

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" is genuine Aspirin proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for over twenty years. Accept only an unbroken "Bayer package" which contains proper directions to relieve Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Colds and Pain. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer packages." Aspirin is trade mark Bayer Manufacture Monaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.—Adv.

Bailed Up the Barber.

Judge Blank is fond of relating how he put one over on the barber who wished to make a sale. The man had just shaved him, and wanted to sell him a lotion to use on his face when he shaved himself.

"Is that what you use on your customers?" asked the judge.

"No," replied the barber, "it's so expensive I cannot afford it."

"If you can't afford it when you get 20 cents for shaving a man," returned the judge, "how do you expect me to afford it when I shave myself for nothing?"

The barber was nonplussed and gave up trying to make the sale.—Boston Transcript.

HOT WEATHER Hits the Stomach Hardest

Chicago, Ill.—Hot weather upsets the strongest stomach and causes serious trouble for the weak ones, so word is now going out to thousands of eaters that they should, during this hot weather, be on the safe side and take one eatonic tablet about half an hour before meals, as well as after eating. Do this and keep the excess acids and poisonous gases from forming in stomach and bowels. Eatonic acts quickly; it will help the appetite and take away the hot-weather, feverish, thirsty feeling from mouth and stomach, because it takes up the excess acids, poisons and gases and carries them out of the body and, of course, when the cause of the trouble is removed, there can be no bad feeling. Eatonic is like a bit of candy, and is recommended to all as a safe, sure remedy these hot days for stomach and bodily troubles, caused from overeating and drinking cold things. Adv.

Surely From Boston.

"Heavens, what a man!"

"What's the trouble, my dear?"

"We quarreled again this morning, I said, 'You poor fish, you ran around after me for three years before I'd consent to marry you, dropping on your knees and proposing to me over and over again in the most absurd fashion.'"

"And what did he say to that?"

"He said, 'My love, don't mix metaphors. A fish couldn't possibly perform the feats you attribute to me.'"

Threatening Prospect.

"How about the watch on the Rhine?"

"Well, if the Huns don't behave themselves any better than it looks now, it is going to be an alarm clock."

DO ALL MY HOUSEWORK

Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could hardly stand, says Mrs. Kwarcinski.

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered with displacement and irregularities and I did not know what to do. My mother advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and use the Sensitive Wash so I took her advice and used these remedies and cured myself. I feel fine and do all my housework which I could not do before, as I could hardly stand up and I have three healthy children. You can use this letter if you wish, for your remedy is certainly wonderful for sick, run down women."—Mrs. A. KWARCINSKI, 3627 W. Oakdale Ave., Chicago, Ill.

For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been making women strong and well, relieving backache, nervousness, ulceration, and inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularities and periodic pains. It has also proved invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the Change of Life. Women who suffer are invited to write for free and helpful advice to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

ECZEMA!

Money back without question if BROWN'S BALM fails to cure the treatment of ECZEMA, ITCHING, BRUISES, BURNS, SORES, WOUNDS, and other skin troubles. It is the only remedy that cures or relieves. Write for sample or directions. All Druggists.

Life in Italy Today.

Alfred Panzeni, in Il Giornale d'Italia (Rome).

It is simply the fact. The chamber of labor has ordered it. It was not done at the behest of any individual. The chamber of labor now tells what shall be done, just as the church used to in an earlier age. I drop in at a tavern and order a glass of wine. It costs a lira (20 cents).

The proprietor said to me, "In the old days, when this wine cost 40 centesimi (4 cents) a litre, they tried to drink a 32 centesimi glass. Now I have still better wine than that, for 4 lire, but some not quite so good for 3 lire; but the people insist on drinking the 3 lire wine." Then he looked me in the eyes and said significantly: "The people have woke up!" He then mentioned the high salaries of workmen and the short hours of labor; but he did not argue upon these subjects. However, the good man seemed assailed with doubt and after saying again that the people had "woke up," he asked: "What do you think about it?"

On the platform of the station at Ancona, where we arrived early in the morning, a fish and vegetable market was in full swing. A fish vendor shouted his red mullets this way: "Reds, reds, reds, republicans, anarchists!" In the kiosk at the station X, I saw gorgeously jacketed books on sale, with such titles as the following: "Flower of Luxury," "The New Pleasure," "Arab Delights," "Memoirs of a Degenerate," "Why Wives Deceive Their Husbands," "The Cup of Pleasure," and so on. Common people, working class women, and young peasants were eagerly buying these books in their parti-colored jackets. Just try to recall the titles not so long ago when Lazzari used to break lance against the traffic in innocent picture postal cards!

