CATS CONFINED TO "RANGE"

Officego Man Reports Success in Novel Plan for Keeping Pete Prom Shraying Far Afield.

Another western idea was adapted to city uses the other day when a south-sider, who once rode the range on the Colorado plateaus, staked out his cats to keep them at home. The plan worked fine and now the feline animals get the air every day at 200 ends of tether ropes.

The cat owner found that every time he opened the cellar door the pets made a break for the open, frequently staying away for days and returning with blackened eyes and scrutched hides. He thought of the tether plan, but the first trial was not a success, as the cats slipped the nooses from their necks. He then evolved a semi-hobble plan and tied the heavy string to one of the cat's hind legs, attaching the other end of the string to a stake driven in the back yard.

This system proved effective and now every day three of the cats take their exercise around their tether stakes. Chicago Journal.

Just Like a Brother. It was Mary's birthday, and her young man had teasingly told her that he was going to give her a rose for each year of her age. Fearfully Mary waited for his flowers to arrive. She wondered whether he really knew how old she was. But when a basket containing four dozen arrived she breathed a sigh of relief. That night she thanked him for them. Just as she ended it her little brother came into the room. He went over to the flowers and was studying them fixedly when the young man asked: "Do you think your sister's flowers are pretty?" "Yes, sir, I do," little brother answered, "but what made you send twenty too many?"

DARLING BABY BRIGHTENS HOME

Children's Laughter a Pleasing Sound

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writ-ing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-pound has done for me. We had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to ninebirth. From one hour to nine-teen days is all they have lived. Before my next one was born I took a dozen bot-tles of your Veg etable Com-pound, and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old, and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says 'That is a very healthy looking baby.' You havemy consent to show these few lines to anybody."—Mrs. C. W. BENZ, 131 8rd Avenue, Aitoona, Pa.

Mrs. Janssen's experience of interest to childless wives. Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are fond of children, and for a considerable time after we were married I feared I would not have any. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it strengthened me so I now have a nice, strong, healthy baby girl. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly."—Mrs. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wis.

Mrs. Held of Marinette, Wis., adds her testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says:

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a nervous condition and very irregular. My doctor advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It overcame my weakness so that I now have a healthy baby girl after having been married nine years. I am glad to recommend your medicine, and you may use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. H. B. HELD, 380 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

There are many, many such homes that were once childless, and are now blessed with healthy, happy children because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored the mother to a strong and healthy condition, as it acts as a natural restorative for ailments as indicated by backache, irregularities, displacements, weakness and nervousness Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative. It can be taken with perfect safety and often prevents serious troubles.

Therefore if you know of any woman who is suffering and has been unable to secure relief and is regretfully looking forward to a childless old age, ask her to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; as it has brought health and happiness into so many homes once darkened by illness and despair.

Try sowing unhulled sweet clover seed on your passure next January. In the Genesce valley a farmer raised sweet clover for seed, had a lot left over, not passed through the builing machine. The unhulled seed was thrown on a worn out pacture. The next spring the sweet clover was knee high.

Many farriers in the valley are now sowing unhulled sweet clover in the late fall. Country weeklies please tell farmfall. Country weeklies please teil farmers about this experiment. It means labor saving, the best kind of fodder, and soil enriched by nitrogen that sweet clover takes out of the air.

Be sure to sow the seed NOT HULLED. Hulled seed thrown on the ground would be killed by the frost.

"Same laws and rules for both sexes," say the thoughtful ones. But they don't get the same laws and rules The world has just read of the young Canadian trained nurse who killed her-

First she had made a fool of herself, poor girl, with the help of some doctor. The doctor's wife knew of it, went to the nurse, and begged her: "Leave my husband alone."

The young nurse promised that she would do it, killing herself with poison. "I cannot give that man up, but I can give myself and life up," she said to the wife. "I have taken the poison, you need not worry any more about your husband."

The wife took her to a hospital. Now The wife took her to a hospital. Now the nurse is buried, the wife is back with her husband and most delicious of all, the police say: "We are not giving out mames, on account of the doctor in the case. It might hurt his practice."

