TWO MORE HELD IN BURLINGTON TRAIN ROBBERY

Poffenberger's Father and Brother Arrested-Ex-Aviator Drove Loot Away-Diamonds Also Stolen.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Nov. 22.-Another climax in the series of sensational episodes occuring since the night of November 13, when the spectacular $3,500,000 robbery of a mail car on the Burlington transcontinental flyer in Council Bluffs occurred, resulted with the arrest of two more men and the recovery of $8,000 more of the money stolen from the registered sacks 10 of which were taken from the mail car. At the same time government officials let it be known that a nation wide search is being made for Keith Collins, aviator in the United States army during the world war, for an alleged part in the robbery. It is said he drove the loot away in an automobile.

The men arrested Sunday were: Fred A. Poffenberger, 63, father of Fred E. Poffenberger, who has been held in the case several days, and Fred A. Poffenberger's son, Clyde Poffenberger, 26, a Burlington switchman. Their arrests followed admissions made by Fred A. Poffenberger.

Recover $8,000; Was Hidden.
Several hours after his arrest, Clyde Poffenberger confessed that on Monday following the robbery he re-ceived from his brother Fred, $7,000, said to have been a part of the loot. He told where he hid the money and it was recovered by federal officers in a private vault in the home of Mrs. Ollie Jacobson, his motherinlaw, according to police.

The elder Poffenberger, who had been arrested earlier in the week and released aftr severe grilling, admitted early Sunday that he had $1,000 his son Fred had given him and said he had buried it in a cornfield near his home. This money was also recovered by government officials.

An important part which those under arrest declare was played is that the former aviator drove the automobile in which the mail sacks were carried away from the scene of the robbery after the sacks had been thrown from the train by Orville Phillips and Fred Poffenberger. Merle Phillips engaged the enginemen in conversation to divert tehir attention from the men on the mail car, according to detec-

Diamond Brooches Are Returned. Federal officers said they had received through the mail three diamond brooches, part of the loot.

Merle Phillips when arrested, according to police, turned over to the government two bonds, one issued by the city of Bordeaux, France, for $100 and one $50 Liberty bond.

Postoffice Inspector Glenn has denied that he made a statement that the bonds and securities burned were valued at more than $5,000,000, it was announced here Sunday night. Glenn is said to have declared that he and other postal inspectors estimate the loss probably will total approximately $3,500,000 and that while it is not known how many bonds and securities were burned the value of those destroyed in this manner probably will total several hundred thousand Federal agents declare that only $33,000 in bonds and securities has actually been recovered.

Case Far' From Being Cleared. Fred E. Poffenberger, who was said to have burned up more than $800,000 worth of bonds and securities in the kitchen stove in his home, declared Sunday he did not know how many bonds he destroyed, but that the value was enormous, according to po-

SOCIETY WOMAN KILLS POLICEMAN

Believing Auto Pursuing Her Speeding Machine Was Bandit Car, St. Louisan Shoots Officer.

St. Louis, Nov. 22 By the United News).—Believing that a police au-tomobile which was pursuing her speeding machine was a bandit car, Mrs. Samuel S. Scott, a prominent society woman, shot and killed Patrolman Charles J. Backer early Sunday as he brought her car to a stop. The shooting comes as a climax in a wave of crime and banditry unprecedented in St. Louis. Mrs. Scott was badly frightened by the fear of being held up by one of the bandits who have committed four murders here within the last 72 hours, it was declared by her husband, who was driving her when she killed the po-liceman. She was in so hysterical a condition Sunday that she was not told that she killed Backer.

Accompanied by another police-man, Backer saw the Scott automobile speeding through the park. When the police gave chase, Scott declares that Mrs. Scott screamed that it was a bandit car and asked him to go faster.

"When the police car drew alongside she grabbed my revolver," he said. "It was dark and the police car cut in ahead of us and someone said, 'What's your hurry?' Mrs. Scott shot blindly through the curtains."

She was held under bond for the coroner and Scott is charged with carrying concealed weapons.

MINISTERS UNDER VENIZELOS FLEE

And Poltical and Military Men, Imprisoned By Ex-Premier, Are Liberated, Say Advices From Athens.

New York, Nov. 22.-The most conspicuous ministers under Venizelos have fled from Athens, together with leading editors of the pro-Venizelos press, according to cable messages received by Greeks in New York, who turned out 4,000 strong to hold religious services in celebration of the fall of Venizelos and the probable return of Constantine.

A cablegram received by S. J. Vlas-to, editor of the "Atlantis," was as follows:

"Athens, Nov. 20.-Vlasto, New York.

"Negreponte, Repoulis, Jafintaris and Simos, last night departed se-cretly from here, going to Marseilles. At the same time the call of security of Giparis was dissolved and many of its members have fied. All the political and military men imprisoned by Venizelos have been liberated from jail. Athens is continuing to celebrate with the greatest enthusiasm, waiting from moment to moment the news of the return of King Constantine. The chambers have been called in next session for Thursday.