In the train some peasants and peasant women are devouring fine white bread, and dimembering with their hands a fat roast fowl. One young peasant girl has used a fashionable perfume, and one of the country boys wears an expensive pair of American shoes. I am not sure whether this means a real rise in class. Possibly; but it is reasonable to doubt it. How can these country people, after enjoying such luxuries, again reconcile themselves to the hard labor of the fields? Plowland perfumes might not mix well with those used by the country girl.

I ponder again on that proletarian from Bologna, who has a couple of villas and boasts of his horse sense. I fancy him inquiring of me: "My dear sir, whose foreign policy do you endorse?" He certainly is in favor of the alliance with the so called proletarian nations, above all, with Russia. I do not dispute his choice, but I have a feeling that our Italy, placed half way between western and eastern Europe, is frightfully isolated from either the proletarian or the capitalist nations. For my part, I should like to see a foreign policy which would assure Italy worthy recognition. On this little tongue of land we call our fatherland, a poor, very poor land, more than 40,000,000 human beings must earn a living. The hierarchy of the past has been swept away. The new hierarchy has not been formed. I do not know whether it is a mere illusion, caused by our present social disturbances, or whether it is due to the stoppage of emigration, but the population seems to be increasing. Everywhere there are crowds of people.

Some praise the proletariat of northern Italy as being superior to the proletariat of southern Italy; but I have my doubts. That gentleman from Bologna boasted of his horse sense and of the property that he and his like had acquired. He had read, that he may have made a slight mistake in attributing his property to his horse sense.

"No Socialism in Russia."

From the London Times.

Mrs. Philipp Snowden arrived at her home in Golders Green from Russia, which she has been visiting with other labor delegates. In conversation with a press representative Mrs. Snowden said: "I went to Russia with an open mind, but I have returned with the following conviction: Lenin's government is not socialism. In the first place, it is not socialism. There is no socialism in Russia. Nor is it communism as I understand the word. All the so-called and communism of soviet Russia appears to be the dictatorship of a small section of the population. The land is supposed to be owned by the state, but the peasants pay no rent, and their eldest sons inherit the property. Apparently it is all a matter of labels.

In the second place, the soviet is not democratic, and makes no pretence of being so. Speaking politically, they think democracy is an outworn theory. They believe, of course, in what they call the dictatorship of the proletariat, but they have not even got that. They have only got the dictatorship of the communist party. As the communist party in Russia numbers at the most 600,000, it is obvious that the dictatorship is the dictatorship of a small section. It does not stop there. The communist party is dictated to by a handful of people inside the party. When you get down to the bottom, the dictatorship of the proletariat means the dictatorship of about 100 men, aided by an extraordinary commission.

The soviet government, Mrs. Snowden added was quite stable, and was supported by the whole population, although probably the majority of the people did not like it. This apparent paradox she held to be due to the patriotism of the people in uniting against the countries with whom they are at war. The present government has the people's support simply because they saw no alternative government strong enough to protect them from outside enemies.

Where Treaty Does Justice.

From the New York World.

The placid vote was taken in portions of east and west Prussia are said to favor Prussian nationality. This decision will be headed. The vote area may not become German as a whole. The count is made by communes to fix the boundary in which process regard will be paid to the wishes of the inhabitants and to the geographical and economic conditions of the locality. But Germany will get the lion's share.

Such a treaty, criticized in many respects continues to ascertain and establish the popular will. Germany has fared well in such tests. The Eupen

War Debt Financing.

From the Milwaukee Journal.

While the war developed some amazing figures on government expenditures, the speed with which payments are made are almost equally astonishing. Take Great Britain, for instance with her 53,000,000,000 expenses from 1914 to May, 1920. No less than $19,000,000,000 of this amount was paid during the same period. In other words, more than one-third of the total war bill was paid up practically while the war was going on.

The situation, however, is even more favorable for the British than these figures indicate. They show a total debt remaining of $34,000,000,000, but as a matter of fact at least $5,000,000,000 of this was merely advanced to other countries during the war and will be paid back. This leaves a net debt for the British of about $29,000,000,000, or about one and one-half times as much as was raised by taxation during the war.

