

YOUNG MOTHER NOW STRONG

Her Mother's Faith in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Led Her To Try It

Kenosha, Wisconsin.—"I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My mother had great faith in it as she had taken so much of it and when I had trouble after my baby was born she gave it to me. It helped me so much more than anything else had done that I advise all women with female trouble and I am sure they will feel as I do about it.—Mrs. FRED. P. HANSEN, 562 Symonds St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

A medicine that has been in use nearly fifty years and that receives the praise and commendation of mothers and grandmothers is worth your consideration.

If you are suffering from troubles that sometimes follow child-birth bear in mind that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is especially adapted to correct such troubles.

The letters we publish ought to convince you; ask some of your women friends or neighbors—they know its worth. You will, too, if you give it a fair trial.

Laxatives Replaced

By the Use of Nujol

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe.

When you are constipated, there is not enough lubricant produced by your system to keep the food waste soft. Doctors prescribe Nujol because its action is so close to this natural lubricant. Try it today.

Great Variety of Bananas. There are over 60 varieties of the banana, with as great, or greater, variations in character as to the different kinds of apples. Hawaii is said to have something over 40 distinct varieties of the fruit, most of which have been introduced by the whites. Some of these are extremely delicious in flavor, while other kinds are used, if at all, only when cooked in various ways. There is scarcely a city house lot or country homestead which does not have a clump or two of bananas, which grow with practically no care, new plants or suckers shooting up to replace the ones which have fruited and been removed.

Few ever find out what would be the result of not getting into discussions.

OLD GUARD HALTS WAR FRAUD QUIZ

G. O. P. House Leaders Forced to Bring Full Power Into Move to Block Action Against Alleged Grafter.

BY WINDER R. HARRIS
Universal Service Correspondent.
Washington, May 27.—Pressed back against the wall, the old guard republican leaders in the House were forced Friday to bring into operation the full power of the party organization to prevent action for the time being on the Woodruff-Johnson resolution designed to turn the congressional spotlight on contractors who robbed the government during the war.

Any remaining doubt that the G. O. P. chieftains are determined at all hazards to avoid an investigation was entirely removed. The fact stood out like the bulge on a war profiteer's pocketbook that the fight on the resolution is to be made a party matter and the party lash will be wielded ruthlessly to hold the party in line.

Crash Comes on Motion.
The crash came Friday on a motion by Representative Johnson, of South Dakota, one of the two soldier-congressmen pressing for action against war grafters to require Chairman Campbell of the rules committee, to call up the resolution for immediate consideration in conformance with the instructions of the committee.

Mr. Johnson, charged and it was not denied, that Chairman Campbell plans to prevent the House from having an opportunity to pass on the resolution by not bringing it up. Campbell has assumed this surprising attitude, he explained, notwithstanding the fact that the committee ordered him to call it up at the "earliest possible moment," and the further fact that Campbell himself voted to report out the resolution.

Johnson to Review Motion.
Unwilling to let the matter be decided by the House, the republican leaders, through Representative Walsh, of Massachusetts, raised a technical point of order against the Johnson motion. Also on a technicality, Speaker Gillett sustained the point of order. The speaker left the door wide open, however, for Mr. Johnson to renew his motion at a later date.

Mr. Gillett upheld Mr. Johnson's contention that a committee chairman cannot hold up at his will measures ordered reported out by his committee but ruled that the present question was whether Campbell had withheld the war frauds resolution an unreasonable time. He did not think Campbell had delayed beyond a reasonable period—from May 3.

Representative Johnson appealed from the decision of the chair and Republican Leader Mondell moved to lay the appeal on the table. Then the old guard, got extremely busy and whipped enough votes into line to sustain the speaker. Twenty-five members on their side, however, refused even under the party lash to stand for the effort to prevent the spotlight being turned on the persons who robbed the government of hundreds of millions.

Vote 149 to 114.
The vote was 149 to 114, the democrats, with the exception of Representative Campbell, of Pennsylvania, standing solidly with the 25 republican insurgents. Representative Long of New York, socialist, also voted to turn the light on the war frauds.

A number of the rank and file republicans, who rushed over from the office building in response to the roll call bell, stated later they did not understand what they were voting on, but followed the word of the leaders standing at the doors. Had they been fully advised, many of them said, they would have voted differently.

