IN LOW SPIRIT.

"You have a womanajer here?" "Yes. She's just been elected and her husband is about the uneasiest man in town."

"Why so?" "He's told several of his friends confidently that if his wife still has the same opinion of him she had before the election he's slated for the job of dog catcher."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Georgia and Carolina Tom Watson watermelons medium sizes $50-$150 lower per car in New York and heavy supplies closing $100-$250. Missouri melons $100-$175 per car in Chicago and St. Louis.

Dairy Products—Butter markets slightly weaker with prices about half cent lower than early part of week. Receipts running light and dealers making efforts to avoid accumulations of stocks. Small shipment of Danish arrived at New York last week. Prices of 92 score: New York 44c; Chicago 42 1/2c; Philadelphia 34 1/2c; Boston 44 1/2c.

Recent prices advances on cheese tended to check buying demand. Markets are weaker with many dealers shading prices to make sales. Recent rains increased production and cooler weather helped to improve quality. Wisconsin primary market prices on August 5: Twins 19 3/4c; Daisies 20 1/2c; Double Daisies 20 1/2c; Young Americas 22c; Longhorns 22 1/2c.

Live Stock and Meats—A good reliable following declines brought the hog market top 10c above a week ago but left the bulk of sales 5c-15c lower. Heavy hogs suffered the greatest loss in value. Beef steers advanced 40-60c, demand for light weight being very strong. Price spread widened on butcher cows and heifers as a result of the increased run of grassers and improved demand for better grades. Feeders strong, advancing 25-40c indicating better country demand. Veal calves were off 25-75c. Fat lambs and yearlings steady to 25c higher, many western lambs being evident. Feeders 25-50c higher, feeding lambs off 25-50c, ewes a quarter lower. August 8 Chicago prices: Hogs top $11.60; bulk of sales $9.35-$11.45; medium and good beef steers $7.25-$10; butcher cows and heifers $5.75-$9; feeder steers $5-$7.65; light and medium weight veal calves $8-$9.75; fat lambs $8.50-$10.75; feeding lambs $6.50-$7.75; yearlings $6-$8.50; fat ewes $3-$5.25.

Stocker and feeder shipments from 11 important markets during the week ending July 29 were: Cattle and calves 28,747; hogs 2,161; sheep 41,592.

Western dressed beef at eastern markets steady with $1 off on lower grades. Veal unevenly steady. Lamb up $1-$4; mutton off $1-$2; light pork loins up $1, heavy loins steady. August 8 prices good grade meats: Beef $15.50-$17; veal $15-$17; lamb $23-$25; mutton $12-$16; light pork loins $26-$29; heavy loins $18-$25.

DATA REGARDING VOCATIONAL EDUCATIONAL WORK

Washington, Aug. 2.—The latest data touching the work of the Federal Board for Vocational Education is furnished by Harry L. Fidler, member of the board representing the industrial section and designated acting director of the board replacing Del W. Lamkin, who resigned the directorship June 1st.

The board to date has registered 388,000 ex-service men as eligible for training; has accepted 258,000 for training; and is actually training 108,000. Of the number actually in training, 41,000 chose trades and industries; 30,000 business courses, 14,000 agricultural courses and 11,000 professional courses.

Two powerful colored stevedores, who had had some sort of falling out were engaged in unloading a vessel at a St. Louis Dock. Uncomplimentary remarks and warnings of intended violence were exchanged whenever the two passed each other with their trucks.

"You jest keep on pesticiatin' around wid me," declared one of the men, "an' you is gwine be able to settle a mighty big question for de scientific folks."

"What question dat?" asked the other.

"Kin de dead speak?"—Harper's Magazine.

HIS BEQUEST.

A lawyer was known to be a bit grasping. He had just made out a will for an old lady client, who was passing away. The next day the old lady, very near the end, said to him: "About my will—I've added something to it. I've given—you—"

"Just one minute, my good friend," said the lawyer, wishing to have witnesses for the remark. So he hurriedly called the family in, and when all were assembled he said to his old client: "Now, say what were going to say."

"I've given—you—" and she stopped, her breathing becoming more and more labored.