"Ambelas." (Signed) Negreponte finance, and Repoulis, Jafintaris and Simos held cabinet portfolios.

According to Mr. Vlasto, information from Greece is that the Greek financial system has been reduced to a state of chaos under Negreponte, rumors having it that enormous shortages were discovered.

The Call Security mentioned in the dispatch was an organization under Negroponte and secretly armed as a guard of Venizelos.

While leaders among the Greeks in Sioux City said last night they had received no information of the flight of the Venizelos ministry, although they are keeping in close communication with Athens via New York telegraphic advices, they added was only what might be expected after the overwhelming defeat of that faction at the Greek elections. Word they have received has confirmed press dispatches of an uneasy feeling among the Greek populace as a result of the announced intention of the allies to exert every effort to keep former King Constantine from resuming his reign.

CAPTURE BURGLAR WHO BROKE JAIL

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Nov. 22.—The police have Albert Conrad, much wanted burglar, in their toils again. Half of the police department surrounded him and his camp at the edge of the cty Sunday morning and got the drop on him before he was able to draw a weapon. He probably will be rushed to prison Monday. Conrad sawed his way out of the Linn county jail twice in the last year while waiting to be taken to prison to serve five years' sentence for burglary. He robbed a store in Iowa City a few months ago and was sentenced to five years in Fort Madison, and while being taken there escaped from the sheriff. Blood hounds followed him for days but he eluded them. Last Thursday night he robbed a grocery within a block of the police station, got a lot of food and went to his camp at the edge of the city, say police.

Detectives followed him the next morning and shot at him, but he dodged them.

24 DEAD; OVER 100 WOUNDED IN DUBLIN RIOTING

Murders Done as Victims are in Bed-Docks Afire-Street Battles On-"Hell Breaks Loose," Says London

Dublin, Nov. 22 (By the United News).—A whirlwind of revenge and murder swept through Dublin with unprecedented fury Sunday, leaving a bloody trail of 24 dead and more than 100 wounded on both sides.

Sinn Fein terrorism reached a climax when 14 officers of the crown were slain in their homes in the early morning in simulta-neous raids conducted by bands of Irish republicans. Black and tan retaliation played its part in the day of horror when a crowd of 6,000 men and women watching a football game at Croke park, were swept by a storm of machine gun bullets in which 10 persons were killed and 60 or 70 were wounded. A spirited defense of the Croke incident was issued by the Irish office immediately following reports in London that "hell had broken loose" in Dublin. It was claimed that the crown forces surrounded the football park when it was known that "bands of gunmen had made the park a ren-dezvous, using the game as a cloak to their purpose." Three thousand spectators were searched for weapons and many were disarmed. Reports from Dublin, however, say that the black and tans descended upon the park with machine guns and armored cars, and fired indiscriminately into the mass of spectators, wounding scores and creating a panic in which other men and wemen were killed or injured.

The killings of the 14 police, army and legal officers and the wounding of six others was carried out in a manner that leaves no doubt as to the thoroughly or-ganized plan of assassination that had been formulated by Sinn Fein. It took place with dramatic suddenness, the republicans sweep-ing into the houses where their enemies were, for the most part, still in their beds. Upon accomplishing the slaying, the raiders withdrew. None of the murderers has been captured.

The first indication that a new campaign of terror was on came in with the report that Captain Newberry had been shot dead in his residence in lower Baggot street. This report was followed almost immediately by news that three other officers had been killed in a house in Morehampton road. Simultaneously the Gresham hotel reported two officers shot under Five Captains Are Murdered. The whole south side of the city seemed to have suddenly broken out with murder. As the identity of the victims was established it was evident that a concerted drive was on by Sinn Fein against officers suspected of being in the government secret service. In addition to Captain Newberry, Captains MacLean, Fitzgerald, Mc-Cormick, Thomas Smith and Saldow, all in government service, were listed on the roll of murdered.

With the first call the black and tans got into action and sweeping from their barracks into motor lorries they drove into the south side. One lorry load passed along Mount street heard cries for help. Responding the officers came upon a house under Sinn Fein guard as the raiders completed their bloody work inside. There followed a battle between the guards and the black and tans in which two of the latter were killed and several of the former wounded, one Sinn Feiner being captured. The reports of the murders, the noise of the street fighting and the dashing motor lorries bearing black and tans through the affected sections of the city, soon developed a near The police and military panic. combed the entire city, holding up motorists and cyclists for questioning. There was tremendous excitement among the citizens who feared there would be a night of reprisals as a result of the murders.

The Irish official statement declared "the murders were aimed at seizure of incriminative documents. Fourteen officials were killed and six were wounded."