The best part of the whole war debt exhibit is the evident determination of the British to pay their war obligations as fast as possible without crippling industry. Before 1914, a national debt was considered a sort of necessary evil. Now, it is looked upon as a terrible incubus which should be thrown off as fast as possible. The very magnitude of war debts has apparently aroused an intense desire to throw off the load. Sinking funds are now being provided which will cancel the entire British debt in a relatively short period of years. The example for all nations with huge debts.

FIGHT FOR SURVIVAL.

From the Boston Globe. In the competition for survival leaf-eating insects must be green, like their prey, or perish; woodpeckers, like their bark; the tiger, striped like sunshine through the rushes. The fittest survive. "A black sheep" is more than a figure of speech. The struggle for existence demands his murder in the flock of white, conspicuous in contrast. Adaptation or death. Faculties used are sharpened; if neglected, they waste away into vestigial—the appendix of man, eyes of moles and burrows are slowly closed with skin and fur. The stiff little leg dog has weak eyes, but tapers coarsely, with eyesight almost gone, will recover dim perception in slowly graduated light. Man noticed the pupils of his eyes contract in sunshine and enlarge in darkness. He saw the bat, and understood. On all sides he saw this principle at work: Bears, fur coated, restricted to the cold; the dolphin, in the sea; the eagle, the bird of freedom, alert always to escape in flight. He therefore: the automobile, the airplane and the submarine, to jump from mountain top to ocean bottom. The adaptability of his body to diversified surroundings made him monarch of the natural kingdom.

WHITE UMBRELLA—IDEAL SUIT

It has been found that in hot weather the human body does not make less heat, but makes more heat, assuming that the individual is equally active in both warm and cold weather.

If the individual, because of the heat, decides to lie in a hammock under a fan he will make less heat, of course. Thus not so long ago man made less heat in hot weather. The regulation of the body temperature in hot weather is accomplished by increasing the loss of heat from the skin.

If a man takes active exercise and thus increases his heat production he will continue to make heat at an increased rate for some time after he has quieted down. There is considerable scientific basis for the opinion that a cool bath after resting will increase the comfort of sleep during hot weather.

Those the question of comfort in hot climates and hot weather are so closely bound up with loss of heat, we are interested in the question of clothes for hot weather.

Dr. A. Gibbs says that the ideal raincoat for the tropics is a large white umbrella lined with green. I have seen negro children on southern plantations dressed that way very except for the umbrella. They were more comfortable than the observers.

"Since the ideal hot weather suggestion of raincoat," Dr. Gibbs says, "is not permissible, we should approximate it as nearly as the law allows. He suggests a large brimmed helmet and a loosely fitting white suit of material as thin as possible. If a fabric work makes white impracticable he should wear goods as nearly white as is practicable."

Experiments with rabbits and other animals show that black absorbs heat rapidly. When one white and one black animal of the same kind are exposed in hot sunlight side by side the temperature of the black one will rise faster, he will suffer from sunstroke quicker and die more promptly.

Between the body and the clothing is a layer of air which is both hot and wet. If clothing is heavy or of a close weave this wet and hot layer of air is held next the skin and causes great discomfort. Therefore clothing for the tropics should be light and porous as possible.

A. Breull and W. J. Young, making inquiry in Australia, found that some preferred cotton cloth for hot weather, some woolen, and some linen, but all agreed that a fabric should be porous and of light weight.

A few garments are better than many. A baby is most comfortable when it wears a diaper and a slip. If the weather is very hot it will be well to leave off the slip. And maybe the diaper can be dispensed with on a hot day.

Since most of the surplus heat is disposed of by evaporation of perspiration, the clothing must not become "wringing wet," and therefore impervious to it.

Fanning by increasing evaporation and changing the layer of hot air around the skin adds greatly to comfort. Since so much water is lost by sweating, the individual must drink plenty of water.

Sonnet.

I am no stranger in the house of pain; I am familiar with its every part; From the low stile, then up the crooked lane

To the dark doorway, intimate to my heart Here did I sit with grief and eat his bread, Here was I welcomed as misfortune's

And there's no room but where I've laid my head On misery's accommodating breast. So, sorrow, does my knocking rouse you up?

