The solution of a number of robberies and petty pilferings in the community the last several weeks may be at hand in the recognition of a prowler who entered and ransacked the residence of O. B. Hatch in the west end of town Monday night while the family was absent. A member of the family returning home about 10 o'clock p. m. discovered a well known automobile standing in the yard with lights out and the owner of the same going through the house with a searchlight. Assistance at once was summoned from a neighbor, but the prowler made his escape in the car before the house could be surrounded. He was recognized as a fairly well-known O'Neill citizen and the case has been given to the authorities for investigation. Among the recent thefts in town was a set of tires and rims off the car of Cecil Brown, taken from his garage two weeks ago, a new storage battery stolen from a new car in Walter Wyant's garage and the entering and rifling of the Standard Oil station last week. Special agents of the Standard Oil company now are said to be investigating the latter.
