Honorable County Board of Equalization: Gentlemen: I am the owner of Lots 22, 23 and 24 in Block 21, original town of O'Neill, Nebraska. These lots are assessed at $600 each. They are vacant lots and lay between the Enright saloon and Dave Stannard's store. I notice that other lots closer to the geographical center and business center of town are valued lower than mine. The J. C. Harnish Hardware store Lot 5, Block 22, is valued at $500. The Naylor Building, Lots 6 and 7, Block 22, are valued at $525 each. The John Horiskey lot, No. 8, Block 22, is valued at $500. The Bowen Hardware store, Lots 10 and 11, Block 22, $475 each. Dr. Corbett, Lot 12, $475. The Zimmerman lot, No. 13, valued at $400. The Bentley

Store Building, valued at $325.

Now my lots are as far from the business center of town as the Bowen Hardware Store or Dr. Corbett's office is. I ask that my valuation be lowered to $450 each on Lots 22, 23 and 24, Block 21.

Respectfully submitted,
R. H. PARKER.

Washington Star: Edward W. Redfield, the painter of snow scenes, said the other day at the Philadelphia Art Club:

"I see that in Paris the experts are proving the authenticity of dubious old masters by means of the X-ray. This is a good idea. It will do away with a lot of hoaxing."

"I heard the other day of a dealer who tried to hoax a profiteer. The dealer offered a Raphael for sale, pointing to the signature the profiteer said.

"The name don't look like Raphael. Looks more like Rachel to me."

"The dealer examined the signature himself."

"Yes, it is Rachel," he said. "I'll tell you the history of that. When Raphael painted that picture he was in hard luck, y'understand, so he put it in the wife's name."

Tires Cost Half
What They Used To
—Mile for Mile

THAT'S a pleasant fact to remember. Since 1915 Miller experts have more than doubled their average tire mileage—and cut the cost per mile in two.

Hundreds of methods for adding mileage are tested. Twice a year, on the average, some new great improvement is accomplished. The laboratory expense—for research work—is $5,000.00 monthly.

Men came to Miller Tires slowly. But one by one users found them out. Then the demand came like a flood. In the past five years the demand for Millers has multiplied 20-fold. It has doubled in the past tire excels.

You should learn what Millers mean to you. Make a test—a comparison. Do what large users do. Then let the records tell you which tire excels.