Open the door, old mother; it is I. Bring grief's good goblet out, the sad, sweet cup; Fill it with wine of silence, strong and dry.

For 'twas a story to amuse your ears, Of youth and hope, of middle age and tears. —Robert Nathan, in Atlantic Monthly.

Dechannel Gets "Raise."

From the Manchester Guardian.

Taking into account the cost of living and desiring to "enable him to receive worthy foreign diplomats and guests of France," the chamber has decided to increase the salary of the president of the republic by 500,000 francs (nominally $160,000) to a total of 2,000,000 francs ($630,000), and those of the presidents of the senate and the chamber from 60,000 to 120,000 ($19,000 to $36,000).

Each of the other marshals of France likewise benefit by an increase of 30,000 francs ($9,000), making a total salary of 64,000 ($12,800). Ministers who receive 4,000 ($800) less hope to gain the favor of parliament later.

The increase in the presidential salary is certainly overdue, since out of it have to be met all expenses and taxes. It is stated that Poincaré's assessment for direct taxation amounted to 350,000 francs ($70,000).

No Chance.

"Ethebert, I have no use for that young Bithers; he yawned three times while I was talking to him."

"He wasn't yawning, my dear; he was merely trying to say something."

England to Return Flag.

England will return to the state of Kentucky a flag which was captured from Kentucky volunteers in the battle of the Thames in Michigan, in the war of 1812. The Kentucky legislature has appropriated money to send to England a commissioner who will bring back the flag. This commissioner, James Buchanan, of Louisville, is a descendant of the commander of the Kentucky

GAVE HIM UP IN DISGUST

Colored American Put Algerian to the Supreme Test and Then Delivered Stern Verdict.

The total lack of comprehension between the American negro and his Algerian brother will go down in history as one of the outstanding features of the war.

There was, for instance, the case of the dusky stevedore at Brest and one of the colored French troops on duty there. Long and laboriously the Yank tried to establish some means of linguistic communication, but there was no response.

Then a brilliant thought struck the boy from Georgia. He produced a pair of ivory cubes and rolled them enticingly under the Algerian's nose. Intelligence still registered zero.

"Man," said Sam in disgust. "You ain't no cullud passon. You ain't even no human. You is just a corpse."—The American Legion Weekly.

To Have a Clear Sweet Skin. Touch pimples, redness, roughness or itching, if any, with Cuticura Ointment, then bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Rinse, dry gently and dust on a little Cuticura Talcum to leave a fascinating fragrance on skin. Everywhere 25c each.—Adv.

VETERANS OF BIG POW-WOWS.

Oldtime Republicans Exchange Reminiscences of Conventions in Which They Were Prominent.

Chauncey M. Depew and Joseph G. Cannon got into an argument as to which had been attending national conventions the longer.

"Now, Joe," said Senator Depew to the former speaker, "you know you are only a comparatively young man in convention history and cannot figure in the same class with me. I was at the convention of 1864 and I know you did not come along until later."

"You're both children," declared former Marshal Louis F. Payn of Chatham, who was doing his regular quadrennial turn as a member of the New York delegation. "I was here in 1860."

"I'd have been here, too," remarked "Uncle Joe" Cannon, "but Abe Lincoln beat me in a lawsuit the week before the convention and I didn't have money enough to pay the $2 a week board bill unless I walked here to save carfare."—New York Morning Telegraph's Chicago Story.

Important to Mothers

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, that famous old remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher In Use for Over 30 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria

Cold Water Has Odd Use.

For years steam has been used for thawing the frozen soil of mining claims in Alaska, in spite of difficulties. Now it has been discovered that cold surface water, which of course is warmer than the ground, is a much better thawing medium than either steam or hot water, states Popular Mechanics Magazine. This seeming paradox is explained by the fact that the superabundant heat units of steam rise rapidly around the pipe, and are wasted, while the few heat units carried by the cold water remain in the ground and do their work slowly but thoroughly. In one test in the Nome district, a 2-inch pipe was inserted in a 6-inch drilled hole, and fed with 20 gallons of water a minute at a temperature of 52 degrees F., the ground being at 28 degrees. In 30 hours an 8-foot cylindrical thaw had been made.

Garden Pride.

Neighbors of J. W. Applin were surprised one night recently about 12 o'clock to see him with a flashlight looking for something in his garden. He appeared to have another man along with him.

