And smiled and went along our way;
I knew his name, and he knew mine,
But neither of us made a sign

That we possessed a common tie; We barely spoke as we passed by. How fine he was I never guessed
The splendid soul within his breast
I never saw. From me was hid
The manly kindly deeds he did. His gentle ways I didn't know Or I'd have claimed him long ago.

Then trouble came to me one day And he was first to come and say The cheering words I longed to hear. He offered help, and standing near I felt our lives in sorrow blend, My neighbor had become my friend.

How many smiles from day to d I've missed along my narrow way;
I've missed along my narrow way;
How many kindly words I've lost,
What joy has my indiference cost!
This glorious friend that Now I know,
Would have been friendly years ago.

The bud but very little shows
To tell the beauty of the rose,
And him we greet in passing by
With scare a nod, the day we sigh
May blossom as the storms descend

With all the beautfy of a friend.

-Edgar A. Guest, in the Rotarian. Undue Speculative Activity.

From the New York Journal of Com-merce. Feverish "boosting" of prices on the stock exchange, followed by equally un-warranted and sudden reactions with "bear raids," alternating with "manip-ulation" to advance prices, have again been renewed and brokerage houses are once more forecasting a period of easier money with relaxation on the part of the banking authorities designed to per-mit greater speculative activity. It is announced that the public is again back in the market, and that what appears to be likely to be a new "boom" is under way.

It is to be hoped that these manifestations are only temporary and that they do not represent the attitude of any responsible section of the financial community. There has been a mushroom munity. There has been a mushroom growth of speculators and speculative operations during the past two or three years and operators who have profited by the excited movements of stocks are loath to let go until they have extracted the last possible dollar of profit through the manipulation of sprices.

Spring's Ballet. When Spring rolls up the curtain
Of rainbow bordered showers,
Upon her stage of vernal green
Appear the dancing flowers;
The daffodil in yellow,
The violet in blue,
The velvet pansy cherishing
An amulet of dew.

In tints of palest purple
And azure, white and gold
And every shade of dainty pink
The crocuses unfold,
Like rows of incandescents
That fairy fingers string
Across the lawn—the footlights
Of the ballet of the spring!

++++++++++++++ QUEER DISEASES.

From the London Mail.

There exist in the world many people suffering from strange diseases, unobserved by and unknown to the majority of people, but which are of great interest on account of their freakish nature.

Word deafness and word blindness, are two rare diseases, in which in the first instance the patient is able to hear all sounds except spoken words, and in the latter to see everything and be able to spell and yet cannot read.

Arithmomania—the medical name for another disease—is full of interest. In this the patient has the irresistible impulse to count a certain number of times before doing anything. One case recorded is of a girl who had to tap on the edge of the bed nine times before petting into it; 100 times before prushing her teeth; to knock three times on a window by the side of the door, and a similar number of times on the door itself before she would unlock it!

Acid Stomach Makes the Body Sour

Nine Out of Ten People Suffer From It

It sends its harmful acids and gases all over the body, instead of health and strength. Day and night this ceaseless damage goes on. No matter how strong, its victim cannot long withstand the healthdestroying effects of an acid stomach.

· Good news for millions of sufferers. Chemists have found a sure remedy-one that takes the acid up and carries it out of the body; of course, when the cause is removed, the sufferer gets well.

Bloating, indigestion, sour, acid, gassy stomach miseries all removed. This is proven by over half a million ailing folks who have taken EATONIC with wonderful benefits. It can be obtained from any druggist, who will cheerfully refund its trifling cost if not entirely satisfactory. Everyone should enjoy its benefits. Frequently the first tablet gives relief.