In the old days of the cave and the mammoth, the wife, the mistress of the cave, would have hit the other young lady on the head with a club. You observe improvement there. Wivese don't

"Harding plans a super-race of Americans, says the newspaper heading. The president is too wise to plan that. But he is planning to improve this race that needs improvement in several directions. The president wisely has enlisted the services of Brigadier General Sawyer, trained scientist, on whose studies have not closed his mind to the possibilities of improvement.

Observing that one-third of the men Observing that one-third of the men called to the draft were defective physically, General Sawyer will try to remedy that, beginning with mothers and their babies, which is the right beginning. The idea is to help mothers before and during child birth, saving many of the 25,000 mothers that die during child birth every year, and scores of thousands of children that die every year, unnecessarily. That will be a good beginning. The "super-race" can come later.

Tariff Prospects.

From the Index. It is well for the business and financial world to consider what is coming if the program now in prospect is carried out. In addition to any domestic unsettlement which may arise from the setting up of new tariff schedules, there is also to be considered the effect on the whole problem of world economic reconstruc-tion.

With the United States a creditor of Europe and other sections of the world to the extent of billions; with all in agreement that the world's enormous debt to us can be discharged only by trade; with exchange and other condi-tions making it exceedingly difficult for other countries to buy from or sell to us; and with the "circle of production and distribution," broken by the war, still unfoined—under these conditions we are proposing by higher tariff barriers further to increase the difficulties of trade reconstruction.

This phase of the matter will no doubt

This phase of the matter will no doubt be considered before any tariff bill is passed. So far it has not apparently had any more weight with the framers of the general bill than was given to it when the emergency tariff was enacted. Non-political influences alone must apparently be depended upon to press for consideration of what will be the effect upon our debtors and our already dwindling foreign trade of action which will make it still more difficult for other countries to sell in this country, the richest market in the world.

Miss Sadie Mossell, Ph. D.
From the Columbus Dispatch.
There was a time, not very far back, when no woman had ever been formally entilted to write the letters "Ph.D." after her name. Even centuries before the first formal award of the devee to a first formal award of the degree to a woman, however, women had attained to scholarly heights well above the level of the usual requirements for its grantor the usual requirements for its granting. It was not woman's shewness of mental achievement that kept such honors on one side of the sex line, but man's showness to recognize the impropriety of introducing a sex distinction in matters of pure scholarship.

It has not been many years since the degree of Doctor of Philosophy was first given to a negro. And now, in the person of Miss Sadie Mossell, of Philperson of Miss Sadie Mossell, of Philadelphia, it has first been won by a woman of the negro race. This will be much talked of as setting of a new record; and yet there is nothing new in the essential feature, which is simply the granting of the usual distinction for a definite scholastic achievement. Circumstances have not led negro women into that line of work, but there is no inherent reason why they should not do it successfully and receive the customary recognition when it has passed the usual tests.

The Meat Supply. From the Wichita Eagle.

Cattle, hogs and sheep are going out of style very rapidly. Newly published figures show a third less cattle per capita of population, two-thirds less sheep and 41 per cent. fewer hogs than there were in 1900.

were in 1900.

The farmers have been forced out of the live stock business by thousands. Most of them stuck as long as they could. Some stuck until the sheriff sold them out. Others saw the road ahead clearly enough to desert it in time to same themselves.

clearly enough to desert it in time to same themselves.

For years the live stock producers were held on the ragged edge by prices that something looked as though they might contain promise of profit. Finally it got to the point where the farmers knew they were losing money on every pound of pork and beef they produced. Then they quit in crowds. The Big Five paid dividends. The farmers who raised the hogs and cattle did not. The wool trust paid handsome profits. The wool producers went broke.

Dried Vegetables.

The government bureau of chemis try is trying to popularize the "dehydrated" vegetables which are beginning to be sold for soup mixtures. It is thought that these mixtures of vegetables, which are absolutely waterfree, might be used to great advantage by housewives. They are quite as good for soups as fresh material and far cheaper. One hotel to which sample packages were sent for trial reported that one pound of the stuff made 125 "portions." The only important obstacle to the introduction of these concentrated soup vegetables seems to lie in the difficulty of over ... ing old prejudices.-Philadelphia Led er.
