LOCAL MATTERS.

Mrs. Thomas Quinn returned Saturday evening from a week's visit with relatives at Omaha.

A nine pound boy arrived at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. McKenna early Wednesday morning.

A marriage license was issued this week in Omaha to George D. Haigh and Kathryn McDonald, both of Atkinson.

Miss Mac Hammond was hostess to the Martez club Monday night. Miss Grace Hammond won the honors at auction.

Miss Anna O'Donnell won the honors at auction at the weekly meeting of the Monday Nite club. The club was entertained by Mrs. F. J. Kubitschek.

The second dance of the 8:30 to 12 Dance Club was held at the K. C. hall Wednesday evening. The club will hold dances once every two weeks during the winter season.

Representative W. W. Bethea of Ewing has been appointed an appraiser for the federal land bank. The appointment of Sanford Parker of Omaha, formerly of O'Neill, as abstractor for the federal land bank also was made recently.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has gone before the interstate commerce commission with an application for a further reduction in freight rates on grain and hay until the entire increase of 1920 has been wiped out. The recent reduction ordered by the commission calls for a reduction of one half of the 1920 increase.

Under the new time card on the Northwestern, which went into effect last Sunday trains on that road now leave O'Neill as follows: Eastbound—No. 2, 4:13 a. m.; No. 6, 9:34 a. m.; No. 64, 11:45 a. m. Westbound—No. 1, 4:20 p. m.; No. 3, 11:32 p. m.; No. 63, 3:10 p. m. All of these trains carry passengers. Trains numbers 5 and 8 have been taken off.

Those who like ripe olives and are afraid to eat the bottled kind should be with Neal Alsworth, out on the Pacific coast. Writing from Oroville, California, where he now is located, Neal states that olives now are ripe and the picking season is on, oranges are ripening and the rice harvest has been completed. Oroville is in the heart of the olive country and there the first olives were pickled.

A notice for a call for a state mass convention at Grand Island, Thursday, December 8, for the organization of a new political party, has been issued by Floyd L. Bollen and other members of a temporary executive committee. The call also provides for the holding of county mass convention at the several court houses for Saturday, December 3, to select one delegate to the state convention for each 400 votes or fraction thereof cast for governor at the last election.

Dedicated to the one to whom we turn in joy or sorrow—Our Mother. Which is the greatest love? The love of husband and wife? A man for a maid? Brother and sister? Mother and child? Which?? A vital glowing drama of life itself told in the universal language of humanity. A great heart interest picture lavishly staged and superbly acted by a superlative cast. A photoplay that will be remembered long after others are forgotten. This Super Special is so closely booked we were only able to secure it for one day.

I want every mother in the city to see this so I've arranged for film to be shipped early so I can give a mothers' matinee at 3:00 o'clock Sunday. Let every son and daughter bring or send your mother. I never overrate a picture. I'll always tell you if it's a Special and you'll agree, when I say Super Special. It's that and more.

A picture for everybody.

Tracts of land aggregating 3,262 acres in Wyoming will be thrown open to entry by ex-service men for sixty-three days from December 30, 1921, the department of the Interior announced November 3rd. Most of the land was described as having "practically no agricultural value" but as possible for use as grazing acreage.

The O'Neill high school team and the high school team from Verdigre clash on the local gridiron tomorrow, Friday afternoon. The local boys have been going good recently and should defeat Verdigre. However the game will be no walkaway, as the visitors also have a number of hard earned victories to their credit having defeated a number of the strong teams of northern Nebraska this fall.

Jean Griffith of Des Moines, who so successfully conducted and directed the Knights of Columbus minstrel show last spring, arrived in the city Monday and is conducting rehearsals for the show to be given Wednesday and Thursday nights of next week. The show will be different from the last one, but just as full of pep and jazz and will be something you cannot afford to miss. One of the things to be thankful for next Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, is that the Knights of Columbus minstrels give a show that evening.

Lack of space prevented mention last week of the concert given by "The Versatile Four," Saturday evening, November 5, as a number on the lyceum course. The young men composing this quartet of musical entertainers demonstrated themselves real musicians, and greatly pleased with their program of instrumental and vocal music. A feature of the program not advertised because unexpected, was the rendition of several selections by Manager Gladden of the Midland Lyceum bureau of Des Moines, who dropped in unexpectedly.

Representatives of the Holt county fair association, the Chambers fair and other agricultural societies along the line of the Northwestern met at Norfolk Tuesday afternoon for an informal conference looking to the organization of an Elkhorn Valley fair circuit, the purpose of which is to eliminate conflicting fair dates in the territory and to make possible the securing of a better class of fair attractions. Fair officials along the entire line will be invited to attend another meeting, to be held and at which a permanent organization will be effected. John L. Quig represented the local fair management at Tuesday's meeting.

S. J. Weekes and James F. O'Donnell attended a meeting of bankers at Norfolk Tuesday, called to expedite the making of loans to stockmen through the state war finance corporation board, a branch of the federal war finance corporation. Complaint had been made that Nebraska was not receiving its proportionate share of funds as compared with Iowa, Texas and other states. Fred Thomas, head of the state corporation, and John Flannigan, secretary, were present, and it was developed that the delay in relief in Nebraska was due to applications not being properly made out by some Nebraska bankers. S. J. Weekes was appointed as the member for this district of the advisory committee of state bankers to expedite loans.