Representative Johnson assured them he will renew his motion with frequent regularity until Campbell carries out the mandate of the committee, or Speaker Gillett, rules "a reasonable time" for the rules committee chairman to act has elapsed.

Thought Everything Fixed.
In their desperation to head off the movement for a congressional investigation, the republican leaders thought they had everything fixed up to force the rules committee, before the House met, to rescind its actions in reporting out the investigation resolution. This would have prevented Representative Johnson making his motion.

But there was a slip-up. Campbell was to have changed his vote from support on the resolution to against it and moved a reconsideration. But all the available republican votes were necessary to carry through the motion.

But Representative Kreider, of Pennsylvania, said the scheme was off.

There is little doubt in view of the strength shown by the Woodruff-Johnson adherents Friday that the move to have the rules committee to rescind its action will be again attempted if the full republican strength in the committee can be mustered at any one time.

TRY BUT CERTAIN WAR FRAUD CASES — DAUGHTERTY.

Plans to Proceed In Ones Which Appear Least Difficult to Win—Engages Counsel.
Universal Service.
Washington, May 29.—Two additional members of the staff of special assistants to the attorney general to investigate and prosecute war fraud cases were announced Sunday by Attorney General Daughterty. They are former Senator Charles S. Thomas, of Colorado, and George Hoover of Washington city.

A special tribunal to constitute a board of review will be created to be composed of the attorney general, Senator Thomas and special counsel employed in the different cases as they come up for consideration. This board will determine which cases will be prosecuted and which dropped. In reaching decisions as to proceeding with cases or abandoning claims, says the attorney general's announcement, "the government will proceed only in those cases in which it has reasonable expectation of winning, in order that no excessive cost of litigation may be incurred. It is the intention of the department to reduce litigation as much as possible and to expedite the business. All of the criminal cases will be most carefully prepared and discussed before this board from the point of view of the probability of conviction."

Attorney Hoover will assist District Attorney Peyton Gordon and Assistant Attorney General John W. P. Crim in the presentation of cases to the special war frauds grand jury to begin its six months session here Wednesday. Mr. Crim and Mr. Hoover will also appear in cases in jurisdictions outside the District of Columbia. District Attorney Gordon will aid in civil cases that are interlocked with criminal prosecutions.

REPORT OUT BONUS BILL TODAY, PLAN

McCumber Aims to Bring Order by Using Steam Roller On Democrats and Warning G. O. P. About November.

Universal Service.
Washington, May 29.—Failing in repeated attempts to get President Harding to change his stand for a sales tax bonus, the Senate finance committee Monday will attempt to report out the bonus bill.

Chairman McCumber indicated Sunday that his committee was now prepared to take action and report out a bill similar to the Fordney measure which passed the House several months ago.

There is some division within the committee itself, however, as to just what form the bill shall take. Chairman McCumber is said to have the support of Senators Curtis, Watson and Sutherland for a bill which would provide certificates of indebtedness on which the soldier could borrow up to 50 per cent. at once. This is a slight variation of the Fordney bonus bill which went through the House.

Three Back Smoot Plan.
Senator Smoot, however, wants the bonus to take the form of paid up insurance, and in this he is understood to have the backing of three other republican members of the finance committee, Senators Calder, Dillingham and Frelinghuysen.

Opposition to both these plans, however, is likely to come from democratic members of the committee who, led by Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts, generally favor a cash bonus.

Out of the three-horned dilemma Senator McCumber expects to bring order by using steam roller tactics on the democrats and spurring the republicans to action by conjuring up the predicted defeat next November unless the bill is passed.

MODEL DYING POISON DEATH

Audrey Munson Possessed With Belief Others Plot Her Ruin Attempts Suicide — Career Sensational.

Universal Service.
Syracuse, N. Y., May 29.—Audrey Munson, once hailed as the "most perfect sculptor's model," was reported in a dying condition Sunday night as a result of swallowing poison.

She is said to have attempted to end her life at Mexico, N. Y., near here, Saturday night because she is possessed with the delusion that others are plotting her ruin and that she is pursued by a curse.

This fear has been in her mind for a long time. Two years ago she called at the office of a New York newspaper and asked that her death be announced so she could start life over under a new name.

