

One of Our Most Difficult Problems

Thousands of farmers are retiring and moving to town every year.

How are you going to keep the boys on the farm?

There is just one way as we can see it and that is make them your partners, part owners.

Do it before it is too late.

The public is invited to the public restroom, Saturday afternoon, October 22, after 2 o'clock, to a coffee luncheon at 25 cents. There also will be a food sale table. We are trying to do away with soliciting and give value for money received. If you appreciate this and the good the public rest room is doing in establishing better business and social relations you will patronize this little affair. Make this the feature of Saturday afternoon.—Committee.

A census bulletin just issued by the census bureau on the composition and characteristics of the population of Nebraska gives the number of inhabitants of Holt county claiming Ireland as the country of their birth at one hundred and sixty-eight. If the census statistics on other subjects do not come closer to the truth than this there is not much use in taking a census. It is a safe bet that there are more than 168 Irish born persons residing in Grattan township and the city of O'Neill.

The annual contest between Yale and Harvard don't have a thing on the semi-occasional contest between St. Mary's Academy and the Public School football teams, when it comes to fast and furious action, gore, and all the other trimmings that go with high class football. The two teams met in deadly battle at the fair grounds Tuesday afternoon with Cecil Conklin as referee, and with a large gathering of rooters in attendance. The public school team greatly outweighed the academy team and for this reason came out victorious with a score of 18 to 2. The academy went down fighting and with colors flying however and another game is scheduled as soon as the teams can be sized up to a more equal footing.