H. D. Lute, secretary of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation has written Postmaster General Will Hayes at Washington protesting against the recent ruling of the department which will prevent rural route patrons from getting their mail on Sundays by calling for it. "The farmers like to get their Sunday papers on Sunday since that is their day of leisure instead of getting it on Monday when they have no time to read it," Mr. Lute tells the postmaster general. The farmer is not asking for a special privilege, Mr. Lute says, but is asking for the same right that is extended to the city patron—that of being permitted to get his mail on Sunday by asking for it. A similar letter was also sent to the Nebraska delegation in congress.

The American Farm Bureau Federation's third annual convention to be held at Atlanta, Georgia, November 21-23 will bring together the greatest array of "big" speaking talent that has ever appeared on the same platform to address any previous agricultural meeting. The most prominent men in Georgia, including the governor, will of course deliver the customary addresses of welcome, and then in addition to James R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation addresses will be delivered by Hon. Bernard Baruch of New York; Hon. Arthur Capper, United States Senator from Kansas; Secretary of Agriculture H. C. Wallace; Senator W. S. Kenyon of Iowa; C. H. Gustafson president of the U. S. Grain Growers and H. C. McKinzie, Clifford Thorne, C. J. Wawcett and Grey Silver, Farm Bureau leaders.

Every live stock producing section of the United States and every important live stock producing organization was represented at the ratification conference held at Chicago to pass upon the final report of the Farmers' Live Stock Marketing Committee of Fifteen, at Chicago November 10. Each state Farm Bureau Federation had one delegate at large and an additional delegate for each 20,000 members. In addition to the Farm Bureau delegates each of thirty-eight live stock associations and co-operative commission companies had delegates present. President James R. Howard of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who called the meeting, said it was fraught with more possibilities for nation wide improvement in meat producing than any gathering ever held. The report is the result of a year's consultation, investigation and deliberation, and is the second great movement of the farmers for a better distribution of farm products. The plan provides for the setting up of producer owned and controlled live stock commission houses and stock yards, and provides an orderly plan of live stock marketing.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

Lost, from the Sunday School last Sunday, a number of scholars. If any one finds these lost scholars, please report to Supt. Arthur Roberts.

Rev. Geo. Feenn of Oklahoma City, preached Sunday evening on subject of Christian education.

On Monday the Reverend Mason of Chambers, Rev. Ferber of Inman, Rev. Filley of Ewing, Rev. McGaughey of Page and Rev. Geo. Feenn of Oklahoma City, were here organizing a team for working on the Endowment fund of the Nebraska Wesleyan College.

The pastor and family were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. George Ennis, Sunday.

The Epworth League Festival given last Wednesday was a splendid success. The basement of the church was nicely decorated for the occasion and a crowd of people that taxed the capacity of the room was present. $45 was realized out of the evening.

The contest put on by the Epworth League for new members came to a close Sunday after a hot chase by both sides. The membership of the league was more than doubled.

The Ladies Aid will give their annual bazaar and dinner and supper Saturday the 19th. All are asked to come and enjoy the day and dine with the ladies' aid.

The pastor with C. P. Hancock and L. G. Gillespie "autoed" to Plainview last Thursday to see Supt. Furman on church business.

The Sunday School appointed a committee to begin working on the Christmas program. This committee consists of Mesdames Naylor, Ennis and Ashton.

The Campfire and Sunbeam classes took the banner for attendance and the Good Cheer class took the banner for collection.

RICHARD J. JENNINGS.

Richard J. Jennings, one of the very early settlers of this vicinity, died at his home in this city Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock after an extended illness. The funeral was held this Thursday, morning, from St. Patrick's church, the Reverend M. F. Cassidy officiating. Burial was in Calvary cemetery.

Richard Jennings was born in New York December 6, 1850, and was 70 years, 11 months and nine days old at the time of his death. He was married to Miss Mary Kelly at Scranton, Pennsylvania, in 1873 and with his wife came to this county from Scranton in 1877. The widow and three children, John J. Jennings of O'Neill; Richard Jennings of Stanton and George Jennings of Buffalo, South Dakota, survive him.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Miss Maude M. Aldrich, A. B., Special Lecturer for the Presbyterian Board of Temperance and Moral Welfare, will speak in the high school on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 23, and will deliver a lecture on Wednesday evening, Nov. 23, at the Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock.

This lady comes to us highly recommended and a large crowd is desired. Come, you are welcome. Free to all.

Say It By Telephone

When compelled to be absent from a wedding, graduation or other happy affair, there is no letter or other message that can equal the sound of your voice.

Extend your compliments by long distance telephone.

Also, in case of sickness or other misfortune, or for any social or business purpose, a long distance call is always the best way.

The charge is lower if you do not ask to talk to a specified person but will talk to anyone at the telephone called.

Evening and night rates are lower than day rates for station-to-station calls.