"Yes, yes," urged the lawyer. Then she finished: "—a great deal of trouble!"—Ladies Home Journal.

PREPAREDNESS

A certain clergyman always felt it his duty to give each couple a little serious advice before he performed the marriage ceremony. He usually took them aside one at a time and talked very soberly to each regarding the great importance of the step they were about to take and the new responsibilities they were to assume. One day he talked in his most earnest manner for several minutes to a young woman who had come to be married. "And now," he said, in closing, "I hope you fully realize the extreme importance of the step you are taking, and that you are prepared for it."

"Prepared!" replied the bride innocently. "Well, if I ain't prepared, I don't know who is. I've got four common quilts and two nice ones and four brand new feather-beds, ten sheets and twelve pairs of pillow-slips, four linen tablecloths, a dozen spoons and a new six-quart kettle, and lots of other things."—Houston Post.

EQUAL TO THE OCCASION.

During the after-dinner speaking, the toastmaster saw Jones, a somewhat shady character, slip two spoons in his vest pocket.

"Gentlemen," he said, "there is nothing to add after all this brilliant speaking, so I will try to entertain you with a little parlor magic. You see I have two spoons. Slip them in my vest pocket. Presto—and they are in the pocket of Mr. Jones, will you please corroborate my statement?"

Jones, not to be outdone, rose. "I'm rather handy at that sort of thing myself," he said. "Presto—and they are back in the pocket of the Toastmaster. Mr. Toastmaster, if you don't corroborate my statement, I'll have you searched on the spot."—American Legion Weekly.

URBAN CURIOSITY.

Harper's Magazine: Harkins, who had taken his children to a country place during the holidays, was proceeding across the fields with Louis, the youngest, when the latter saw a cow for the first time. "What is that?" asked the child.

"That's a cow, my son."

"And what are those things on her head?"

"Horns." And the two then moved on. Presently the cow mooed, whereat Louis was surprised.

"Which horn did she blow, father?" he asked.

LOST THE LION'S SHARE.

Jack Jones' rich grandmother passed away, all his poverty-stricken friends rallied about him with words of cheer and comfort, but Jones remained sad and dejected.

"She left a last will and testament, I suppose?" murmured Jenkins, carelessly.

"Oh, yes," said Jones, "she left a will and testament."

"They hung expectant, while sobs choked back his words."

"I," he declared at last, "am to have the testament."—Jack Canuck.

EDUCATIONAL.

Birmingham Free Press: The adored and only daughter was sad.

"Papa," she said, "why is it you have changed so? Once you used to gratify my every wish, but lately when I ask you for a few dollars you grumble and growl and want to know if I think you are made of money. It's very strange, papa. Don't you love me any more?"

"My dear," her father answered, "I love you just as much as ever; but you are to be married soon and I am trying to prepare you gradually for the change."

Who's Who?

It's easy to tell "who's who" among the women you see in a crowd—especially women between 35 and 45. Women between 35 and 45 invariably show the result of their home labor. Those who organize and dominate their work retain their youthful figures, bright eyes and young faces. Those whose work dominate them carry the story with them. Yes, it's easy to tell who's who. And among those who are not made slaves by their work you will find scarcely a woman who has the washing done at home. They send it to the laundry. Why?

Spend This Vacation in Rocky Mountain Estes Park Colorado

The charm of this place is not to be catalogued—merely to breathe in the rare air, scented with the rich pine odor, is a healing delight, brings glow to the cheek and sparkle to the eye. Take the family! There, amid the peaceful beauty of its flower-crowded valleys and sun-lit peaks, its laughing waterfalls and virgin forests, you can settle down for a few blissful weeks, to do just as fancy dictates—ride, climb, fish, golf, tennis, rest or just loaf to your heart's content. On your return, stop off and enjoy Colorado's numerous, varied and inexpensive side trips—to Colorado Springs, Manitou, Colorado Glaciers, Denver's Mountain Parks, Grand Lake, et al. Don't delay too long the matter of making arrangements for accommodations and be disappointed. If I can help you, let me know. When you are ready to start the Burlington will take you there.