It was thought that perhaps he had lost something valuable and was looking for it and a solicitous neighbor said the next morning: "Lose something in your garden last night, Mr. Applin?"

"No," was the reply. "I was just showing a culler our first tomato."—Indianapolis News.

Somnolent Affair.

"That old hand wagon you organized for yourself turned out to be a heartless constituent."

"I wouldn't say it was a hand wagon at all," replied Senator Sorghum. "It was more like a sleeping car."

Her Candid Friend.

Miss Passe (in Switzerland)—That handsome guide kissed me a moment ago. Do you think I ought to deduct something from his fee?

Miss Keen—I think you ought to add to it, my dear.—Boston Transcript.

Stop That Backache!

Those agonizing twinges across the small of the back, that dull, throbbing ache, may be your warning of serious kidney weakness—serious, if neglected, for it might easily lead to gravel, stone in the kidney, bladder, inflammation, dropsy or fatal Bright's disease. So if you are suffering with a bad back, have dizzy spells, headaches, nervous, dependent attacks or clapped kidney action, get after the cause. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that has been tried out for you by thousands.

A South Dakota Case

Clinton Heaton, farmer, R. F. D. No. 1, Rosholt, S. D., says: "I suffered from weak kidneys and I am a case. I got so dizzy I couldn't pitch a forkful of hay. There were times that I would have no control over the secretion. My friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I got two boxes and used them as directed and they cured me."

Get Doan's at Any Store, or a Box of Doan's Kidney Pills, POSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

Thousands of Happy Housewives in Western Canada

are helping their husbands to prosper—are glad they encouraged them to go where they could make a home of their own—save paying rent and reduce the cost of living—where they could reach prosperity and independence by buying on easy terms

Fertile Land at $15 to $30 an Acre

—land similar to that which through many years has yielded from 20 to 25 bushels of wheat to the acre. Hundreds of farmers in Western Canada have raised crops in a single season worth more than the whole cost of their land. With such crops come prosperity, independence, good homes, and all the comforts and conveniences which make for happy living.

Farm Gardens—Poultry—Dairying

are sources of income second only to grain growing and stock raising. Good schools, rural telephone, etc. give you the opportunities of a better and with the conveniences of old settled districts. For illustrated literature, maps, description of farm opportunities in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, Ontario, Quebec, railway rates, etc. write Department of Immigration, Ottawa, Can., or 4 Bank Street, Montreal, Quebec, W. J. Bennett, Room 4, Box 110, Toronto, and O. A. Garrett, 311 Jackson St., St. Paul, Minn. Canadian Government Agents.

KODAKS Films and Photo Supplies

Finishing for Amateurs Enlarging ZIMMERMAN BROS., EASTMAN KODAK CO., 608 Pierce St., Sioux City, Iowa

ASKED TOO MUCH OF TIRES

Small Boy's Comment Appeared to Sum Up the Situation in a Thorough Manner.

Judging from their appearance, the two gentlemen who were visiting London from the north of England hadn't been troubled overmuch by food regulations or shortages. More, their bulk suggested profligating in every direction.

And their wives were not much smaller. Plump didn't really describe them; they were worse than that.

Going along the Strand, the tire of the taxicab which had the job of carrying them suddenly burst with a terrific bang. Of course, the usual crowd collected like magic, and prepared to watch for the free show.

At the request of the driver of the taxi, his four fares descended one by one. As they appeared, the eyes of a small newsboy began to goggle, and when the four of them stood in a row on the curbstone, he eyed them solemnly, and then exclaimed: "And no bloomin' wonder, either!"—London Answers.

Multiplies Too Fast.

At one of the army schools the perspiring aspirants for knowledge were going through the intricacies of arithmetic. One raw youth was having particular difficulty with fractions.

"It's very simple," encouraged the instructor. "See this rule, now. How many tenths are there in 11? Ten, of course. Now, how many hundredths? One hundred. Now, how many thousandths?"

"D—n!" explained the sufferer, "There must be millions of 'em."—American Legion Weekly.

Good Judgment leads thousands of housewives to serve Grape-Nuts

in place of foods that require hours of drudgery in a hot kitchen. Needs No Sugar Comes ready to eat from the package.

"There's a Reason" for Grape-Nuts