Were After Documents. The Irish office issued a statement fter reports of the bloody affray had reached London, declaring that gangs of Sinn Fein gunmen had conducted 20 simultaneous raids on residence of army officers, police officers, and legal officials, killing 14 and wounding 60. The murders were done, the Irish office said, in cold blood, while the victims were in their beds or bedrooms-one in the presence of the officer's wife. "The object of these raids," the statement continues, "was evidently recapture important documents seized in the last 10 days. Many arrests have been made recently and many of the documents would convict Sinn Fein leaders. Nearly all of those killed were engaged in the legal end of the proceedings. "The police have learned that the gunmen were massing in Dublin during the morning on the pretext of attending the match between Dublin and Tipperary at Croke park.

"NEW RED-POLE] WAR IMMINENT" —BARNES

British Delegate, at League Conference Today, Will I'e mand Action on Russian Situation.

BY A. E. JOHNSON, United News Staff Correspondent.

Geneva, Nov. 22.-George N. Barnes, labor member of the British delegation in the league assembly, will bring the Russian and general near-eastern situations before the assembly as the "most important question in the world, threatening a renewal of general European war," he informed the United News.

Barnes criticises the league for having failed to report why it did not intervene in the Russo-Polish war.

"Renewal of the war between Russia and Poland is now imminent," Barnes declared. The Poles are 300 miles beyond their legitimate frontier. Sixty-nine Russiar divisions are released as a result of the defeat of Wrangel, and should the Poles and attempt to again involve Europe in warfare. Poland must be made return to her ethnographical frontiers."
To Take Up Lithuanian Problem.

As the League of Nations assembly reconvenes Monday, it is faced with the first demand for the enforcement of what amounts to the "war clause" of the league covenant against one of the league members. Lithuania claims Poland is violating the arbitration agreement and has called upon the assembly to enforce article 16. Lithuania declares General Zeligowski's army of Poles has been increased from two to 15 divisions, and is attacking Lithuania.

General Zeligowski holds Vilna, and claims to be a Lithuanian. He refused to recognize the Lithuanian government at Kovno, however, and also is refusing to be bound by the arbitration agreement in the territorial dispute. His operations against the Lithuanian government would be to the advantage of the Poles, as Zeligowski claims the people of his region do not want to be governed from Kovno, and a plebescite under his domination probably would mean a vote in favor of Poland.

The league has already decided to send a mixed body of troops to Vilna for police duty during the plebescite, but the Lithuanians are now asking for more drastic action. Would Save Armenia.

One of the first subjects to be taken up probably will be the motion of Lord Robert Cecil for immediate steps to save Armenia from the Turks and the bolshevists.

Then will come the motion presented by delegates of Spanish speaking nationalities to give the Spanish language equal official recognition in league affairs with the English and French.

BY HENRY WOOD.

United Press Staff Correspondent. Geneva, Nov. 22.—"The hour for universal disarmament has not yet arrived," M. La Fontaine, Belgian delegate declared today, in addressing the assembly of the League of Nations in public session.

La Fontaine maintained that the portant confronting the world, insisting upon the right of the league to 'rest upon the strength of the national armies which are at its disposal. then it will be at the mercy of no one."

"Prove Effectiveness to World."
stands, As the situation, now stands, La Fontaine said, the league is composed of 42 states with armies numbering millions and yet is unable to save Armenia. He demanded formation of an international generalstaff and immediate employment of an international force, under the league, in behalf of Armenia, "thereby demonstrating to the world the effectiveness of the league.

Turn Forces to League. Disarmament not being possible now, the member armies and navles should be placed at the disposal of the league to form the basis for an international force under the league, La Fontaine said. His remarks were greated with tremendous applause. Delegate Rowell, of Canada, criticized the league council, declaring it had wasted time with "secondary problems." He demanded immediate settlement of the territorial dispute between Poland and Lithuania.

"The council is on trial before the world," he said. "The typhus report is a humiliating confession of failure. If the members of the council cannot make pledges for their own nations they had better resign and give way to others." Rowell concluded with a warning that unless the council is backed up by a few "well done actions' it will cease to hold the respect of the world

Washington, Nov. 22 (By the United News) .- Any person guilty of corruption in connection with the government's ship operations will be "run to cover," Guy D. Goff, general counsel for the shipping board, declared

Sunday. Colonel Goff recently was named by President Wilson as United States shipping board commissioner from the Great Lakes section. This appointment, however, will not interfere with his prosecution of grafters, he said. "It is and will be my one and single purpose to run to cover every person employed in the shipping board or emergency fleet corporation, man or woman, clerk or official, who is guilty of corruption, and to prosecute them to the fullest extent of the law, as well as every private citizen, whether he be tradesman, ship operator, claimant, attorney, lobbyist or solicitor, who offers the glittering bribe or sweetens his petition with gold," said

Colonel Goff. Colonel Goff indulged in a bitter denunciation of graft. He said a man who violates public trust is "too wretchedly craven to be a traitor," adding that by comparison "Judas Iscariot is a saint and Benedict Arnold a patriot." Accusations against R. W. Bolling. brotherinlaw of the president, and their prompt denial by Bolling and Admiral Benson, chairman of the shipping board, have provided the capital with a genuine sensation.