Has Been Movie Star.
Miss Munson has been a talented actress and movie star. It was as a model, though, she won her fame. She posed for many sculptors. She was the model for "Descending Night" at the Panama exposition, "Suffering Humanity" in the memorial to General Booth, founder of the Salvation Army in London, and scores of other remarkable statues.

The model fell from public favor soon after the Wilkens murder at Long Beach four years ago. Mrs. Wilkens was slain at her door. When Dr. Walter Keen Wilkens, who was said to have been attracted by the model's beauty, was arrested, her name was drawn into the case.

SHOW GIRLS CHARGE WILD ORGY ATTACK

Accuse Well Known Men Guests at Boston Party—Geneva Mitchell, Hostess, Is Suspended from "Sally."

Boston, May 29.—Complaints against prominent Boston men, the engagement of Merlynn Miller to Jack Pickford and suspension of Geneva Mitchell, disillusioned bride of a Harvard millionaire, from the "Sally" show form the aftermath of a "wild party" in which Eleanor Lasar and Marie La Von, beautiful chorus girls of the "Last Waltz" were painfully injured.

"Marie and I will give nice old Boston a big surprise when we swear out warrants against the men who assaulted us in Ben Kabatznick's apartment a week ago Tuesday," said Miss Lasar, 21, and remarkably good looking, Sunday night.

"Nobody is going to get away with the treatment they handed us at that party.

Charged Men Dragged Them.
"We don't know the names of all the men who dragged us up into attics and down cellars but we'll know the men when we face them." As a result of the party, Geneva Mitchell, hostess and principal in "Sally" was dropped from the cast at the insistence of Merlynn Miller. Miss Mitchell's role of the "Pogo Girl" is being filled by Miss Miller's sister, Claire.

Due to the publicity and absence pending hospital treatment, the two chorus girls who allege brutal treatment at the hands of the men in the party were suspended from the "Last Waltz" show.

A list of the men said to have attended the revel promises to fulfill the girl's prophecy of a surprise. They are said to be: A prominent Back-bay physician; two naval officers; "Benny" Kabatznick, art dealer; Ben Liepsic, Kabatznick's relative; J. Klein and William F. Fitzgerald, son of a prominent banker.

Sorry for Merlynn.
"I am awfully sorry Merlynn Miller's name has been mentioned in this matter," Miss Lasar said. "Miss Miller is a lovely girl and had absolutely nothing to do with the party. Just because she gave photographs of herself with endearing photographs to that Kabatznick man is no reason why any one should breathe the possibility that a nice girl like her was present at that terrible party."

I believe the story you got through Miss Mitchell, the one who got fired because of the publicity. Marie and I had no intention of hushing it up but we were too ill to do a thing until now.

"We are not looking for money but we do want justice. Almost every man in the party helped in the brutal treatment Marie and I got."

INTENDED TO KILL WIFE, SLAYS SON

R. L. Maxson, Texan, Slashes Throat of Sleeping Boy, 16, Tries to End Own Life Same Way.

Beaumont, Tex., May 29.—R. L. Maxson, retired railroad man, crept into a room where he believed his wife was sleeping, intending to cut her throat, Sunday. His 16-year-old son was in his mother's bed. He killed the boy before he discovered her identity. Overcome with remorse, Maxson slashed his own throat. He is in a hospital.

Maxson is a railroad man and brother of W. E. Maxson, general manager of the Santa Fe with headquarters in Galveston.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxson had been estranged for some months. Friday Mrs. Maxson secured an injunction to prevent her husband from selling the furniture of their home.

Saturday night Mrs. Maxson and her son, Lorraine, attended a theater. When they returned shortly before midnight Mrs. Maxson went to a room occupied by a woman friend and the boy retired in her room, occupying her bed.

A controversy has been going on in the London Times as to why A. S. M. Hutchinson's novel, "If Winter Comes," has been so popular. The consensus seems to be that it is a sort of British Harold Bell Wright production.

From the Indianapolis News.
"The postoffice," declares Charles W. Eliot, "is emphatically a public welfare department." And not, as it appears to the political imagination, a department for the welfare of public men, or those who want to be public men, instead of working for a living.

While Attorney General Daughterty is trying to make it look as though his political opponents, the democrats, did all the war profiteering, if the lid is taken off many influential republicans will also be found to have been in on the graft. Profiteers know no party lines.
