di the loss. For instance it one business man would subscribe $50 and another business man $20 and the total loss or assessment would exceed 10 per cent of what each man had guaranteed, then the man signing up for $50 would pay $5 and the man signing up for $20 would pay $2. When the writer was around last week asking for membership from the business men there were many of the business men that the writer failed or not in their place of business. There is just one way to make the county fair at O'Neill win and that is for every man in and out of business to get behind the fair and push it.

ter than it has ever been. A number of the farmer officers have agreed to bring in their teams and do the necessary work of moving some of the buildings to a better location, free of charge. Now if this farmer or these farmers can afford to bring in four horses and work a day or two for nothing then it surely behoves the business men to respond likewise and do their bit.

To those whom I failed to see ] want to say that any check mailed to the writer or left at my office will be greatly appreciated and the names of the donors will be given the same publicity as in the past. I have filed a list of the memberships with the County Board and asked for our appropriation and I assure you that there fusing to make the levy for county fairs as this is one of the recently en-acted laws. There were a great many rumors that the county fair would be abolished. This is an error. The County Board has never said anything about not making the levy and even though they were not inclined to make this levy they would be compelled by law to do so. I would like to see every business man or woman in O'Neill and every one interested in the future demovemen and boost it. Your check for $2.50 will be greatly appreciated as we all want the Holt Couny Fair at O'Neill to go on forever.

O'Neill to go on forever. Yours truly, JOHN L. QUIG. Secretary. JOHN W. HICKEY, President. JACOB HIRSCH, Vice President.

Holt county and O'Neill was called the writer gave the convention a state-ment of the condition of the fair say-ing that the indebtedness at the pres-ent time was about $4150, which ap-peared to the writer and business men of O'Neill a great debt. When the writer ceased speaking there were cries from all over the hall "that is no debt," and I find that as each county responded to their call there the aver-age indebtedness was about $15,000 per county. I think that there were three counties that did not owe a dol-lar. Many, many other counties owed Onion market somewhat stronger. Massachusetts Yellow Globes $7 per 100 pound sacked for shipping points with little demand. Eastern and Midlar. Many, many other counties owed $10,000 and $12,000 and some as high as $40,000.
