WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES.
The general club meeting held Wednesday, April 6th, proved to be very interesting. After the usual business was transacted each responded to roll call by giving the name of a prominent woman, and in this as well as in everything else our own city was represented.
In the three minute talks on Woman as regarded in different nations, Mrs. O'Donnell, Mrs. Downey and Mrs. Miles spoke with much interest on China, Italy and France respectively. Mrs. Longstaff sang a Scotch song in costume, which proved to be very entertaining and came as a surprise.
Wednesday, April 13th, Mrs. Hiber and Miss Golden presided at the Music Literature and Art meeting. The program consisted of two splendid musical talks by Miss Fitzsimmons and Mrs. Finley, followed by two most interesting papers on Shakespeare by Miss Doyle and Miss Witherow. Roll call followed with Shakespearian quotations.
The program for May 11th and 25th in the Club Calendar have been combined and are to be given on May 4th. There will be no meeting of the Literature Department April 27th. The Departments Heads are making plans for next year's work, so if you have any good suggestions to make see or call, Mrs. Cowperthwaite for Literature, Mrs. Scott for Music and Mrs. Radaker for the Home Economics.

The Social Committee under Mrs. Miles are to have charge of the arrangements for the Club Tea or Banquet which is to take place on the last meeting in May.
Mrs. Radaker and Mrs. Sauer were chosen by the club as delegates to the convention at Bayard, May 11-13. The Slogan is to be "Our Nebraska! Let us know it understandingly and love it worthily."

A CARP BAIT RECIPE.

A great many fishermen speak disparagingly of the carp and state contemptuously that they never catch carp, the inference being that they could if they so desired. The real reason most fishermen don't catch carp is because they can't. They don't know how. Most of the sport writers who think it is proper to slander the carp wouldn't know a carp from a swordfish or a trout if they saw them side by side. A carp is one of the most difficult of fish to catch. He is the intellectual of all the finny tribes. The real highbrow when it comes to brains and unlike other fish he rarely falls for artificial bait. When he finally is hooked he puts up the most strenuous fight of them all, because he is muscular and the formation of his mouth makes him hard to drown or tire. Consequently, when any one tells you he doesn't care to catch carp just put it down as one of the usual fish stories. Eating carp is an entirely different matter. Some like 'em and some don't. Some people like limberger cheese and some profess to like caviar, so it is entirely possible that some like to eat carp. Others eat them canned, when they eat white salmon or tuna, and as long as they don't know the difference no one is injured. Here is a recipe that will enable you to catch carp, if you know how, if not don't blame it on the recipe:
Take equal parts of wheat flour and corn meal. Grate in some stale cheese. Add enough water to make a stiff dough. Put in some cotton to make the whole cohesive.

Now roll the dough into balls a little bigger than a pea. See that there are no seams in the doughball. Slice an onion in the water in which you boil the doughballs. That gives them a flavor that can't be resisted.
After boiling three minutes, dry thoroughly.
Sprinkle corn meal on 'em to keep them from sticking together.

SCOUT DEPARTMENT.

Troop No. 1.
George Agnes, Clear Golden and W. B. Graves were elected to serve as members of the Court of Honor.
The Girl Scouts are patiently scouting round about for some good woman to Captain the troop.
George Harrington, James McPharlin and Dr. Carter comprise our troop committee. Dr. Gilligan's name was mentioned here recently in this connection. Mistake No. 87056 on the part of ye scribe.
Hear ye! Hear ye! Monthly dues!! The Girl Scouts—bless 'em—are still without a Captain. Come on, someone, let's help 'em put on their scout smile.
At a special meeting of this troop Sunday evening Troop No. 1 voted unanimously to offer The Camp Fire Girls, The Girl Scouts and Troop No. 2 the use of our prospective meeting house each one night a week and the use of the half block of play ground that lies just east of the M. E. church. This ground was granted to Troop 1 for ten years, but the scouts of this troop feel that the spirit of the grant included all scouts within the confines of O'Neill, hence the offer.
To boys who are not scouts, listen: Please do not wear official scout badges, clothing, or other stuff intended solely for scouts. This tends to cheapen an organization that is trying to help the American boy to help himself. You're going to be one yourself, are you not?
Green neckerchiefs are to be worn by all scouts of Troop 1. This was put to a vote and green won unanimously.

Howard Ashton was voted into Troop 1 without a single dissenting vote.
Will some of you First and Second class scouts lend your hand books to the candidates until they receive their books? Please.
Where, oh, where, has the constitution committee gone? Please draw it up so we may vote on it at the next meeting.
Please, scouts, turn your scout news over to John Phalin before it becomes stale.

Troop No. 2.
There was a good attendance at drill and signal practice of Scout Troop 2 Monday evening. Six new members received their registration cards from headquarters. This brings the membership of the troop up to thirty-one.

Troop 2 will observe Arbor Day Friday by assisting in planting trees in the several sections of the city.
Several of the tenderfoot scouts soon will become second class scouts having passed most of the required tests.
The troop will take a hike Sunday, weather being favorable.
Mongoose patrol now is in the lead in the merit contest, having passed the Beavers Monday evening. The Beavers now are second, the Owls third and the Flying Eagles at the foot of the list.
Poles for the American flag and the troop flag have been ordered.
Three more registrations have been sent in.
